Eight Charged in $7.6 Million County Recycling Fraud Scheme

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - Eight members of a Riverside-area family are accused of operating a recycling redemption scheme that resulted in $7.6 million in fraudulent receipts from the state's CalRecycle program, authorities said Tuesday.

Jose Raul Chica, 50, Genaro Solis Fuentes, 43, Maria Ermelinda Saenz Gonzalez, 41, Victor Manuel Hernandez, 23, Jose Alfredo Giron Henriquez, 36, Jose Antonio Interiano Martinez, 35, Manuela Rodriguez Rizo, 58, and Francisco Balmore Amaya Saenz, 24, are charged with multiple felonies, including fraud, perjury, grand theft and embezzlement.

Arrest warrants have been issued for the eight defendants.

The California Department of Justice alleges that between October 2022 and June of this year, the defendants engaged in a series of recycling transfers, smuggling 178 tons of aluminum cans and plastic bottles from Arizona to recycling centers throughout Riverside County. They redeemed the out-of-state recyclables in California, netting $7.6 million in ill-gotten gains, prosecutors said.

"California's recycling program is funded by consumers and helps protect our environment and our communities," Attorney General Rob Bonta said. "Those who try to

Crime Victims Will Have Access To Web Portal With Critical Information

RIVERSIDE (CNS) – Crime victims will soon find it easier to access information on resources they need to navigate the criminal justice system and apply for compensation, thanks to his bill establishing a website destined to serve as a one-stop portal for victims and their families.

SEN. Kelly Seyarto, R - Murrieta, authored and introduced Senate Bill 86 earlier this year with the goal of building on Marsy's Law, also known as the "Victims' Bill of Rights," which took effect in 2008, outlining a number of provisions intended to protect which they often face alone," Seyarto said. "This law will make the information easier to access, providing clarity and relief to those dealing with trauma."

The legislation requires the California Office of Emergency Services to provide adequate funds to the nonprofit California Victims' Resource Center to create a website that will enable victims and their families to find details regarding Marsy's Law, locate victims' advocates, file claims with the California Victim Compensation Board and access any other state and local information pertinent to their needs.

The annual cost to maintain the portal is anticipated to be $150,000, according to an Assembly analysis of SB 86.

The website is expected to go live sometime in the current fiscal year.

SB 86 received bipartisan support in the Assembly and Senate and was signed into law by the governor earlier this month.

Covered California Health Insurance to Get Bump but Many Consumers Won't Feel It

By ADAM BEAM
Associated Press

SACRAMENTO - Monthly health insurance premiums for roughly 1.7 million people in California will go up an average of 9.6% next year - the largest increase in five years - but state officials said many consumers won't feel those hikes because taxpayers will pay for them.

THE federal Affordable Care Act lets people who don't get health insurance from their job buy coverage from a marketplace. Most states let the federal government run their marketplaces for them. But California runs its own marketplace called Covered California.

Monthly premiums on plans purchased through Covered California were stable throughout the pandemic, increasing an average of just over 1% per year from 2020 through 2022 as many people delayed routine health care. But this year, rates jumped 5.6% in California as people started returning to doctor's offices.

State officials blamed next year's increase on a variety of factors, including inflation, higher pharmacy costs and labor shortages. Covered California Executive Director Jessica Altman called it "a challenging year for health care costs."

But Tuesday's announcement was not met by hand-wringing from consumer advocates, who said many people won't end up paying more because of a number of government assistance programs. Congress passed a law last year that says when a person buys a Silver plan — the most commonly purchased coverage — the premium cannot exceed 8.5% of that person's income. The federal government will pay the difference, a law that will be in place through the end of 2025.

State officials say that means more than one-third of people who buy coverage through Covered California would see no change in their monthly premiums as long as they stay with the same insurance company and don't move to another part of the state. Covered California says 20% of consumers won't pay any premiums at all.

In addition, California's state budget this year included new spending to eliminate hospital deductibles for about 650,000 people who purchase Silver plans through Covered California. The money comes from a tax on people who refuse to buy health insurance. The new spending means individuals who make up to $34,000 per year and families of four with incomes of up to $70,000 per year will save up to $5,400, according to Health Access California, a consumer advocacy group.

"Consumers should be alarmed by rising health costs, but also be comforted that Covered California is offering direct and meaningful relief that should shield them from premium hikes," Health Access California Executive Director Anthony Wright said.

Still, some consumers could see increases next year, depending on where they live and what company they use. The biggest average increases will be in rural parts of the state with small populations and fewer coverage options.

Of the 11 companies that sell plans on the state exchange, Blue Shield of California had the biggest average increase at 15%. The company reported more than $24 billion of revenue last year, but said most of it went to paying claims, resulting in a loss of $910 million for the year. Aetna CVS Health had the smallest average increase with 0.2%.

undermine its integrity through criminal operations will be held accountable."

CalRecycle Director Rachel Wagoner said the agency, along with the DOJ, coordinate investigative efforts to "stop criminals and protect funds that belong to Californians," such as in the present case.

"California will not tolerate fraud against our recycling deposit system that has kept nearly a half-trillion bottles and cans from being littered or landfilled in our state," Wagoner said.

The California Beverage Container Recycling Program provides 5 to 10-cent redemption payments for each bottle and can turned in for recycling. The program is funded by extra fees charged to consumers for the sale of canned and bottled beverages statewide.

Arizona does not have a similar program. California Redemption Value -- or CRV -- fees apply only to those recyclable materials sold in California.

CalRecycle officials allegedly detected illegally imported bottles and cans last fall in Riverside County and initiated an investigation that was joined by the DOJ's Bureau of Investigation Recycle Fraud Team.

The agency said the recycling centers that facilitated the conspirators' transfers will also face criminal penalties.

Officials said the investigation resulted in the seizure of $1.06 million in illegally imported containers that had yet to be recycled.

CalFresh Recipients Impacted by Recent Fires Eligible for Additional Aid

RIVERSIDE - Riverside County residents who receive state-paid food benefits and suffered losses in the recent brush fires that impacted Beaumont, Lake Mathews, Moreno Valley and the San Jacinto Valley are eligible for replacement food and related items, officials said Wednesday.

CalFresh recipients impacted by the wildfires can, until Aug. 14, apply for disaster relief that will enable them to recoup the products that they lost because their properties were damaged, or they were forced to evacuate, according to the county Department of Public Social Services.

"These fires were devastating for many families," Assistant DPSS Director Allison Gonzalez said. "We want our customers to know we're here to help recover losses as quickly as possible. We encourage families to reach out to us to request benefit replacement if they were impacted by the fires."

CalFresh recipients impacted by the Gavilan Fire, which scorched nearly 350 acres south of Lake Mathews, the Highland Fire, which burned 105 acres south of Beaumont, the Rabbit Fire, which consumed roughly 8,300 acres in the Lakeview area north of San Jacinto, or the Reche Fire, which blackened 437 acres north of Moreno Valley, can apply for relief, officials said.

It's estimated that 21,650 households could be eligible for replacement benefits. Most grocery stores in the region accept CalFresh debit cards, as well as some e-tailers.

To report a loss connected to the fires, CalFresh customers were asked to call 877-410-8827, or fill out an online claim via BenefitsCal.com.

Residents may also visit any DPSS branch office to request replacement benefits, according to the agency.

Regionally Popular Gale Webb Action Sports Park and its Namesake Honored by State

There are few things that light hearts more than the smile of a child experiencing joy. A trip down the street to the Gale Webb Action Sports Park, will find smiles galore triggered by accomplishments overcoming setbacks.

THE park's namesake knows all about that path. The Brooklyn native and longtime Menifee resident, Gale Webb spent two years in hospital, with a prognosis she'd never walk again, following a devastating skydiving accident a half-century ago.

From there her life has been quite the ride as a decade later she was crafting a legendary career encouraging kids to participate in action sports including skateboarding, BMX and Motocross. Eventually she became known as "Skateboarding Mom," as she was dubbed in an article in TransWorld Skateboarding in 1988.

When Webb's adopted city opened the largest bike park of its kind in Southern California, they named it in her honor, the Gale Webb "Kids-R-#1" Action Sports Park.

And now the California Park and Recreation Society, CPRS, has honored both the park and its namesake.

The new park has received the Award of Excellence in Design for park planning, Menifee being one of only four cities to receive the honor out of the 500 organizations the CPRS represents.

And Gale Webb received

CPRS' Champion of the Community Award for her work encouraging kids to never give up and to say "no" to drugs and alcohol.

"Kids are number one and always will be," said Webb. "Everything is possible, and kids are learning that lesson through their accomplishments at the park and applying it to other parts of their life."

The 6-acre park includes a 2,000-foot pump track, three different jump lines, and a bicycle playground with over 30 obstacles.

The Award of Excellence in Design recognizes excellence in the design of completed park facilities intended for public use. The project can be either a new construction or a rehabilitation project that demonstrates high standards of planning, design, community involvement, operation and maintenance, quality of aesthetics, usability, accessibility, and versatility.

"This unique and action-packed park was an idea that was developed by our Community Services team and fully supported by our City Council," said Mayor Bill Zimmerman. "We are thrilled to see that the Gale Webb Action Sports Park has quickly become a popular destination for bikers of all ages in the community."

Night Out

will be showcasing their gear and interacting with residents beginning about 6 p.m., near the Amtrak station in the 200 block of North Harvard Street.

"The event will feature demonstrations from the Hemet police and fire departments," according to an agency statement.

The city of Murrieta has scheduled a big Night Out celebration at Town Square Park, Kalmia Street and Jefferson Avenue, from 5 to 8 p.m. Officials said attendees this year can look forward to a K9 demo, SWAT unit displays, tours of a mobile command post and kids' fun.

"This family-centered event aims to elevate crime-prevention awareness, strengthen neighborhood spirit and forge even closer police-community relationships," according to an agency statement. "National Night Out events take place throughout the country to enhance the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement while bringing back a true sense of community. It provides a great opportunity to bring law enforcement and community members together under positive circumstances."

The city of Riverside and other municipal law enforcement agencies have delayed their nights out to October, seeking cooler weather. There was no word on sheriff's department plans.

"America's National Night Out Against Crime" was spearheaded by the nonprofit National Association of Town Watch, which organized the first outing in 1984.

Night Out events began with simple gestures, such as residents keeping their porch lights on from dusk to dawn in a demonstration of neighborhood unity and crime-fighting spirit.

Since that time, the National Night Out concept has expanded to include the implementation of voluntary watch programs and face-to-face meetings to improve relations and communication between law enforcement and the community.

After a Century and a Half, Santa Barbara Newspaper Goes Dark

By OLGA R. RODRIGUEZ
Associated Press

SANTA BARBARA - The Pulitzer Prize-winning Santa Barbara News-Press, one of California's oldest newspapers, has ceased publishing after its owner declared the 150-year-old publication bankrupt.

The newspaper became an online-only publication in April. But its last digital edition was posted Friday when owner Wendy McCaw filed for bankruptcy.

Managing editor Dave Mason broke the news to staff in an email Friday, according to NoozHawk, a digital publication whose executive editor, Tom Bolton, used to lead the News-Press.

"They ran out of money to pay us. They will issue final paychecks when the bankruptcy is approved in court," Mason wrote to staff.

On Wednesday, the News-Press' website was still online, but the most recent stories were published Friday. There was no mention that it would cease publishing or that it has declared bankruptcy.

At its height, the newspaper founded in 1855, had a daily circulation of 45,000 and was published seven days a week, serving Santa Barbara, an upscale city of 90,000 people. Editorial writer Thomas

M. Storke won a Pulitzer Prize in 1962 for a series of editorials about the John Birch Society.

The Press-News' closure is the latest example of a struggling news media, said Tim Franklin, an expert in local news at Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism.

"We are losing on average two newspapers a week in the U.S.," Franklin said. "We're on pace to have lost about a third of all newspapers by 2025."

Media companies are having to compete with Google, Facebook and Amazon, which are soaking up much of the ad market, and have yet to figure out a profitable business model for local news, he said.

"The local news crisis is happening in every corner of the country, including in affluent cities and suburbs," he added.

ZUCCHINI Boats

By Connor Forbes

This is my second summer with a garden. The first year was just figuring things out and trying to get in a rhythm of the garden. Organizing, planting seeds, watering, learning, and hoping for things to grow. It was mostly a learning year.

NOW in my second year, there is still a world of learning going on, but I am much more comfortable with getting plants to survive and even thrive.

What is really thriving in my garden right now? Crook neck squash and Zucchini. And tomatoes and a smattering of other vegetables and herbs as well.

The heat has helped my well-established plants. But has hindered my efforts to plant new seeds. So, I am in a holding pattern there. I will likely plant starters inside and have sprouts ready to put in the ground come September when the weather starts to cool down a bit.

Because I have so much squash and zucchini, I have been looking for different ways to cook it. I have been cooking it in some form almost every night. Roasted, fried, sauteed, blended into meat sauce, you name it.

In fact, I have so much, I have been growing tired of it. I have even thought about pulling it out of my garden to make space for new crops. It has taken over about 2/3 of my raised bed. But without much success planting seeds right now, and other plants benefitting from the shade they provide, I think that it would be premature. So, in it stays giving me tons of squash and zucchini on the daily.

The previous night, I had made pasta and meat sauce and had a bunch of sauce left over. I didn't want it to go to waste so I racked my brain for options. The squash was staring me right in the face. "Make squash boats" it said. And so, I did. Let's Make squash boats!

For The Tomato Sauce (make vegetarian by removing the meat)

Ingredients

- 1.5 lbs ground turkey or ground beef
- 28 ounce can crushed tomatoes
- 6 oz can tomato paste
- ½ cup water
- ½ yellow onion diced

- 5 heads garlic, minced
- 1.5 tbsp oregano
- 1 tbsp thyme
- 1 sprig rosemary
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 tsp salt
- 1 tbsp olive oil
- 1 tbsp red wine vinegar

To Make

Heat a large saucepan or Dutch oven on a stovetop over medium heat. Add olive oil and allow to heat up until it is shimmering. Add the onions and cook until translucent, stir occasionally. Add in the ground meat over the onions and brown a couple of minutes, then flip and brown for a couple more minutes on the other side. With a spatula break up the meat into small bits. Add the tomato paste and crushed tomatoes. Add in the garlic, oregano, thyme, rosemary, bay leaf, salt and water and simmer for 30 minutes to an hour.

For the Squash Boats

Ingredients

- 1 zucchini or crook neck squash per person
- tomato sauce
- rosemary (optional)
- parmesan
- basil to garnish

To Make

Preheat oven to 350° F. Cut the squash in half lengthwise. Scoop out the seeds to make a boat. Place on to a sheet pan. Fill the zucchini with tomato sauce. Sprinkle rosemary over boats. Cover with aluminum foil and bake for 20 minutes or until fork tender. Remove foil and cover boats in parmesan. Switch oven to broil. Broil 5- 10 minutes until parmesan is bubbling and slightly browned. Pull out of the oven. Let cool for 5- 10 minutes. Garnish with basil. And EAT!

"BARBIE"

By Bob Garver

"Barbie" prides itself on inspiring a full range of feelings – both in its characters and its audience. The characters tap into dark, sad sides they never knew they had, and they find out life is more rewarding for it. The audience is sure to eat up all the easy jokes and sweetness, sure, but they're also supposed to appreciate the film for its psychological depth and hard-hitting social commentary.

PERHAPS it's appropriate that I have a broad range of feelings toward the film. I think there are portions that work very well, and there are entire storylines and characters that could be cut. There are jokes worth laughs, and jokes worth a cold stare. Some of the film's insights opened my eyes, others made me roll them. But at least the movie is ambitious enough to attempt so many jokes and insights.

Barbie (Margot Robbie) lives in Barbieland with every other Barbie ever created. Most have careers, like President Barbie (Issa Rae) and Doctor Barbie (Hari Nef) and more, but Robbie is Stereotypical Barbie, whose life has no purpose except to be perfect. Equally bland is Ken (Ryan Gosling), whose only traits are that he enjoys the beach and pines after Barbie. He and the other Kens (Simu Liu, John Cena, and more) and one guy named Allan (Michael Cera) are happy to let the Barbies run things while they live like second-class citizens. In fact, everyone in Barbieland is happy all the time, until one day when Barbie is suddenly unhappy.

She goes to see the wizened Weird Barbie (Kate McKinnon), who sends her on a quest to the real world to find the source of her nagging thoughts of death and cellulite. Ken comes along, and both are shocked by what they find. Barbie discovers that she's not the feminist icon she thought she was, as despite the disparate models and careers, the entire toy line is still considered pretty vapid. Ken learns that most of the world is run by a patriarchy, and that seems to be working out pretty well. Barbie visits Mattel headquarters, where the CEO (Will Ferrell) wants her to return to the status quo, but she's not sure that's what she wants anymore. She escapes with the low-level employee that's been affecting her mind (America Ferrera, who gets an amazing monologue late in the movie) and her cynical daughter (Ariana Greenblatt). Together they all return to Barbieland, where they have to stop the newly-power-hungry Kens and... learn to get more out of life, I guess.

Admittedly, I'm not doing the story much justice, but in fairness, neither does the movie itself. Writer/director Greta Gerwig knows that she wants a number of story beats and ideas explored. But they aren't tied together smoothly. For example, to what degree are the characters supposed to be literal dolls? Sometimes they move like normal humans, other times they're affected by a lack of joints (and a lack of other body parts too, don't think the movie isn't going to address "that"). Why has it taken decades for certain concepts to reach Barbieland, and why now? What effects do Mattel and Barbieland have on each other, exactly? The movie dismisses these qualms in the laziest way possible, with a joke that follows the structure of "Is it A or is it B?" "Yes!" Frankly, I think the entire Mattel portion of the film could have been cut and Gerwig should have come up with another way for Barbie to have an important conversation with creator Ruth Handler (Rhea Perlman).

For all its flaws in world-building, "Barbie" is still an incredibly fun movie. The hot-pink-heavy color scheme is as gorgeous to people who like it as it is nauseating to people who don't (but I do). The jokes usually work, especially when they're not deliberately stupid or smutty. Most notably, Robbie, Gosling, and the entire team are clearly having a blast. And you will too, especially if you can catch this movie soon while the theatrical experience is still a big party.

Grade: B-
"Barbie" is rated PG-13
for suggestive references and brief language. Its running time is 114 minutes.

'Barbie' Smashes Box Office Records with $155M Opening

LOS ANGELES (CNS) - "Barbie" had a dream debut at the box office, raking in $155 million this weekend for the biggest opening of the year, and the biggest opening for any film directed by a woman, according to estimates released today.

Director Greta Gerwig's live-action film is based on Mattel's iconic doll, which was introduced in 1959 and has seen many iterations in the decades since. The film stars Margot Robbie as Barbie and Ryan Gosling as Ken, the male doll that Mattel rolled out in 1961 as Barbie's companion.

The two largest openings for female-directed films had been 2019's "Captain Marvel," which was co-directed by Anna Boden and made $153 million in its first weekend, and 2017's "Wonder Woman," directed by Patty Jenkins, which opened to $103 million in North America.

Also enjoying a big opening weekend was "Oppenheimer," director Christopher Nolan's biopic of J. Robert Oppenheimer, who led America's development of the atomic bomb during World War II. Nolan's film opened to $80.5 million, Comscore reported.

Enthusiasm for the two wildly different films, which sparked the "Barbenheimer" meme concerning people who planned to watch both movies on the same day, led to the largest overall weekend box office gross in North America since the beginning of the coronavirus pandemic, and the fourth largest ever, at $302 million.

Third place went to another remarkable success story, as the faith-based drama "Sound of Freedom" took in $20 million Friday through Sunday in its third week of release, and has now grossed over $120 million domestically.

"Mission: Impossible

-- Dead Reckoning Part One" was fourth with $19.5 million, one week after opening in first place.

"Indiana Jones and the Dial of Destiny" was fifth with $6.7 million in its fourth week.

Rounding out the top 10 domestic releases, as estimated by Comscore, were "Insidious: The Red Door" ($6.5 million), "Elemental" ($5.8 million), "Spider-Man: Across the Spider-Verse" ($2.8 million), "Transformers: Rise of the Beasts" ($1.1 million) and "No Hard Feelings" ($1 million).

The year-to-date domestic total is $5.392 billion -- an increase of 16% over the figure at this time last year, according to Comscore.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this prop-erty lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically en-title you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstand-ing liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this no-tice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postpone-ments be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if ap-plicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 866-266-7512 or visit this Internet Web site www.elitepostandpub.com using the file number assigned to this case 23003698-1 CA. In-formation about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this prop-erty after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Carole J. Schultz be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. More fully described in said Deed of Trust.

Street Address or other common designation of real property: 1119 Paseo Grande, Corona, CA 92882
A.P.N.: 102-203-001-3

The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown above.

The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by the Deed of Trust with interest thereon, as provided in said note(s), advances, under the terms of said Deed of Trust, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is: $ 916,750.43.

Note: Because the Beneficiary reserves the right to bid less than the total debt owed, it is possible that at the time of the sale the opening bid may be less than the total debt.

If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse.

The beneficiary of the Deed of Trust has executed and delivered to the undersigned a written request to commence foreclosure, and the undersigned caused a Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site https://www.altisource.com/loginpage.aspx using the file number assigned to this case 2016-03886-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction, if conducted after January 1, 2021, pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855)-976-3916, or visit this internet website https://tracker.auction.com/sb1079, using the file number assigned to this case 2016-03886-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site - www.Auction.com - for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case: T#126287. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale, or visit this internet website www.auction.com or <https://tracker.auction.com/sb1079/> for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case T# 126287 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
