81st Anniversary of 'Day of Infamy' Remembered

NORCO - The 81st anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor was commemorated Wednesday during a ceremony in Norco, featuring patriotic music and recollections from that "Day of Infamy," which propelled the United States from neutral to Allied leader in World War II.

The Lake Norconian Club Foundation hosted the commemoration, officially themed, "Never Forget: A Day to Remember Those Who Gave All."

The event honored all service branches, not only the U.S. Navy, which had a large presence, with representatives from the nearby Corona Naval Surface Warfare Center, part of U.S. Naval Sea Systems Command, on hand.

Speakers paid homage to those who made the ultimate sacrifice on Dec. 7, 1941.

The ceremony was relocated away from the Navy base this year -- in what organizers described as a one-time change of venue -- due to renovations on the grounds of the installation.

More than 2,400 U.S. soldiers, sailors and Marines died defending the Hawaiian naval base from Japanese attackers in a two-hour air assault. The following day, Dec. 8, 1941, the United States declared war on Japan, which led to the Axis powers uniformly declaring war on the U.S., marking the nation's official entry into World War II.

Just before 8 a.m. on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941, Japanese torpedo bombers, dive bombers and fighters -- altogether numbering more than 350 aircraft -- arrived in two waves, permanently sinking two battleships, the USS Arizona and Utah at Pearl Harbor. The Arizona's losses totaled 1,177 -- the highest of any ship in the harbor.

ELECTION PROCEDURAL PROBLEMS CITED, SUPES PROMISE FIXES

NO RESULTS IN QUESTION OR CHALLENGED

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - The Board of Supervisors Tuesday signed off on the final vote canvass from the Nov. 8 election submitted by Riverside County Registrar of Voters Rebecca Spencer, affirming the results, though a few supervisors pointed to problems that need to be addressed going forward.

Supervisor Karen Spiegel

SUPERVISOR Karen Spiegel took issue with the Executive Office's use of the terms "successfully held" in reference to the election and the vote certification presented to the board.

"There were some challenges," Spiegel said. "We want to ensure everyone that we're going to work on this."

Average Riverside County Gas Price Drops to Lowest Amount Since November 2021

RIVERSIDE (CNS)

- The average price of a gallon of self-serve regular gasoline in Riverside County dropped Thursday to its lowest amount since Nov. 12, 2021, decreasing for the 27th consecutive day and 61st time in 64 days since rising to a record $6.373 on Oct. 5.

THE average price dropped 5.3 cents Thursday to $4.574, according to figures from the AAA and the Oil Price Information Service.

It has fallen $1.799 over the past 64 days, including 5.4 cents Wednesday. It is 28 cents less than one week ago, 80.6 cents lower than one month ago and 3.9 cents below one year ago.

"Gas prices are dropping sharply," said Andrew Gross, an AAA national public relations manager. "But with oil being the main ingredient in gasoline, OPEC+'s move could slow this decline. However, the gas price will likely soon be lower than it was a year ago."

OPCE+, a group of nations that allied with OPEC to cut production in order to boost oil prices beginning in 2016, announced plans Sunday to stick to its oil production cuts rather than taking steps to take more supply offline.

The national average price dropped for the 29th consecutive day, decreasing 2.6 cents to $3.329. It is 14.1 cents less than one week ago, 47.5 cents lower than one month ago and 1.4 cents below one year ago.

Bianco, Hestrin Proposed 13% Pay Hikes Rejected by Supervisors

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - In a 4-0 vote, the Board of Supervisors Tuesday rejected proposed double-digit percentage salary increases for five Riverside County elected officials, whom one supervisor said he respected but did not believe were entitled to enlarged paychecks.

PLEASE, if you like, you can spend time explaining why these poor elected officials (are) being starved to death, but don't waste your time on me," Supervisor Kevin Jeffries said ahead of the vote.

Jeffries set the tone for the debate over the proposed pay hikes for incoming Auditor-Controller Ben Benoit, Assessor-Clerk-Recorder Peter Aldana, District Attorney Mike Hestrin, Sheriff Chad Bianco and Treasurer-Tax Collector Matt Jennings.

Joining the supervisor in his opposition were board Chairman Jeff Hewitt and Supervisors Manuel Perez and Chuck Washington. Supervisor Karen Spiegel abstained.

"I really don't see any reason right now to propose

Classification	Current Salary	Proposed Salary
Assessor/County Clerk/Recorder	$195,192	$256,814
County Auditor-Controller	$195,192	$256,814
Treasurer and Tax Collector	$195,192	$256,814
District Attorney	$273,463	$308,197
Sheriff/Coroner/Public Administrator	$273,463	$308,197

higher salaries," Perez said. "If folks want to study this further, they can. But right now, I'm not supporting this."

Spiegel signaled a willingness to entertain the proposed hikes but requested additional time so the Executive Office could produce a more thorough report justifying the timing, process and necessity of the requested raises. Her motion to delay the vote to January was opposed 3-2.

"These are fine individuals, but they ran knowing what their salaries were going to be," Moreno Valley resident Roy Bleckert, a frequent commentator on board actions, said before the vote. "Passing this right after an election is sticking it to the people who pay those salaries. Why is this even on the agenda with no staff report? There's nothing. We have a problem here."

Jeffries complained that the "optics" were bad, given the board's recent denial of pay adjustments for In-Home Supportive Services caregivers.

"We have a new auditor-controller who, without ever even stepping into the building, is alleged today to be entitled to a $61,000 pay raise," the supervisor said. "A month ago, the in-home workers came asking for a $1.50 per hour raise. We said, sorry we cannot give you an additional buck-fifty. But now we're going to give the new auditor-controller $61,000?"

According to the Department of Human Resources, the proposed pay hikes were intended to bring the officials' salaries up to levels that ensure they're not making less than some of their executive-level underlings, who are receiving hefty salaries thanks to collective bargaining agreements and other factors.

In government speak, when the boss makes less than a subordinate, the disparity is known as "compaction."

The last round of raises for all five positions was in 2014. However, Hestrin, individually, received a raise in 2018.

The 2014 hikes were approved on a 3-2 vote of the board, with then-Supervisor Jeff Stone joining Jeffries in opposing the increases, arguing that the effects of the Great Recession were an ongoing drag on the county's finances, and there was no justification for boosting officials' base pay.

Jeffries, now the most senior board member, has declined all proposed salary increases for himself in the last decade.

The salary hikes would have increased annual base compensation for the assessor-clerk-recorder, auditor-controller and treasurer-tax collector by 32%, from $195,192 to $256,814.

The district attorney and sheriff would each have received a 13% hike, raising their annual base pay from $273,463 to $308,197.

The Department of Human Resources said "external market surveys" were conducted to gauge the appropriate compensation levels for the five elected officials going forward. The surveys weren't included on the board's policy agenda.

Salary schedules analyzed by City News Service showed that, had the increases been approved, both the sheriff and D.A. would have received annual base compensation rivaling the earnings of counterparts in surrounding counties.

Hestrin's proposed $308,197 yearly salary would have compared to $185,981 for Imperial County's top prosecutor, $293,128 for Orange County's, $249,221 for San Bernardino County's and $287,227 for San Diego County's.

Meantime, Bianco's proposed $308,197 annual income would have compared to $170,672 for Imperial County's sheriff, $254,715 for Orange County's, $270,291 for San Bernardino County's, and $279,198 for San Diego County's top lawman.

Students Consume Marijuana-Laced Food at MoVal School, Become Ill

MORENO VALLEY (CNS) - Three students who consumed marijuana-laced products at a Moreno Valley school Wednesday became ill, requiring treatment.

The medical distress call was received at 12 p.m. on the campus of Sunnymead Middle School, 23996 Eucalyptus Ave., according to the Riverside County Fire Department.

"We had students who did consume something," Moreno Valley Unified School District spokeswoman Anahi Velasco told City News Service. "They're getting checked out."

Velasco declined to specify the substance that was ingested, but a sheriff's official later said the children consumed some type of food product containing cannabis.

A similar incident occurred in May at an elementary school in Perris, where five children required medical attention after consuming marijuana-packed snacks.

It was unclear who had provided the products to the students at Sunnymead Middle School.

According to the fire department, multiple engine crews and paramedic squads were sent to the campus, rendering aid to a total of four youths, whose identities were not disclosed.

There were initial reports that a boy had suffered a possible drug overdose, but that turned out to be inaccurate.

Three of the victims were taken to nearby Riverside University Medical Center for further evaluation. One juvenile declined to go to the hospital, a fire department spokeswoman said.

Chuckawalla Valley State Prison in Blythe to Close By March 2025

BLYTHE - The California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation announced today that it is beginning the process of closing the Chuckawalla Valley State Prison in Blythe by March 2025.

According to CDCR, the agency will work to offer transfer opportunities for staffers at the facility.

CDCR officials said the agency is also ending use of a lease facility in Kern County and will "deactivate" some facilities at six other prisons in a cost-cutting effort.

Facilities at six prisons will be deactivated -- Folsom Women's Facility, Facility C in Pelican Bay State Prison, West Facility in California Men's Colony, Facility A in California Rehabilitation Center, Facility D in California Institution for Men, and Facility D in California Correctional Institution. In March 2024, a lease contract with CoreCivic for the California City Correctional Facility will be terminated, which will end the facility's use as a state prison, according to CDCR officials.

"Incarcerated people at these locations will be rehoused into appropriate level prisons," CDCR officials said.

Man Sentenced to Six Years in Prison for Pimping in IE

SANTA ANA (CNS) - An Irvine man has been sentenced to six years in federal prison for pimping and shooting at women in San Bernardino, federal prosecutors said Wednesday.

Coby Christopher House, 23, was sentenced Tuesday by U.S. District Judge David O. Carter. House pleaded guilty June 21 to a count of conspiracy to use a facility in interstate commerce in aid of unlawful activity and two counts of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition by a convicted felon.

While House was on federal supervised release for an alien smuggling conviction in San Diego in October 2019, he pimped two women and shot several times at other prostitutes, who approached two of the women the defendant was pimping, prosecutors said.

House was arrested a day after the Oct. 10, 2019 shooting after he was involved in a two-mile, high-speed chase with police, prosecutors said.

Co-defendant Olbert Maixmilian Lara, 23, of Riverside, pleaded guilty April 19 to being an accessory after the fact and for being behind the wheel of the car police were chasing when House was arrested, prosecutors said. Lara was sentenced to three years of probation and fined $500.

Man who Shot Lady Gaga's Gog Walker Gets 21 Years in Prison

By STEFANIE DAZIO

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES (AP)

The man who shot and wounded Lady Gaga's dog walker while stealing her French bulldogs last year took a plea deal and was sentenced to 21 years in prison on Monday, officials said.

THE Lady Gaga connection was a coincidence, authorities have said. The motive was the value of the French bulldogs, a breed that can run into the thousands of dollars, and detectives do not believe the thieves knew the dogs belonged to the musician.

James Howard Jackson, one of three men and two accomplices who participated in the violent robbery and its aftermath, pleaded no contest to one count of attempted murder, according to the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office. It was not immediately clear which attorney represented Howard on Monday.

The pop star's dog walker, Ryan Fischer, was seriously wounded in the attack and addressed the court Monday to give an impact statement, which he posted on Instagram.

"It's hard to believe that it's nearing two years since I was taking Asia, Koji and Gustav out for an evening stroll when - in an instant - I suddenly found myself fighting with everything I had to protect those dogs from being stolen. But it wasn't enough: I was beaten, strangled, shot and left to die bleeding out on a sidewalk and gasping for my life. And Koji and Gustav were gone."

Jackson and two others drove around Hollywood, the city of West Hollywood and the San Fernando Valley on Feb. 24, 2021 "looking for French bulldogs," prosecutors said previously. They found Fischer with the pop star's three pets.

Jackson shot Fischer during the robbery off the famed Sunset Boulevard, during which two of the dogs were taken. A nearby doorbell camera recorded the dog walker screaming "Oh, my God! I've been shot!" and "Help me!" and "I'm bleeding out from my chest!"

Fischer later called the violence a "very close call with death" in social media posts. In his statement Monday, he said he is still healing physically and mentally from the shooting. Part of his lung had to be removed and he is still undergoing physical therapy.

Fischer also addressed Jackson directly in the statement, and said he forgives him and the others involved in the attack. "You completely altered my life, and I know I can't fully move forward from the night you shot me until I said those words to you." The stolen dogs were returned several days later by Jennifer McBride, who was also charged in the crime.

The pop star had offered a $500,000 reward - "no questions asked" - to be reunited with the dogs at the time.

Jackson also admitted the allegation of inflicting great bodily injury and to a prior strike, the DA's office said Monday. The prosecutor's office did not immediately say what the prior strike was.

"The plea agreement holds Mr. Jackson accountable for perpetrating a coldhearted violent act and provides justice for our victim," the office said in a statement. Howard had been charged with attempted murder, conspiracy to commit a robbery and assault with a semiautomatic firearm.

Jackson was mistakenly released from jail earlier this year due to a clerical error. He was recaptured nearly five months later.

Another accomplice, Harold White, pleaded no contest Monday to a count of ex-convict in possession of a gun. White, who was in a relationship with McBride at the time, will be sentenced next year. McBride's case is ongoing.

The couple had allegedly tried to help White's son, Jaylin White, avoid arrest in the aftermath of the shooting.

Jaylin White and Lafayette Whaley earlier this year pleaded no contest to robbery.

Whaley drove Jackson and the younger White around last year as they searched for the pricy dogs. Jackson and White jumped out and attacked Fischer, prosecutors said previously. They hit and choked the dog walker, and Jackson pulled out a semiautomatic gun and fired, striking Fischer once before the trio fled.

Lady Gaga's representatives did not immediately respond to requests for comment.

LOS ANGELES (AP)

— Kirstie Alley, who won an Emmy for her role on "Cheers" and starred in films including "Look Who's Talking," died Monday. She was 71.

ALLEY died of cancer that was only recently discovered, her children True and Lillie Parker said in a post on Twitter. Alley's manager Donovan Daughtry confirmed the death in an email to The Associated Press.

"As iconic as she was on screen, she was an even more amazing mother and grandmother," her children's statement said.

She starred opposite Ted Danson as Rebecca Howe on "Cheers," the beloved NBC sitcom about a Boston bar, from 1987 to 1993. She joined the show at the height of its popularity after the departure of original star Shelley Long.

Alley would win an Emmy for best lead actress in a comedy series for the role in 1991. She would take a second Emmy for best lead actress in a miniseries or television movie in 1993 for playing the title role in the CBS TV movie "David's Mother."

She had her own sitcom on the network, "Veronica's Closet," from 1997 to 2000.

In the 1989 comedy "Look Who's Talking," which gave her a major career boost, she played the mother of a baby whose inner thoughts were voiced by Bruce Willis. She would also appear in the 1990 sequel "Look Who's Talking Too."

John Travolta, her co-star in both films, paid her tribute in an Instagram post.

"Kirstie was one of the most special relationships I've ever had," Travolta said, along with a photo of Alley. "I love you Kirstie. I know we will see each other again."

She would play a fictionalized version of herself in the 2005 Showtime series "Fat Actress," a show that drew comedy from her public and media treatment over her weight gain and loss.

And in recent years she appeared on several reality shows, including "Dancing With the Stars."

A native of Wichita, Kansas, Alley attended Kansas State University before dropping out and moving to Los Angeles.

Her first television appearances were as a game show contestant, on "The Match Game" in 1979 and "Password" in 1980.

She made her film debut in 1982's "Star Trek: The Wrath of Khan."

Apple Music Offers a Chance to Sing With Your Favorites

NEW YORK (AP) — Apple Music wants to help you and your friends sing along to your favorite songs with a new feature it's rolling out just as people gather for end-of-year parties.

Apple Music Sing gives the user the ability to adjust a song's vocals and an enhanced beat-by-beat lyric display, which both draw on the platform's massive song library. The result is what Apple hopes will be an effortless invitation to karaoke.

"The level of engagement around our lyrics features is pretty phenomenal and we're going to extend on that and make it not just easy for fans to read along to lyrics, but also to sing along with their lyrics," Rachel Newman, global head of editorial at Apple Music, tells The Associated Press.

Display lyrics have been enhanced, going from line-by-line previously to syllable-to-syllable now, including breaking out the backup vocals and animating them separately.

For duets, the lyrics switch from the left side of the screen to the right depending on who is singing, making it easier to anticipate your timing.

Some users might want to take the lead on the song and have their stage moment. For others, it could mean getting a vocal assist and singing duet with their favorite artist.

"You'll be able to adjust the vocals and sing with real-time lyrics in multiple views and on all of our platforms. So, it's all integrated into the lyrics experience and it's pretty magical and super fun," said Newman.

Apple Music is also supplying over 50 playlists that range from genres like pop and country to a decade roam and different themes.

Apple Music Sing will be available for iPhone, iPad and Apple TV models later this month.

Today in History

Today is the 343rd day of 2022. There are 22 days left in the year.

By the Associated Press

Today's Highlight in History: On Dec. 9, 1914, U.S. Senate investigators concluded the United States had brutalized scores of terror suspects with interrogation tactics that turned secret CIA prisons into chambers of suffering and did nothing to make Americans safer after the Sept. 11, 2001 attacks.

ON THIS DATE:

In 1854, Alfred, Lord Tennyson's famous poem, "The Charge of the Light Brigade," was published in England.

In 1911, an explosion inside the Cross Mountain coal mine near Briceville, Tennessee, killed 84 workers. (Five were rescued.)

In 1917, British forces captured Jerusalem from the Ottoman Turks.

In 1965, "A Charlie Brown

Christmas," the first animated TV special featuring characters from the "Peanuts" comic strip by Charles M. Schulz, premiered on CBS.

In 1987, the first Palestinian intifadeh, or uprising, began as riots broke out in Gaza and spread to the West Bank, triggering a strong Israeli response.

In 1990, Solidarity founder Lech Walesa (lek vah-WEN'-sah) won Poland's presidential runoff by a landslide.

In 1992, Britain's Prince Charles and Princess Diana announced their separation. (The couple's divorce became final in August 1996.)

In 2000, the U-S Supreme Court ordered a temporary halt in the Florida vote count on which Al Gore pinned his best hopes of winning the White House.

In 2006, a fire broke out at a Moscow drug treatment hospital, killing 46 women trapped by barred windows and a locked gate.

In 2011, the European Union said 26 of its 27 member countries were open to joining a new treaty tying their finances together to solve the euro crisis; Britain remained opposed.

In 2013, scientists revealed that NASA's Curiosity rover had uncovered signs of an ancient freshwater lake on Mars.

In 2020, commercial flights with Boeing 737 Max jetliners resumed for the first time since they were grounded worldwide nearly two years earlier following two deadly accidents; Brazil's Gol Airlines became the first in the world to return the planes to its active fleet.

further evaluate hang-ups or fails from the general election.

One of Spiegel's dislikes was the fact that English- and Spanish- language voter information guides did not go out simultaneously, with the latter pamphlets delayed.

"To me, they should go out together," she said.

The supervisor also questioned why the vote counts from Wildomar and Menifee were processed behind other tabulations, with the lags resulting in abrupt changes in the "whole results for the candidates."

"We are taking it seriously," Spiegel said. "Some things might be because of state guidelines, but how can we do better with those guidelines? We're really looking at how to improve the process."

Perez agreed that the voter information guides should go out early and together, regardless of the language in which they're printed. He additionally pointed out that the Latino community relies heavily on radio to obtain information, so that medium should not be overlooked in disseminating information.

"A lot of people are listening to radio throughout the day," he said. "The more we can use radio, the better."

Supervisor Kevin Jeffries characterized the election cycle as "messy" because of delays in distributing pamphlets and vote-by-mail ballots and tabulating results in a timely manner.

"We're always running into challenges. It never goes as smoothly as it could," he said. "We need to make sure our employees are supported ... and get the results -- the accurate results -- out when we can."

There were no complaints regarding potential defects in the more than 1,000 touchscreen electronic voting machines placed at in-person vote centers countywide. However, earlier this year, a group of residents, joined by Temecula City Councilwoman Jessica Alexander, called for the board to stop using Dominion Voting Systems Inc.

Dominion's programs came under scrutiny and criticism following alleged irregularities in swing states during the 2020 presidential election. The county most recently entered into software license and systems use agreements with the company in 2019.

As part of a board block motion Tuesday, the supervisors unanimously approved an extension of the county's contract with Dominion to July 2029, at a prospective aggregate cost of $14.96 million.

Spencer told City

News Service in May that Dominion's products have been rigorously vetted and met certification criteria.

According to Spiegel, the recently formed Election Advisory Committee will be providing recommendations to the board's ad-hoc committee, aiding in the process of improving election operations.

The seven-member panel is slated to meet twice in 2023.

Spiegel asked any resident with election-related concerns to reach out to her or Perez's office to submit details that the ad-hoc committee can use in its review of the Nov. 8 election.

How Forest Thinning Waste Could Fund California Wildfire Prevention

By Steve Frisch and Sam Uden

Reducing catastrophic wildfire is one of the state's most challenging climate problems. A recent study by researchers at UCLA and the University of Chicago found that wildfire carbon emissions from the 2020 fire season alone were more than double the amount of overall emissions reduced in California from 2003 to 2019.

THE state set a goal of treating 1 million forested acres per year to reduce wildfire risk. While there is no firm figure available, the state currently treats an estimated 200,000 acres per year, excluding commercial timber harvest.

The challenge: how do we get from treating 200,000 acres to 1 million acres as quickly as possible?

Gov. Gavin Newsom's recent budget commitments are important, but they are not enough. If it costs about $2,000 to $4,000 to treat one acre, that means we need $2 to $4 billion every year for the next two decades, purely for forest treatments. That amounts to over half of the state's natural resources budget some years – conflicting with expanding needs on drought, extreme heat and sea-level rise.

There is a potential solution that could generate climate, air quality and rural economic development benefits while helping California meet its forest treatment goals: converting waste biomass into valuable products.

Waste biomass refers to the residues – primarily small, woody material – that result from an ecological thinning operation. The residues are valueless. They are often left in piles to decompose, or worse, burned in place. UC Berkeley estimates that hundreds of millions of tons of waste biomass will accrue if California achieves its forest treatment goals, essentially creating an emissions time bomb that could amplify the already ominous forest-climate reality.

But the problem can be flipped on its head. If these residues can be collected and turned into something of value, then the state would not only avert a significant new emissions source, but also unlock a revenue stream to help support its forest treatment goals.

The groundwork for this strategy is already taking shape. A promising option is to turn the waste into a biofuel such as hydrogen or a sustainable aviation fuel. The California Air Resources Board anticipates that billions of gallons of these low-carbon fuels will still be needed in 2045. Fitting the facilities with carbon capture technology can generate carbon dioxide removal – something CARB has already deemed as essential to meet the state's net-zero emissions goals.

There is potential to expand the biomass strategy to agricultural and municipal waste as well, especially since the drought is forcing farmers to fallow land. Some are burning their waste, worsening the air quality in neighboring communities as a result.

While the state has made some investments in waste biomass, it is not part of the core strategy to address the wildfire crisis. One possibility as to why is the legacy left by traditional bioenergy – large-scale combustion, for example – which pollutes urban areas. But new technologies and processes are making it significantly cleaner.

Another fear is that any biomass plan is a slippery slope to the kinds of practices occurring in the East Coast where energy crops in North Carolina support a biomass industry in England, with dubious overall climate benefits.

The situation is much different in the American West, though. Here, the available biomass is a waste product resulting from wildfire mitigation treatments – not a purpose-grown energy crop. Moreover, almost 90% of forest lands are owned by the public and small-scale landholders.

Biomass is not a silver bullet, but it could greatly reduce severe wildfires and the resulting carbon emissions. Some careful planning would be needed to build out the necessary infrastructure. The state could create incentives that are contingent upon the biomass being a residue from wildfire risk reduction treatments as a safeguard against possible bad actors.

Western forests are faced with an existential threat. With thoughtful execution, a waste biomass strategy can help turn the tide in our favor.

Imperial Japan carried out the attack in an attempt to cripple the U.S. Pacific Fleet as it sought domination over much of Asia.

On that day, Congress sent a declaration of war against Japan to President Roosevelt. When Germany and Italy declared war on the United States three days later, December 11, 1941, the U.S. quickly reciprocated and the country was fully immersed in WWII, in both the Pacific and European theaters.

How to Create the Perfect Charcuterie Board for Your Holiday Party

Are you hosting a holiday party and looking for a simple way to impress your guests?

THE Texas Roadhouse Butcher Shop is sharing steps for building an eye-catching and mouth-watering charcuterie board that will add color, flavor and variety to your holiday table.

1. Grab a platter or surface to display your charcuterie. Anything will work, even a simple cutting board. Just be sure to choose a size that you can fill completely.

2. Use dishes or ramekins of mismatched sizes, shapes and colors to hold dressings, toppings and sauces. This will keep your board clean and add fun visual details to the display.

3. Include two to four cheeses of contrasting flavors and textures to please all palates, and to complement other elements of the board. The varieties you select should represent these basic categories: hard cheese, (such as Chardonnay Bellavitano) soft cheese, (such as brie) and blue cheese (such as French Roquefort).

4. While a traditional charcuterie board typically sticks with cured meats, the holiday season is the perfect occasion for adding depth and richness to your feast with grilled meats, such as filet, sliced into strips. Those from Texas Roadhouse Butcher Shop are lean, flavorful, and melt in your mouth, making them a natural choice for a hearty holiday spread. Whether you are firing up the grill or preparing on a cooktop, allow any cooked meats to rest well before adding them to your board.

5. No charcuterie board is complete without some crunch. Add two to three options like pita crackers, crusty breads or toasted baguettes that will stand up to the weight of your meats and cheeses.

6. Now, add some brightness and sweetness to your board. Fresh fruits like blueberries, strawberries and green grapes, and preserves such as peach pepper jam, will add contrast to rich, salty meats and cheeses. Don't forget seasonal sweets and treats like soft peppermints, peanut brittle, chocolate dipped pretzels and candied nuts.

7. You'll want your charcuterie board to look as if it's overflowing. So, as you're building it out, start with the largest elements like the cheeses and meats first, followed by smaller items like crackers, fresh produce and sweets. Fill in any holes with sprigs of aromatic rosemary for trimming, along with additional portions of the smaller items. The various elements of the board should pair well together, so it's okay if they touch.

Must-Have Tools for Entertaining with Ease This Holiday Season

'Tis the season for gatherings galore. Whether you're an all-star entertainer or a first-time host, having the right tools will set you up for success—meaning you can spend less time in the kitchen and more time with loved ones. Here are a few must-haves to add to your holiday shopping list:

CLASSY AND CREATIVE COCKTAILS

Create memorable cocktails or mocktails that everyone will be talking about with uniquely shaped craft ice. Tovolo offers a variety of craft ice molds to fit every occasion—from spheres and sports balls to novelty and holiday ornament shapes. The easy-to-use, durable, stackable molds are dishwasher safe for easy clean-up. Plus, the slow-melting shapes keep drinks cool for longer. So, drop them in for fun and festive drinks at your next gathering.

POPS IN A PINCH

Popsicles aren't just for summertime. In fact, they're a great option for a holiday crowd since you can prep them well in advance, and they make for a light dessert after a night of feasting. With Tovolo Stackable Pop Molds, simply puree some fruit – strawberries, kiwis, etc. – pour the mixture into the molds, stack them in the freezer, and voilà, you've got a delightful treat that basically made itself. Better yet, guests can add the fruity pops to a glass of champagne or cocktail of choice to add flavor and keep drinks cool.

TABLE-WORTHY TOOLS

When hosting a dinner party, dishes will inevitably pile up in the sink. One way to cut down on dirty dishes is to use a set of kitchen utensils that is both stylish and attractive, so you can go from the stovetop to the dining table without needing to dirty any additional tools. Another tip is to make the meal family style, which allows your guests to choose what they want and reduces the need to portion out individual servings, ultimately giving you more time to enjoy the party.

SPATULAS THAT MAKE YOU SMILE

From cookie batters to mashed potatoes, everyone needs a quality spatula to whip up their favorite holiday dishes. And now you can add both fun and function to your feast with Spatulart Spatulas featuring double-sided holiday designs and puns. With a nylon core, these high-quality spatulas provide strength for the heaviest mixing jobs and silicone edges that remain flexible for easy scraping. Plus their FSC-certified wood handle makes them an environmentally-conscious way to add a touch of whimsy to the kitchen roster.

FUNCTIONAL AND FASHIONABLE BOWLS

Despite the name, mixing bowls can be one of the most versatile kitchen tools, used for mixing, prep, storage, and if you choose a stylish design like stainless steel, even serving! Why dirty multiple dishes when you can opt for one-bowl recipes? When it comes to entertaining, it's best to work smarter, not harder.

Having the right tools makes all the difference when you're preparing to be the host with the most. Be sure to equip yourself right for a season of easy and festive holiday prep, and don't forget that when it comes to hosting, versatility is the name of the game. (StatePoint)

Tamarind Chicken

By Connor Forbes

I have a new chicken recipe and it may be my favorite yet. Tamarind Chicken. Tamarind has a complex citrusy flavor with a certain umami quality. It's fantastic.

BALANCED out with fish sauce and brown sugar, this recipe brings a bright, effervescent, and juicy chicken to your table. You can use this marinade for any part of the chicken and for any style of cooking. I went with a stovetop cook, but grilling or roasting are also great options. Let's make some chicken.

Ingredients

- 2 lbs chicken meat
- 2 tbsp tamarind paste

- 1 tbsp fish sauce
- 1 tbsp brown sugar
- 1 tbsp cilantro, chopped
- 1 tbsp water
- 3 clove garlic
- ½ tsp salt
- 1 serrano, deseeded and diced (optional)

To Make

In a bowl combine the tamarind paste, fish sauce, brown sugar, cilantro, water, garlic, salt and serrano. Mix. Add the chicken into the bowl and mix until the chicken is evenly coated. Marinate for an hour. In a pan, heat oil on medium high. Add chicken to pan and sear on the first side for 3 minutes without touching the chicken. Flip and sear for 3 minutes more. Reduce heat to medium and cover with a lid that is cracked to let some steam out. Cook until chicken is 165° internal temperature. About 10 minutes.

Tips to Minimize Holiday Clutter

'Tis the season for fun and festivities, which means more party attire, kids' toys and decorations coming into the home. Family organizing expert Jessica Litman, the CEO and founder of The Organized Mama, shares her tips to keep your space clean and under control during the holidays.

CLEAR THE COUNTERTOPS

"When the party invitations, gift lists and schedules start to pile up in the kitchen, it's time to designate one area where everything should go," Litman says. "This will make it easier to keep the counters clear and for everyone in the family to know where to find their things before running out the door."

Litman says to collect all the papers and store them in a tray. For a DIY organizing system, try hanging a couple of clipboards on the wall in the entryway to hold important reminders and leave messages, or empty out a drawer and use shallow baking pans as bins for each person to place their grab-and-go items.

PREP FOR COOKING AND CLEANING

With all the time spent in the kitchen cooking, baking and cleaning up after family parties, make sure that you're set up for easy maintenance.

A Lazy Susan is a great way to create more room in a cabinet and store ingredients and utensils in one place for quick access, while keeping the mess to a minimum. Litman suggests lining it with the Duck brand Smooth Top EasyLiner Lazy Susan Kit to keep surfaces free from sticky residue. The pre-cut, circular shaped liner is simple to install, prevents items from falling over and is easy to wipe clean without having to remove the Lazy Susan from the cabinet. Litman also suggests decluttering drawers and stocking up on to-go containers so you can send guests home with leftovers.

STORE THE DÉCOR

There will likely be an excess of bows, ribbons, gift bags, tape, scissors and wrapping paper around your home in the coming months. Instead of using a cabinet or drawer to store these items, Litman suggests hanging an over-the-door organizer in the closet and using the compartments to keep extras neat and tidy.

When the holidays are over, Litman says to store small ornaments in egg cartons and wrap breakables in bubble cushioning for safekeeping until next year.

MAKE WAY FOR PLAY

All of the gift wrap means the kids will have new toys that need to be stored. Before the holidays begin, Litman says to go through your little one's playroom and donate items they no longer use or have grown out of.

Once the room is clear of clutter, wipe and line storage bins and cubbies with machine-washable EasyLiner with Clorox. The liner contains antimicrobial protection that resists the growth of odor-causing mold and mildew, keeping surfaces spotless throughout the cold season and ensuring there is always a tidy spot to put holiday crafts, games and puzzles.

Following these simple tips will allow you to enjoy neat spaces all season long. (StatePoint)

"VIOLENT NIGHT"

By Bob Garver

"Violent Night" doesn't have it in itself to be the best naughty Christmas movie ever made, so it tries to compensate by being every naughty Christmas movie ever made. Drunken, bitter Santa (played here by David Harbour)? That's been done before, let's say most notably by 2003's "Bad Santa." Murderous thieves taking hostages at Christmastime? 1988's "Die Hard" and its many knockoffs.

KIDS setting bone-breaking makeshift booby traps for bad guys? 1990's "Home Alone" (which yes, counts as a naughty Christmas movie, even if it was ostensibly for kids). Family hammering out drama during a hostage situation? 1994's very funny Denis Leary comedy "The Ref." Beverly D'Angelo? 1989's "National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation." Even the whole idea of Santa Claus as an R-rated action movie hero was done better in 2020's "Fatman." "Violent Night" doesn't pretend that it doesn't owe much to its predecessors (it even checks "Home Alone" by name), but it wants you to believe that it's somehow more than the sum of its parts. It isn't, though there are some laughs to be had along the way.

Harbour's Santa falls asleep from whisky and cookies while visiting the mansion of the wealthy Lightstone family. He awakens to learn that all the family's servants and security have been killed and the family itself has been taken hostage by a team led by Mr. Scrooge (John Leguizamo), who is there to steal $300 million from matriarch Gertrude (D'Angelo). Worse, his reindeer have flown off, leaving him unable to make a getaway, and the bad guys are going from room to room, looking for expendables to eliminate. He tries to escape anyway, but then notices that youngest granddaughter Trudy (Leah Brady) is on the Nice list. She might be one of the Nicest kids in the world. Santa's got his tell-all list, a sack of unending gifts, a history as a bloodthirsty Viking, and a few other goodies thanks to Christmas magic. He decides to stay and save the Lightstones' lives as a Christmas present.

This sure as sugar cookies means violence toward the Naughty villains. Every Christmas-themed weapon imaginable is in play here: from icicles to tree ornaments to sharpened candy canes to snow-blowers. And it's not just Santa doing the killing, the Lightstone family members find it within themselves to fight back, even sweet little Trudy. The villains in this movie turn out to be infuriatingly easy opponents. They're efficient gun-toting killing machines for about two minutes and for the rest of the movie they make those classic villain mistakes of talking too much and getting into fights where they forfeit the element of surprise. At least the villains in "Home Alone" were consistently inept, these guys are stupid when they're supposed to be smart, which makes their stupidity all the more glaring.

That's not to say there isn't a charm to "Violent Night." David Harbour is great in the role of Santa, with some memorably funny lines and readings. D'Angelo is gloriously profane at times, Leguizamo sinks his teeth into the silliness, and Brady is naturally worth protecting. The action is funny and creative in small doses, but the movie gets greedy and goes on too long. It would have done well to stay in the Lightstone house instead of climaxing a snowmobile's drive away at a location that hasn't been established. There's a lot of filler here, like Santa reckoning with his past, including the dissolution of his marriage. Mrs. Claus isn't a character here, so that whole tangent is sadly pointless. That said, I'd be happy to see a sequel where we meet Mrs. Claus and get more of Harbour's Santa. I'd wouldn't mind spending more time with this character as long as the movie around him is tighter. I could see "Violent Night" doing well enough to spawn a franchise that becomes an annual tradition, even if the film misses the mark of becoming a Christmas classic.

Grade: C

"Violent Night" is rated R for strong bloody violence, language throughout and some sexual references. Its running time is 112 minutes.

Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. Case No. PRR12202338

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of SYLVIA BARRINGER.
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Riverside County Public Administrator in the Superior Court of California, County of Riverside.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Riverside County Public Administrator be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.)
The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held on 1/6/2023 at 8:30 AM in Department 8 located at 4050 Main St, Riverside, CA 92501.
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site <https://www.altisource.com/loginpage.aspx> using the file number assigned to this case 2022-00900-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction, if conducted after January 1, 2021, pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
