Ryan's Recycling Company

CORONA INITIATING PAID HOME PICK-UP for YOUR RECYCLING

In a post-pandemic era where virtually everything and anything can be delivered to your door rapidly, the City of Corona is initiating a will-call, pick-up service of your recycling. And, in the best flip of the script, instead of 'paying the piper,' residents will be paid for the privilege.

THE roots of the concept stretch back to 2012, when 3-year-old Orange County resident Ryan Hickman – yes, then 3-years-old – went to the recycling center with his parents. A day later, the inventive toddler, informed his parents that he wanted to distribute bags to their neighbors to collect their recycling.

Annual Auto-Ex Rescue Seminar Returns to Corona Next Weekend

About 125 firefighters are scheduled to attend the 43rd Corona Firefighters Association Auto-Extrication (Auto-X) seminar, next weekend, March 3-5

Firefighters representing 32 different departments from California, Washington, Wyoming, Hawaii, and Mexico will perfect their skills at rescuing accident victims from wrecked cars.

Over 100 cars, including 30 new, will be used to teach firefighters the latest techniques in auto extrication.

Firefighters will face realistic, challenging scenarios including cars trapped under buses or a cement truck, leaning against a utility pole or on top of obstacles.

Auto-X slots for participating fire departments sold out in two days after it was announced.

The public may attend the training seminar, which is held at the city's corporation yard, 770 Public Safety Way. Those interested should contact Capt. Trevor Walsh to arrange a tour. Email T.walsh@CFA3575.org

Strong Winter Storm Bringing Rain, Wind, Cold to Riverside County

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - A powerful winter storm was making its way toward Riverside County Wednesday, with low-elevation snow, widespread rain showers and cold temperatures expected to impact the area beginning Thursday and into the weekend.

SCATTERED showers fell across parts of the region Wednesday, with that rain expected to become more widespread by Thursday morning.

"The cold nature of this system is expected to bring snow to elevations as low as 2,000 feet," according to the National Weather Service. "Up to 2 inches of snow may accumulate in portions of the Inland Empire and eastern San Diego County. Snow is expected to accumulate in portions of the High Desert as well. Snow is expected there by Thursday afternoon, with up to 4 inches expected. Snow levels will rise to 3,000 to 3,500 feet through the day Thursday, with snow levels closer to 4,000 feet expected by Friday morning."

Another round of wet weather will slide into the area Friday and Saturday, bringing more widespread and heavier precipitation, forecasters said. The precipitation will be accompanied by strong south winds Friday and Friday night.

Forecasters also warned of heavy snow and gusting winds that will "create dangerous conditions in the mountains."

"Snowfall is expected on all of the mountain ranges with the highest accumulations expected in the San Bernardino and portions of the Riverside County mountains," according to the NWS. "Top forecast snowfall totals of 4 to up to 7 feet are expected in the mountains. For the San Bernardino and Riverside County mountains for Friday into Saturday, the combination of very heavy snow, low visibilities from snow, blowing snow, and fog, and strong gusty south winds will create blizzard conditions at times."

A winter storm warning will be in effect until 3 p.m. Saturday in the Riverside County mountains, with forecasters anticipating 1 to 3 feet above 6,000 feet and 3 to 4 feet of snow on higher peaks. At least 4 inches of snow are anticipated in most other mountain areas, forecasters said.

A flood watch will be in

Accused Killer of Beloved LA Bishop Charged with Murder

By TERRI VERMEULEN KEITH
City News Service

LOS ANGELES (CNS) - A man accused of gunning down Los Angeles Catholic Auxiliary Bishop David O'Connell at his home in Hacienda Heights was charged Wednesday with murder.

CARLOS Medina, 61, was arrested Monday in connection with Saturday's shooting of the 69-year-old bishop. Medina is the husband of O'Connell's housekeeper, and he also performed handyman work at the bishop's home, Sheriff Robert Luna said earlier this week.

District Attorney George Gascón said the murder charge against Medina includes an allegation of the personal use of a firearm. Medina could face up to 35 years to life in state prison if he is convicted as charged, according to the county's top prosecutor.

Medina appeared briefly in court in downtown Los Angeles on Wednesday afternoon, but his arraignment was postponed at the defense's request until March 22. Superior Court Judge Armenui Amy Ashvanian ordered him to remain jailed in lieu of $2.03 million bail.

Medina's attorney, Deputy Public Defender Pedro Cortes, told reporters after the brief hearing: "Our hearts go out to everyone affected by this tragedy. Myself, as well as Mr. Medina's defense team look forward to fully investigating all aspects of this case."

O'Connell was found shot just before 1 p.m. Saturday at his home in the 1500 block of Janlu Avenue, near Turnbull Canyon Road. Sheriff's officials confirmed Sunday that his death was being investigated as a homicide. Luna said it was still being determined exactly when O'Connell was shot.

Luna said there were no signs of forced entry into O'Connell's home, and the bishop was shot in the bedroom of his home. Gascón said O'Connell had multiple gunshot wounds.

The bishop's body was discovered when a deacon went to the home to check on him, because O'Connell was apparently late for a meeting, Luna said.

Luna said tips from the public helped lead investigators to Medina, with one tipster saying that "Medina was acting strange, irrational and made comments about the bishop owing him money."

But the sheriff stopped short of saying such a dispute led to the killing, saying it was "something that came up from one of the witnesses" -- and that investigators were still conducting interviews.

Gascón did not discuss a possible motive when he announced the murder charge during a midday news conference, saying only that the case remains under investigation. Sheriff's Lt. Michael Modica said at the news conference that Medina made various statements after his arrest about a possible motive, but investigators found them to be largely nonsensical, leading them to believe there's no validity to the suggestion that a financial debt led to the killing.

"I know this has been a shock for the community," the district attorney said. "It was obviously a very tragic event, but I can't say enough about the professionalism and the work of the men and women of the L.A. County Sheriff's Department and the way they conducted this investigation, professionally and expeditiously."

Medina was arrested around 8:15 a.m. Monday following an hours-long standoff at his home in the 2400 block of Kenwood Avenue in Torrance. Luna said two firearms were recovered at Medina's home, and they were being tested to determine if either weapon was involved in the Saturday shooting.

Luna also said that Medina's wife was being questioned and has been "fully cooperative" with detectives. While Medina was the husband of the bishop's housekeeper, Medina himself had also "previously done work at the bishop's residence," although it was unclear when, according to the sheriff.

Luna said Medina drove a dark-colored compact SUV similar to one seen on surveillance video pulling into O'Connell's driveway and leaving, although it was unsure when that occurred.

Luis Lopez was a neighbor of Medina's and told ABC7 that Medina seemed like a good man and "looked like he wouldn't hurt a fly."

O'Connell was a native of Ireland and had been a priest and later a bishop in Los Angeles for 45 years, Archbishop José Gomez said in a statement released following his death.

"He was a peacemaker with a heart for the poor and the immigrant, and he had a passion for building a community where the sanctity and dignity of every human life was honored and protected," Gomez said.

At the time of his death, O'Connell -- widely known as "Bishop Dave" -- was vicar for the Archdiocese of Los Angeles' San Gabriel Pastoral Region, a post he had since 2015, when Pope Francis appointed him as an auxiliary bishop for the Los Angeles Archdiocese.

O'Connell had previously served as associate pastor at St. Raymond Catholic Church in Downey, St. Maria Goretti Catholic Church in Long Beach, and St. Hilary Church of Perpetual Adoration in Pico Rivera and then as pastor of St. Frances X. Cabrini, Ascension, St. Eugene and St. Michael's parishes, all in Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, many people continued to mourn O'Connell.

The L.A. City Council adjourned its meeting Tuesday in his honor, with several council members speaking about the bishop's impact on the community.

Councilwoman Monica Rodriguez said O'Connell "will be remembered as always fighting for change in the communities most impacted by violence."

Councilman Marqueece Harris-Dawson said, "This is one of our most loving and shining angels that we've lost."

On Monday, LAPD Chief Michel Moore spoke of "an unimaginable and tragic loss of a peacemaker," adding, "may God welcome Bishop O'Connell home, a good and faithful servant. We all mourn this man's loss, and am grateful to the sheriff's department for their relentless pursuit and the community's assistance to identify the individual responsible."

State Sen. Bob Archuleta, D-Norwalk, said O'Connell was a friend of his, and offered condolences from Gov. Gavin Newsom and other state officials at a Monday afternoon news briefing with reporters.

"He served the community and went to Salesian High School in East Los Angeles to bring people together and move forward," Archuleta said.

Los Angeles County Supervisor Janice Hahn told reporters that O'Connell's death has "left me and other people from here to Ireland heartbroken. He was known to walk among gang members, the homeless and transients to bring peace to them."

Archbishop Gomez was overcome with emotion at a Monday news conference as he discussed the death of his friend and colleague, calling him "a good friend to all of Los Angeles."

"He worked to show compassion to the poor, to the homeless, to the immigrant, to all those living on society's margins," Gomez said. "He was a good priest and good bishop, and a man of peace."

Hemet Father Thankful for Court-Ordered Mental Evaluation for Son

Army Vet Accused in Vegas Synagogue Threat

By KEN RITTER
Associated Press

LAS VEGAS (AP) — A U.S. Army veteran accused of telephoning threats to "shoot up" a Southern Nevada synagogue will undergo a mental evaluation to determine if he will face criminal charges, a judge decided Wednesday.

Michael Sanchez, 37, spoke quietly with his attorney, Rochelle Clove, before Las Vegas Justice of the Peace Amy Chelini called off a preliminary hearing, accepted Clove's request for a competency review and scheduled Sanchez to remain in custody pending an appearance in state court March 10.

Sanchez's father, also named Michael Sanchez, of Hemet, California, has been pleading since his son's arrest for police and court officials to provide psychological care for his son, who the father said has exhibited ongoing erratic behavior after suffering head injuries while serving in the military in Iraq.

"This is what he needs," the father said Wednesday of the court-ordered evaluation. "We're glad the court can accommodate this request."

Sanchez was arrested Jan. 29 after police said he called a rabbi at a synagogue, said congregants were child molesters who deserved to die and referred to a shooting in April 2019 at a synagogue in Poway, California, that killed a woman and wounded three others.

Las Vegas police said that following his arrest, Sanchez exhibited signs of paranoia, admitted calling and threatening "to shoot up the synagogue" and said he believed Jews and police were out to get him.

Sanchez's father told The Associated Press two weeks ago that his son was honorably discharged at the rank of sergeant and has received Veterans Administration psychological treatment several times for what the father attributed to post-traumatic stress.

Ex-Riverside Resident Charged in Shootings of 2 Outside LA Synagogues

RIVERSIDE (CNS) — A 28-year-old former Riverside resident suspected of shooting two Jewish men after they left synagogues in Los Angeles's Westside less than 24 hours apart is scheduled to be arraigned March 9 on two federal hate crime counts that could put him behind bars for life.

JAIME Tran, who was arrested Thursday by Cathedral City police, was charged with committing hate crime acts in connection with the shootings, according to a criminal complaint unsealed Friday.

The complaint alleges Tran targeted the two victims because they were Jewish or he believed them to be Jewish. Because the complaint contains allegations Tran attempted to murder the two victims, the maximum possible penalty for each of the two hate crimes is life without parole in federal prison.

"Over the past two days, our community experienced two horrific acts we believe were motivated by antisemitic ideology that caused him to target the Jewish community," U.S. Attorney Martin Estrada said Friday. "It is important, especially in one of the most diverse areas in the world, that we celebrate our differences and stand together to oppose acts of hate."

Tran appeared in Los Angeles federal court Friday afternoon and was ordered to remain jailed without bail. Magistrate Judge Margo A. Rocconi scheduled his arraignment for March 9.

The defendant was "motivated by antisemitism," Estrada said at a news conference in downtown Los Angeles. "Hate crimes have no place in our community."

In a Mirandized, recorded interview, Tran acknowledged having intentionally shot the two victims, according to an affidavit filed in support of the criminal complaint and arrest warrant.

Tran allegedly told agents he searched for a "kosher" market on the social media application Yelp. After locating a kosher market, Tran drove to the market and selected his victims because of their "head gear," he said, according to the affidavit.

Based on the description of his vehicle, the suspect was traced to Riverside County. He was arrested Thursday afternoon when Cathedral City police responded to a report of a man who had fired a gun and was carrying a weapon near his car, according to the affidavit.

Detectives recovered several items of evidence -- including an AK- style rifle and a .380-caliber handgun consistent with the weapon believed to have been used in the shooting, according to the affidavit.

Both victims survived.

At the time of this week's shootings, Tran was free on $30,000 bond on a felony charge of possessing a weapon on school grounds -- for allegedly carrying a gun on the campus of Cal State Long Beach in July 2022. He is due back in Los Angeles Superior Court in that case on Feb. 28.

According to the affidavit, Tran -- a former dental student -- has a history of harassing people he suspected of being Jewish.

At the end of November, he allegedly emailed dozens of former classmates at the dental school, calling the COVID-19 pandemic part of a Jewish conspiracy. He included a flier in the email listing various government officials and the word "Jewish" written next to the name of every official, according to the affidavit.

About a month later, Tran allegedly again emailed former classmates, describing Jewish people as "primitive" and encouraging his classmates to blame any "inconvenience" or lost revenue from the COVID-19 lockdowns on the "Iranian Jew," according to the document.

Between August and November, he allegedly repeatedly texted a former classmate antisemitic and threatening messages, including: "Someone is going to kill you, Jew" and "I want you dead, Jew," the affidavit stated.

The Holocaust Museum LA issued a statement Friday calling the shootings "further painful reminders of the stubborn survival of antisemitism, and it's growing ugly stain in our community."

"It threatens Jewish life throughout this country and any haven we consider safe," according to the museum statement. "No place on Earth is immune to the scourge of hate. We commend the quick and steadfast support of the LAPD and our local leaders."

Robert J. Williams, executive director of the USC Shoah Foundation, blasted the suspect's alleged insinuation that Jews were to blame for COVID-19 as "historic antisemitic trope." He said in a statement the claim "is just the latest version of the same lie. These events remind us why it's so important to combat disinformation."

CONNOR COOKS

Salmon Pasta

IN A BECHAMEL CHEESE SAUCE

Connor Forbes

For Valentine's Day, I made a salmon dinner with asparagus and rice pilaf. But I had cooked a piece of salmon about twice as big as needed for that dinner.

So, I had about half of it left. I thought, "dang, I really don't want to waste that, and maybe I can make a new dinner out of it but make it seem like a totally different and new meal."

MY thoughts are usually in run on sentences. Anyways, I also had heart shaped pasta my mom gave me for Valentine's Day so I was thinking in the direction of a pasta. Next, I needed a sauce to be the conduit, and a cheese sauce came to mind. A bechamel sauce is a roux made from milk instead of water and then I added parmesan. So without writing the recipe in the intro, let's make a pasta dish.

Ingredients

- 1.5 lbs Salmon
 - ¼ lemon juiced
 - 1 tbsp dill
 - ½ tbsp olive oil
 - 4 tbsp butter
 - 1/3 cup flour
 - 2.5 cups milk
 - Salt and pepper to taste
 - 1 cup Parmesan cheese
 - 2 cups broccoli + 1 tsp olive oil (optional)
 - 1 bag of pasta
- To Make

Preheat oven to 425°. On a sheet pan, place the salmon. Use a paper towel to pat the salmon dry. Evenly spread the lemon juice on the salmon and then coat with dill. Drizzle the olive oil over the salmon. Bake at 425° for about 12 minutes or until the Salmon has an internal temperature of 125°. Remove the salmon from the oven and set aside to rest. Cook the pasta, strain and set aside. If you want to add the broccoli, sauté the broccoli in the olive oil on a medium pan. Broccoli should still be firm when done. To make the sauce- preheat the milk until hot but not boiling in a separate sauce pan. In a large Pot, melt the butter. Then add the flour and stir. It should form a paste. Slowly add in the hot milk and stir continuously to make smooth. Add salt and pepper to taste. Add the parmesan and stir until smooth. Add the salmon, pasta, and optional broccoli into the sauce and stir until evenly mixed. And you are ready to EAT! Enjoy.

Corona PD Brings End to Suspected DUI Chase

NORCO (CNS) - A 54-year-old man from Beaumont was arrested after leading authorities on a pursuit, the Riverside County Sheriff's Department announced Wednesday.

Deputies from the Jurupa Valley station responded to the 3800 block of Pedley Avenue in Norco at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday to a report of a suspicious person. They contacted the suspect, later identified as Ryan Kendall, in a vehicle, and believed he was under the influence of a controlled substance.

When deputies attempted to detain Kendall, he allegedly fled the scene in the vehicle and a pursuit began.

"During the pursuit, tire deflation devices were successfully deployed, which caused all four tires to deflate," the department said.

The Corona Police Department and a sheriff's K9 team responded as the pursuit entered Corona. The Corona PD used an armored vehicle to end the pursuit.

According to authorities, after Kendall's vehicle spun out, he intentionally accelerated toward two Riverside County sheriff's vehicles and struck them. After allegedly ramming the sheriff's vehicles, Kendall's vehicle was immobilized and he was taken into custody.

No deputies or officers were injured during the incident.

Kendall was treated at a hospital for injuries he sustained during the incident. He was later booked at the Robert Presley Detention Center on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon on a peace officer, resisting arrest, driving under the influence and evading.

Anyone with information about the incident was asked to contact Deputy Whittenburg at the Jurupa Valley station at 951-955-2600.

Wife Says Hemet Police Shot Innocent Man

HEMET (CNS) - Hemet police said Wednesday an officer fatally shot an armed man while conducting a theft investigation, but the wife of the man who died said her husband was not the target of the police search and was killed in "cold blood."

ACCORDING to Hemet police, the shooting occurred around 10:10 a.m. Tuesday in the 800 block of South Harvard Street, where officers were conducting a follow-up investigation regarding a recent theft.

While searching the backyard of a residence, officers encountered an armed man "in an adjacent backyard," police said, prompting an officer to open fire. The man suffered a gunshot wound and died at a hospital.

Officers later discovered the man was "unrelated to the initial investigation and was a resident of the neighboring home."

No officers were injured.

The wife of the man who was shot told The Press-Enterprise that around 10 a.m. Tuesday, police knocked on the door of their home in the 800 block of South State Street and told her husband, Christian Drye, that there was somebody in their backyard.

According to Drye's wife, Shameka "Monique" Drye, her husband told officers that he would go into the yard and check. Drye also told officers that he owned a gun that was registered to him, she said.

Shameka Drye told the paper that at some point, an officer yelled "gun" and fired three shots at her husband.

"I saw my husband fall backward, blood coming out of his mouth. They killed my husband in cold blood," Drye said.

Drye was taken to a hospital, where he died. According to Shameka Drye, it took Hemet police two hours to inform her of her husband's death, the P-E reported.

According to the paper, the Dryes had five children, aged 1 to 11. Drye was a caregiver to his mother and worked at McDonald's, his wife said.

"This was a good man, a family man, a working man. He did not deserve this, we were minding our own business," Drye told the PE.

Hemet police said the unidentified officer who fired the shots was "placed on administrative leave per department policy."

The Riverside County Sheriff's Office Force Investigation Detail and the Riverside County District Attorney's Office were investigating the shooting.

Anyone with additional information was asked to contact the Riverside County Sheriff's Department at 951-955-2400.

Nipsey Hussle's Killer Gets 60 Years to Life in Prison

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Los Angeles judge on Wednesday sentenced the man convicted of gunning down Nipsey Hussle to 60 years to life in prison after hearing testaments to the immense cost of the killing of the hip-hop star and neighborhood leader, and of the lifetime of mental illness, abuse and struggle of the man who shot him.

SUPERIOR Court Judge H. Clay Jacke II handed down the sentence to Eric R. Holder Jr., 33, who was found guilty of the 2019 first-degree murder of the 33-year-old Grammy-nominated hip-hop artist outside the clothing store Hussle founded, the Marathon, in the South Los Angeles neighborhood where both men grew up in very similar circumstances.

"I am very mindful of what was presented as to Mr. Holder's mental health," Jacke said. "I am also mindful of the devastation caused to the victims and their families. I believe this sentence balances the two."

After the monthlong trial, jurors in July also convicted Holder of two counts of attempted voluntary manslaughter and two counts of assault with a firearm for gunfire that hit two other men at the scene who survived.

Jacke sentenced Holder to 25 years to life for the murder, 25 more for a firearm sentencing enhancement and 10 for assault with a firearm. He set several other sentencing additions and ordered that others run concurrent. He also gave Holder credit for the nearly four years he has served since the shooting.

Holder, dressed in orange jail attire, stared straight ahead throughout the proceedings and did not react when the sentence was read, and spoke only to tell the judge he understood the circumstances when he was asked.

only to tell the judge he understood the circumstances when he was asked.

In an impact statement before the sentence was handed down, Herman "Cowboy" Douglas, a close friend of Hussle who was standing with him when he was killed and testified during the trial, told the judge that the killing was a tremendous loss both for him personally and for the South Los Angeles community where Hussle was a business leader, and an inspiration.

"Nipsey was my friend, he was like a son, he was like a dad," said Douglas, who took off his black cowboy hat as he entered the courtroom and wore a sweatshirt with a picture of Hussle on the front. "Our community right now, we lost everything, everything we worked for. One man's mistake, one man's action, messed up a whole community."

Douglas said Hussle's store and surrounding businesses that he owned and supported have been closed down, and it has meant that "the Homies don't have nothing to do."

Douglas told the judge, "I don't care what you give this guy. It ain't about the time. I just want to know why. The world wants to know why. Why someone would do that?"

Actor Lauren London, who was Hussle's partner and the mother of his two young children, did not attend any part of the trial, nor did any of his relatives, and none gave similar impact statements.

and rehabilitation, public defender Aaron Jansen detailed a childhood of physical abuse and poverty for Holder.

As he reached adulthood, Jansen said Holder suffered "a terrible descent into mental illness" that led to "years of torment and struggle" with issues including agonizing auditory hallucinations that resisted all attempts at treatment.

Jansen also read a letter from Holder's father, Eric Holder Sr. apologizing to Hussle's family and to the other victims.

"I know there are not enough words that would fill the void, the pain, the deep sorrow that they feel," the letter read. "I question myself every day asking if I as a father did everything to help Eric Jr. stabilize his mental health."

As Holder was taken from the courtroom Wednesday, Douglas sang "Hit the Road Jack" toward him. Jacke shouted "Out!" and deputies led Douglas out.

"ANT-MAN AND THE WASP: QUANTUMANIA"

By Bob Garver

I suppose it's appropriate that movies starring Ant-Man aka Scott Lang (Paul Rudd) have always been rather "small" in the scheme of the Marvel Cinematic Universe. Yes, he showed up for Captain America in 2016's "Civil War" and played a role in saving the universe in 2019's "Avengers: Endgame," but those were parts of a team effort.

IN movies where he's been the lead, the character's contributions to the MCU have mostly been self-contained, with action localized to San Francisco and villains like the miserable Yellowjacket (Corey Stoll) never getting off the ground to affect other heroes. New installment "Quantumania" throws that small scale out the window in favor of a whole new world to explore and a villain with long-term ramifications. I liked the smaller movies better, because even with the deceptive strength of an ant, the character isn't cut out for this sort of heavy lifting.

The film sees Lang, his daughter Cassie (Kathryn Newton), girlfriend Hope van Dyne aka The Wasp (Evangeline Lilly), and her parents Hank (Michael Douglas) and Janet (Michelle Pfeiffer) all shrunk down and sent to the mysterious Quantum Realm. Yes, it's technically infinitesimally small, but to the characters, it's a big mysterious world. The crew meet some new characters, like hole-obsessed gelatinous blob Veb (David Dastmalchian), exasperated psychic Quaz (William Jackson Harper), smarmy former freedom fighter Krylar (Bill Murray), and a repackaged old character that I believe now holds the title of Worst in the MCU. One look at this character, and the entire movie became instantly irredeemable. I like the actor, but this role is going to haunt him for the rest of his career.

In trying to escape the Realm, Scott and company encounter villain Kang the Conqueror (Jonathan Majors). Advance word for this movie has told me that the MCU has big plans for Kang down the line, so this is just our first taste of him. I can't say I'm terribly impressed – not with his character development, not with his ability to carry out a plan, and not with his track record. I suppose he's intimidating and dangerous enough, but his motivations go little beyond a need to "Conquer" everything, he twice gets sloppy in concealing his megalomaniacal nature, which twice leads to his twice taking losses that will hurt his perception as a threat going forward. Then again, I will say that he's off to a better start than Thanos, who spent six years as a vague grimacing presence dependent on underlings to do his bidding before he became a decent character.

The special effects are unusually subpar for a movie of this importance. Of course, they're at their worst when it comes to a certain henchman, but they're unconvincing elsewhere too. There's an overreliance on greenscreens, especially when characters are running away from falling rubble. Maybe it's just that the Quantum Realm environment is so phony that the characters wouldn't look like they're in danger anyway. No wonder everyone wants to get out of the place so badly, it's not worth staying or even Conquering.

"Ant-Man and the Wasp: Quantumania" shows early promise with Rudd's effortless charm and Newton (of the surprisingly-heartfelt horror movie "Freaky") as the new-and-improved activist version of his daughter, now grown-up thanks to surviving the Snap/Blip. But once the movie stops taking place in a recognizable plane of existence, it loses its relatability. Its legacy in the MCU will be that it marked the first big-screen appearance of Kang, but I'm waiting for the movie that marks the first "good" appearance of Kang.

Grade: C-

"Ant-Man and the Wasp: Quantumania" is rated PG-13 for violence/action, and language. Its running time is 125 minutes.

'Ant-Man and the Wasp: Quantumania' Opens to $104 Million

LOS ANGELES (CNS) - "Ant-Man and the Wasp: Quantumania" towered over the box office competition this weekend, opening with $104 million to top all films in North America, according to industry estimates released today.

The third film in the series based on a Marvel comic book character, which stars Paul Rudd and Evangeline Lilly, was light years ahead of the second-place film, "Avatar: The Way of Water," which grossed $6.1 million in its 10th week in theaters, Comscore reported.

Director James Cameron's blockbuster did surpass the director's 1997 mega-hit "Titanic" for third place on the all-time global box office chart, with an estimated $2.24 billion. It now trails only 2019's "Avengers: Endgame," which has grossed $2.79 billion, and Cameron's original "Avatar" from 2009, which has made $2.92 billion.

"Magic Mike's Last Dance" was third with $5.5 million, one week after opening in first place.

"Puss in Boots: The Last

Wish" was fourth with $5.2 million in its ninth week in theaters in the United States and Canada, followed by "Knock at the Cabin," which made $3.9 million Friday through Sunday in its third week. Rounding out the top 10 domestic releases, as estimated by Comscore, were "80 for Brady" ($3.6 million), "Titanic: 25-Year Anniversary" ($2.29 million), "Marlowe" ($1.9 million), "Missing" ($1.7 million) and "A Man Called Otto" ($1.6 million).

This weekend's overall three-day box office haul was estimated at $139.88 million. The year-to-date total is $934 million -- an increase of 50% over the figure at this time last year, according to Comscore.

Four years later, as a now aged, 7-year-old, his rapidly expanding efforts with Ryan's Recycling Company went viral nationally and internationally. Then in the pandemic year of 2020, the State of California announced it was seeking proposals for a pilot program to provide better access to recycling redemption for communities that needed it.

Ryan and associates' proposal for a mobile residential and office recycling service was selected and approved as part of that pilot program. Recycle From Home™ was born and Irvine was the first partner city selected. Other communities followed, and now Corona is as well.

Residents are encouraged to schedule a pick-up online, put your items out for pick up, and you're done! Recycle From Home™ will handle the rest.

No more loading up the car with boxes or bags of cans and bottles in search of a redemption center. Collection bags and QR code

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call FOR SALES INFORMATION, PLEASE CALL (855) 986-9342 or visit this internet website www.superiordefault.com, using the file number assigned to this case 2022-1290. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction if conducted after January 1, 2021, pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call FOR SALES INFORMATION, PLEASE CALL (855) 986-9342, or visit this internet website www.superiordefault.com, using the file number assigned to this case 2022-1290 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF RAMIRO QUIROZ SR.

Case No. PRR12300231
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of RAMIRO QUIROZ SR.:
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by RAMIRO QUIROZ JR. in the Superior Court of California, County of Riverside.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that RAMIRO QUIROZ JR. be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held on 4/5/2023 at 8:30 AM in Department 11 located at 4050 Main St, Riverside, CA 92501.
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.
