PRELIMINARY NTSB REPORT: CAL FIRE SIKORSKY TIRE MAY HAVE HIT BELL ROTOR BLADE

RIVERSIDE - Combined Sources – In a very preliminary report that describes the initial physical evidence found in the aftermath of the Cal Fire mid-air helicopter collision that claimed three lives last month, it appears possible that the landing gear of the larger Sikorsky aircraft may have collided with the main rotor of the smaller Bell chopper below it.

WHAT has not been disclosed, is why the two aircraft were in the same airspace.

The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) on Friday released its preliminary report on the Aug. 6 crash that destroyed a Cal Fire Bell 407 helicopter in the area of Apache Trail and Pipeline Road.

Cal Fire Assistant Chief Josh Bischof, 46, of Menifee, Cal Fire Capt. Timothy D. Rodriguez Jr., 44, of San Jacinto and contract pilot Tony Sousa, 55, of Red Bluff were fatally injured in the accident.

According to the NTSB, the ill-fated flight departed Hemet-Ryan Airport at about 6:35 p.m. and headed to the Broadway Fire burning over a hillside on the west end of Cabazon. The report said a Cal Fire Sikorsky S-64 water-dropping helicopter departed Hemet-Ryan three minutes after the Bell, going in the same direction.

4 Paws 4 Patriots founder and CEO Tim LeBlanc connects hundreds of veterans and pups in need, every year.

FOR THE LOVE OF A PUP, VETS FIND PEACE ON EARTH

By Don Ray

There are ongoing miracles happening in a mystical land called Menifee.

The name has always conjured up images in my mind of a magical land, beyond the back of beyond, where Little Jackie Paper frolicked with his faithful friend, Puff the Magic Dragon — the creature who the late poet Ogden Nash first created and referred to as a "realio, trulio, little pet dragon."

Menifee also rhymes with "Willoughby," Rod Serling's version of that peaceful paradise of a town from the past — a whistle stop on an old train line that transports an emotionally broken, modern man back in time to his dream destiny.

So, when a fellow disabled combat veteran described a place right here in Menifee called "4 Paws 4 Patriots," I simply had to see it.

And, indeed, I would discover that there are realio, trulio, magical, miracles unfolding here — hundreds of them every year.

It's where a once-broken man named Tim LeBlanc, just about daily, changes the lives of people who feel broken — or whose doctors or counselors have diagnosed as "psychologically" broken.

He does it by pairing up dogs — often themselves once abandoned or broken — with troubled veterans or with police officers who, in combat or even in training, became "broken," and who now suffer from Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

Suspect vehicle driving west on Upper Drive

Investigators Pursuing Leads That Could Net Arrest in Corona Hit-and-Run

CORONA (CNS) - Corona police investigators are pursuing leads that could net an arrest in a hit-and-run that left a 14-year-old boy seriously injured, authorities said Wednesday.

THE victim, identified only as a Corona resident, was struck about 8:30 a.m. Friday while riding his bicycle in the area of Rimpau Avenue and Upper Drive.

"Officers are actively investigating some information that may lead to the suspect driver and vehicle involved," Corona Police Department spokesman Corporal Tobias Kouroubacalis told City News Service on Wednesday.

He declined to disclose any further details, pending the outcome of the investigation.

The boy's condition Wednesday could not be confirmed. It was unknown whether he remained hospitalized, or had been released to recover from his injuries at home.

According to police, the youth was riding his bike to school when the driver of an SUV going westbound on Upper Drive hit him and didn't stop.

Witnesses called 911, and paramedics and police arrived moments later, discovering that the victim had suffered injuries to his abdomen. He was taken to a Riverside hospital, where he was listed in stable condition over the weekend.

Investigators were able to obtain photographs of the SUV, relying on security surveillance cameras mounted on surrounding businesses. The license plate on the light-colored vehicle was not clearly discernable, however.

Anyone with information was asked to contact Officer Kevin Matty at 951-817-5764.

Warrant Issued for Man Accused of Carrying High-Capacity Rifle in Public

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - A 24-year-old man accused of carrying a high- capacity rifle outside a Corona apartment complex, prompting police to open fire when he didn't surrender, was being sought Tuesday after a judge issued a warrant for his arrest because he didn't make a court appearance.

ISAIAH Janmar Goldmas of Ontario was arrested in August 2022 following a nearly month-long investigation by the Corona Police Department.

Goldmas is charged with two counts of firearm assault, carrying a loaded gun prohibited by the California Department of Justice, exhibiting a firearm not in self-defense and resisting arrest.

He has been out of custody, on bond, since last year and was slated to appear for a settlement conference a week ago. However, when his case was called at the Riverside Hall of Justice, Goldmas was a no-show, prompting Riverside County Superior Court Judge Emma Smith to sign a bench warrant on Aug. 29.

The defendant's whereabouts were unknown Tuesday.

According to Corona police, shortly before 6 a.m. on July 31, 2022, the defendant was spotted outside the Ashton Apartments at 2178 Stoneridge Drive, allegedly toting the rifle.

Det. Daniel Clary said frightened witnesses called 911, after which patrol officers deployed a remote-controlled drone to scour the apartment complex, where they saw Goldmas "in the parking lot, holding the rifle."

"When officers attempted to contact the suspect, an officer-involved shooting occurred," the detective said, without specifying whether the defendant aimed the rifle, or what other alleged actions he took. "The suspect dropped the rifle and ran to the Deerwood Apartment Complex."

Goldmas was not hit, and no officers were injured.

California Highway Patrol and Riverside police officers deployed to the location to assist, along with sheriff's deputies, according to Clary.

"During the search, officers recovered the loaded semi-automatic rifle," he said, adding that they were unable to find the defendant.

In the ensuing weeks, investigators were able to confirm that Goldmas was the man in the parking lot, culminating in an arrest warrant being obtained and served on International Way in Ontario, where he was taken into custody without incident.

Landmark Murder Conviction for Fentanyl Poisoning in Temecula

MURRIETA (CNS) - A convicted felon who provided a fatal dose of fentanyl to a 26-year-old Temecula woman was convicted Thursday of second-degree murder in Riverside County's first fentanyl murder case to go before a jury.

After deliberating part of Wednesday afternoon and all of Thursday, a Murrieta jury found Vicente David Romero, 34, guilty of the murder count, as well as possession of controlled substances while armed, being a felon in possession of a loaded gun and possession of drug paraphernalia in connection with the 2020 death of Kelsey King.

"Today, our office has successfully provided justice to a victim's family by securing the first-ever guilty verdict by a jury in a fentanyl- related homicide trial in the state of California," District Attorney Mike Hestrin said. "Deputy District Attorney Jerry Pfohl not only demonstrated that the law can be upheld in a fentanyl-related murder case, but also established a precedent for future cases.

"This verdict is a testament to our unwavering commitment to protecting our communities, providing justice for victims and holding those accountable who engage in the distribution of illicit fentanyl resulting in death."

Romero, who is being held without bail at the Byrd Detention Center in Murrieta, is slated for sentencing on Oct. 6. He is facing 15 years to life in state prison.

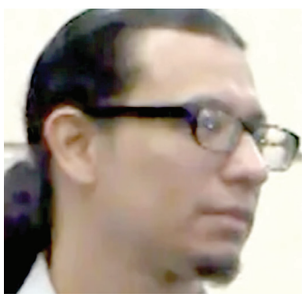

The prosecution and defense delivered closing statements Wednesday, after which Riverside County Superior Court Judge Timothy Freer sent jurors behind closed doors at the Southwest Justice Center in Murrieta to weigh evidence from the four-week trial.

Among the nearly two dozen defendants who have been charged in fentanyl-related deaths countywide, Romero's was the first murder case to go to trial.

Romero and King were acquaintances, and according to the prosecution's trial brief, the two ran into each other in Temecula on June 16, 2020, both seeking to get high on drugs.

On the day of the meeting, Romero had multiple fentanyl-laced M-30 pills, known on the street as "blues," in his backpack.

Romero later admitted during an interview with detectives that he and King went to a spot on Jefferson Avenue, underneath Interstate 15, where he crushed one of the pills and used a straw to snort the contents, according to the brief.

"King then snorted the other half of the pill," the brief said. "The defendant ... then remembered that he started sweating and feeling funny. He checked his phone camera to look at his face. That was the last thing that the defendant claimed he remembered before passing out."

Romero awoke hours later to find King unconscious, laying face down with her buttocks in the air, prosecutors said.

"The defendant remembered King being cold to the touch when he tried to wake her up," according to the narrative.

Romero walked to a Chevron gas station several blocks away on Rancho California Road and asked the attendant to call 911, then began vomiting uncontrollably, court papers said.

Deputies went to the station and questioned Romero. After confirming he was a probationer, they searched his backpack and discovered a loaded handgun, as well as five "blues," according to the brief.

Romero told them about King, pointing out where he had left her. A patrol unit went to the location, and a deputy discovered the woman dead shortly after 9 p.m.

"The defendant was transported to Temecula Valley Hospital, where he was treated for the fentanyl ingestion, as well as methamphetamine," the brief stated.

A Riverside County Coroner's Office autopsy on King determined her cause of death stemmed from the "effects of methamphetamine, heroin and fentanyl," court papers said.

While speaking with detectives, Romero acknowledged that King's death "is on me because I gave her the pills," according to the brief.

"The defendant confirmed that King had never used fentanyl before," the prosecution wrote.

Court documents show Romero has prior convictions for assault, unlawful intercourse with a minor and burglary.

According to public safety officials, there were 503 confirmed fentanyl-related fatalities countywide last year, compared to just under 400 in 2021, a 200-fold increase from 2016, when there were only two.

Fentanyl is manufactured in overseas labs, principally in China, according to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, which says the synthetic opioid is smuggled across the U.S.-Mexico border by cartels.

The drug is 80-100 times more potent than morphine and can be mixed into any number of street narcotics and prescription drugs, without a user knowing what he or she is consuming. Ingestion of only two milligrams can be fatal.

Fentanyl is the leading cause of death for Americans between 18 and 45 years old, statistics show.

Mid-Air Collision

"The Bell ... maneuvered northeast toward Cabazon," the report stated. ``The Sikorsky ... traveled northeast through mountainous terrain and continued northeast following descending terrain towards Cabazon."

NTSB investigators wrote that radar tracks provided by each helicopter's transponder indicated ``both helicopters on a converging flight path, until the time of the collision."

There was no word on whether the pilots were communicating, on the same frequency, making position reports in the blind, or any other details that might give a clue as to why the midair collision occurred in daylight conditions, with 10 miles' visibility.

The choppers impacted at 6:44 p.m., causing the Bell to spiral out of control, slamming into ``a steep and rocky hillside," where the fuselage erupted in flames, according to the NTSB.

Bischof, Rodriguez and Sousa perished at the scene.

According to the report, "the Sikorsky landed nearby without further incident. The right main landing gear tire was damaged, with an approximate 12-inch portion not located." The 2-person crew was uninjured and NTSB officials state the craft was otherwise undamaged.

Of the Bell aircraft, the report states, "The main wreckage was found about 45 ft east of the engine. The main rotor blades, mast, and transmission came to rest around 285 ft northwest of the main wreckage, upslope."

The Broadway Fire scorched 20 acres before it was knocked down that evening. No homes or other structures were damaged.

The NTSB's final report on the deadly collision will likely be released in the next 24 months.

Messi has 2 Assists in Front of Star-Studded LA as Inter Miami Beats LAFC 3-1

By Joe Reedy
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES Inter Miami is unbeaten since Lionel Messi arrived at the club in mid-July.

ON Sunday night, it played its best game of the season on the road against the defending MLS Cup champions.

Messi had two assists in front of a star-studded crowd in Inter Miami`s 3-1 victory over Los Angeles Football Club.

"We've had many complex matches. I think because of the quality of the opponent today, this was one of the most challenging and the one that we performed the best within 90 minutes. I think it`s a very good sign," Miami coach Gerardo "Tata" Martino said.

Facundo Farías, Jordi Alba and Leonardo Campana scored for Miami, which hasn`t lost in its last 11 matches across all competitions.

Ryan Hollingshead scored for LAFC, which has dropped its last two.

Miami's visit to Los Angeles was marked as one of the highlight games since Messi signed. It was viewed by 22,921 fans, a record for LAFC's BMO Stadium.

It also vaulted into one of the most-demanded tickets in the 27-year history of MLS.

According to TickPick, the average purchase price for the match was $717, which was 515% more than the $110 before Messi signed.

By comparison, Beyonce's concert at SoFi Stadium had an average purchase price of $493.

Among the celebrities in attendance were Britain`s Prince Harry, LAFC co-owner Will Ferrell, Leonardo DiCaprio, Selena Gomez, Owen Wilson, Mario Lopez and Edward Norton. Former "Ted Lasso" stars Jason Sudeikis and Brendan Hunting also were at the game.

"It felt similar to a playoff game at the beginning, but I think that is what we expected," LAFC coach Steve Cherundolo said.

Sunday`s match will be Messi`s last with Miami for at least the next two weeks. The 36-year-old will be part of Argentina`s World Cup qualifiers against Ecuador on Thursday and Bolivia five days later.

"We will try to put together the best performance possible against Kansas City (on Saturday)," Martino said. "We'll also hope that the players leaving come back healthy and well so that we can continue this stretch."

Messi has 11 goals and eight assists for Miami, which is eight points out of a playoff spot in the Eastern Conference with eight regular-season matches remaining.

Alba and Sergio Busquets, who were Messi`s teammate when they were at Barcelona, also are coming into form. Alba has two goals since coming to Miami while Busquets set up the pass for Messi that led to Alba`s goal.

"They're playing in a disciplined manner,`` Cherundolo said of Miami. ``It's very clear that they're extremely effective on the offensive end. What that means for opponents is you have to be the same because you`re not going to have many chances."

Messi had a wide-open shot in front of the net in the 38th minute, but LAFC goalkeeper John McCarthy used his left foot to make the save.

"He got past one of our guys, I saw him about to pull the trigger and made myself as big as possible," said McCarthy, who made three saves in the match.

Farías, who turned 21 on Aug. 28, made his second start since joining the club in late July and scored his first goal in the 14th minute.

Tomas Avilés made a great pass at midfield as Farías was running up the right side of the field. Farías had an opening between two LAFC defenders and made a sliding shot with his outstretched right foot that beat McCarthy, hit the far post and bounced in.

Alba doubled Miami`s advantage in the 51st minute with a left-footer. Messi had a 2-on-1 breakaway in the 83rd minute before passing to Campana, who had a wide-open shot at the net.

Hollingshead averted the shutout with a header off a corner kick.

Sesame Scallion Sauce

By Connor Forbes

I had some chicken in my fridge that I had been brining in salt water for a couple of days. Brining is a simple trick to add a ton of juiciness to your end result chicken. To brine simply combine 2 tablespoons of salt to about 4 cups of water. Then submerge your chicken in it for at least two hours. Though you can leave it to brine for a few days.

I was keeping it simple, so I just went with a brine with no other marinade. And when I cooked it, I used sesame oil for my fat, and salt and pepper for my seasoning. I have been making chicken this way (though usually with vegetable oil) for my Caesar salads and have quickly become a fan of its simplicity. It is one of those keep it simple for big flavor recipes. Brine, salt, and pepper equals tasty chicken breast.

Because I wanted to add some flair, I wanted to make a sauce to spread over the chicken. You know, to kick it up a notch, as Emeril would say. I have a ton of green onions, also known as scallion, in the garden. So that seemed like a natural ingredient to use.

This recipe is great to add to any protein, whether chicken, pork, beef, or tofu. And is infinitely flexible with really any meal. Need a little extra something. Look no further than sesame scallion sauce. So let's make some sauce!

Ingredients

- 1 cup diced scallions, greens and whites
- 1/3 cup of sesame oil
- 1 thai chili pepper or any other spicy variety
- 1 tsp salt
- 1 tsp soy sauce
- 1 tsp fish sauce

To make

Heat the sesame oil on medium heat for 5 minutes. It should be very hot, but you may not see boiling. Be careful not to leave it on too long or the sesame oil will start to take on a burnt taste. While the sesame oil is heating, dice your scallions and place in a heat resistant bowl. Chop your chili pepper and add to bowl. Pour hot sesame oil over scallions. Add salt, soy sauce, and fish sauce and stir. Mixing well. And EAT!

There are others, non-veterans, who suffer from PTSD or other psychological ailments that LeBlanc welcomes to his free training. He and his family provide each one of them with the right dog and unlimited training as well as any necessary equipment.

Nobody pays even a penny.

LeBlanc runs this not-for-profit, 501(c)(3), charitable organization — and it's open to anybody who shows up — age and gender bedamned. It's been his life's passion for decades.

LeBlanc told me that he once had the opportunity to chat with the C.E.O. of one of the largest veterans' charities.

"He asked me what my salary was, and I told him, 'Well, last year I paid $50,000 to do this job,' and he thought I was crazy.

"And maybe I am, but, you know, when I leave this world, I know that I've left it maybe just a little bit better place — at least for some people," he said, "than it was without me. And what more can a guy ask for?"

The weathered face of this burly man in his mid-60s is surrounded by long, unkempt grey hair and a bushy grey beard. He dresses more like a summer tourist than that of a man who runs a thriving non-profit. The yard in front of the old, one-story house he shares with his wife Reta, and his own service dog is on a rural dirt road. At first glance, it looked to me like a refuge for old cars, old machinery, and other rusting, damaged collectibles — far from what I had expected.

It turns out that LeBlanc enjoys repairing and bringing back to life more than just broken veterans. We chatted inside a three-sided, sort of garage, seated next to the cooled air coming from a loud, old, evaporative cooler that sat on the ground between two of the many cars he's restoring.

He described to me in painful detail how his father had suffered from the effects of fighting in World War II — effects they used to refer to simply as "shell shock."

And he described the abuse his father had inflicted on him.

"It was not like we think of an abused kid today," he said." It was broken arms, broken legs —you know — pretty serious abuse.

"Not that my dad was a bad guy — he wasn't, LeBlanc said. "He was struggling with, you know, mental health issues that really should have been addressed differently. And, you know, he would take it out on me.

"My dad was textbook — all the standard symptoms. Nightmares, couldn't sleep, always hypervigilant. Yes, it was a rough childhood."

He told me that he escaped into his own world where they were living in Huntington Beach in the early 1970s.

"I started working training dogs, and it just brought me to a really peaceful place in my life," he said. "It was there, at the beach, that I found peace and happiness. So, I built a lifelong connection to animals."

LeBlanc dropped out of school, he says, and joined the Army where he served as an airborne soldier in Panama at a jungle warfare training school.

"I did a little extraction work at the end of the Vietnam War."

When he got out, he would soon learn that his combat experiences and injuries had exacerbated the PTSD he realized he had been carrying from his troubled childhood. So, he started training a dog to help him cope. Others saw what he was doing and asked him to help them train their own dogs.

"And it just turned into this whole thing of training service dogs."

Today, he and his wife, Reta, live off his monthly Social Security benefits, his V.A. disability payments and the salary she brings in.

Courtesy, Don Ray

Don Ray with his K-9 partner Ralph in South Vietnam in 1969.

I should mention now, that my personal interest came from my own experiences. I too, was the victim of childhood physical and mental abuse. I also enlisted in the Army when I was 18 — also to escape from the house — and I would learn later that I, too, had carried with me a large dose of PTSD. And like Tim LeBlanc, I came home even more damaged.

And this wasn't my first exposure to training and working with dogs. I spent a year in Vietnam as a dog handler with a 90-pound German shepherd named Fritz as my partner. He was my lifesaver and closest companion.

Compared to the way Tim LeBlanc trains service dogs, the Army stupidly had us train our dogs to attack any human who came anywhere near us — even fellow soldiers.

Many years later, to assist me in interacting with the world at home, I trained my own service dog, also named Fritz, from the time he was a puppy.

Indeed, I already knew how life-changing, empowering and curative a service dog can be. Fritz II, as I would refer to him, was my closest friend and companion (aside from my wife) for nine years.

We were heartbroken and devastated when he died suddenly in January of this year. Telling you about 4 Paws 4 Veterans is, itself, making me feel better. Now, back to the story.

The Sunday before last, I accepted Tim's invitation to observe the weekly group training that begins promptly at 8 a.m. in a beautifully constructed, partially shaded training track and practice area — itself an oasis in a next-door field cluttered with old vehicles and rusting equipment.

I got to see the remarkable lessons and exercises that one of LeBlanc's talented trainers, John Flores, was coordinating.

The students and their dogs walked along both directions of the sidewalk that surrounds the center area where Flores stood, observed, and gave one-on-one tips and helpful remedies to the students. They practiced helping their novice dogs learn how to not be distracted by the oncoming teams, and they practiced giving gentle but firm commands to the dogs and then rewarding them with small treats. They also learned how to hold the leash and maintain the proper slack.

Afterward, Flores and Tim LeBlanc each provided praise, encouragement, and helpful hints to the dozen or more participants and their four-legged, future service dogs.

Javan Robinson was one of them. He had come from Laguna Niguel with his 8-month-old American Doberman, Remi. He told me he had spent a little over five years in the Marine Corps, but returned to civilian life still haunted by a tragic amphibious training accident that took the lives of eight fellow marines and a Navy corpsman in his unit in July of 2020, off the coast of San Clemente Island

"So, I had a lot of anxiety over that," he said. That and other resultant problems prompted the folks at the V.A. hospital to recommend Robinson get a service dog.

He says that today, Reni is already coming to his aid when anxiety starts to overwhelm him.

The V.A. also pointed former marine Rafael Mendoza of Temecula to 4 Paws 4 Patriots. He says his dog, Maya, a "Dogo Argentino," is about two-and-a-half years old. Mendoza recently got her from a rescue shelter.

"She was an overnight surrender," he said. "They don't know her history.

"When I first got her, she was really skittish about getting into the vehicle. But bringing her here, socializing, being around other people and animals, she's been more comfortable.

"Now, I open the back of the car and she jumps right in," he says, "because she knows that the ride is not a bad thing."

Tommie Patillo drove in from Lake Elsinore. He's a retired Marine, a husband, and father of four grown kids.

Up front, he confessed he'd not been "a dog guy," but that Tim LeBlanc changed that.

"The pup I have with me is the son of my service dog," Patillo said with the 11-month-old English bulldog, Prince, at his feet. "This is his first year, and I wanted him to learn things just as his mom did."

Prince's mother, Cadence, is now two and a half years old. Patillo had served two tours in Iraq, but his PTSD was because of his earlier tour in Somalia.

"I was a young kid at 20 years old," he said. "I didn't really understand my emotions — I didn't understand how to be a man."

He turned to 4 Paws 4 Patriots two years ago when he realized that he needed someone to help him figure out how to deal with his PTSD.

"She's all I have," he said. "I'm all alone."

Sasha is his emotional support dog, always accompanying him to the library, government offices, on buses, and even to a group meeting he had been attending every morning for nine months.

"But then they voted her out," Huerta said. "No more dogs."

So, bringing Sasha to 4 Paws 4 Patriots for the first time, his goal is to transform her into an official service dog.

Hank is a three-year-old golden retriever who accompanied Dan Konnerth from Laguna Niguel. It was the team's first time attending the group training class, Konnerth said, but he was already impressed with instructor, Flores.

"He's a veteran who donates his time for this cause — understanding the anxiety that people feel coming back from Afghanistan,"

"They helped me get over the finish line," he said.

Stephen Huerta drove in from Riverside with his five-and-a-half-year-old pit bull, Sasha. At 55 — it was his birthday that day — he was the eldest student present. Past students have ranged as high as their 90's. After departing the Air Force in 1997, due to personal challenges stemming from his childhood, Huerta said his life has been a challenge ever since. But Sasha helps him manage.

Konnerth observed. "And the lack of trust that a lot of people experienced."

When the training ended, I cornered Flores and discovered that he, himself, first came to 4 Paws 4 Patriots from Murietta to get help with his future service dog, Harley.

Trainer Flores revealed they became a pair not long after the Marine Corps medically retired him in 2015.

"I never really chased anything after retirement because the military kind of just said I was broken.".

The V.A. recommended he get a service dog, but says he had no clue what the purpose would be — so he did his own research and soon found Harley.

When he went to Petco to buy a leash for her, Flores relates that a store employee disclosed she was volunteering at a place called 4 Paws 4 Patriots.

"She handed me their card and said, 'Contact these people.'

"And, lo and behold, Harley started her journey," Flores said, "and so did I."

Long story short, Tim LeBlanc eventually recruited Flores to be an instructor.

That's the kind of success story I'm always looking for.

I recalled Tim LeBlanc lamenting the reality that there seems to be no end in sight to the "miracles" he helps veterans and their dogs experience.

"What I want to do is train them till we don't need anymore," Leblanc had told me when we first met. "Until we stop having wars and putting people in a horrible position.

"And where I can train them for kids. That was my original plan, he said.

"I was going to train these disabled vets just for a while and then start helping kids — I wouldn't have to keep doing this for vets forever.

"Well, the truth is, you know, we'll never run out of disabled vets," LeBlanc said, shaking his head.

THE EQUALIZER 3

By Bob Garver

Like its main character, "Gran Turismo" fights hard to overcome the stigma of its association with a video game. Video game movies have taken some big steps lately, both creatively and commercially, with efforts like the "Sonic the Hedgehog" series and "The Super Mario Bros. Movie," though the genre still lacks that one ceiling-shattering creative standout. Unlike its main character, "Gran Turismo" ultimately can't quite pull it off. It's close, it really is, but this movie comes just short of being the first video game movie to earn my recommendation.

IT has been five years since we last saw Robert "The Equalizer" McCall, as played by the ever-arresting Denzel Washington. In that time, we've had a pandemic, three seasons of the Queen Latifah TV series (not to be confused with the Edward Woodward TV series from the 80's), and plenty of time to forget about this iteration of the franchise. I wish Washington and director Antoine Fuqua had forgotten about it too, because they both could have used the time they wasted on this movie doing something worthier of their talents.

The movie opens with the aftermath of a McCall killing spree on the staff of a Sicilian mansion. McCall had to get the attention of a crime boss (Bruno Bilotta) in a way that involved not getting killed, but getting captured so the boss could get personally involved. McCall's plan in this sequence and in the one at the film's climax have the same problem: they require the bad guys to show exactly the right amount of mercy. Even though McCall knows about their ruthlessness, he expects them to bide their time, toy with him a certain way, and not kill anyone unnecessarily, lest we hold him responsible for getting an innocent person killed because he had to get cute with his strategy.

The showdown at the mansion leaves McCall wounded. He's found unconscious by the side of the road by a helpful small-town cop (Eugenio Mastrandrea), who takes him to a local doctor (Remo Girone), who lets McCall recover at his house. McCall quickly takes to the town of Altamonte, where everyone is friendly to him, but fearful of the local Mafia, especially payment collector Marco (Andrea Dodero), brother of big boss Vincent (Andrea Scarduzio, and yes, I do think it's funny that the actors playing brothers share a first name, but not a last). He tries to stay out of the locals' delicate relationship with the violent organization, but trouble seems to have a way of finding Robert McCall, and he soon finds himself having to topple the entire criminal empire.

McCall's feud with the villains isn't limited to the parameters of the little town. He picked up some information at the mansion that ties the specific crime family to an elaborate cyber-crime ring. He relays crumbs of information to CIA agent Collins (Dakota Fanning). I expected Collins to help out McCall in some of the action scenes since he's injured, but the character frustratingly never really gets in the game. I honestly started questioning if she was some sort of last-minute addition to the screenplay to pad the movie's runtime, since she never interacts with any major characters besides McCall, and the movie's action is pretty scant anyway.

"The Equalizer 3" has done very well for itself at the box office over Labor Day weekend, so I must admit that the project has paid off commercially for Washington and Fuqua. But did this movie really satisfy their creative appetites? Maybe they wanted an excuse to spend time in Italy? That was definitely the case with "Book Club: The Next Chapter" from earlier this year. But while that movie – for all its faults – made Italy look like Heaven on Earth, this movie can't help but make it look "gritty," dragging it down to the tone of McCall's world. My theory is that Washington wanted to prove something to himself, namely that he can still carry an action movie as he approaches age 70. The film's box office definitely proves that he "can" (and I would have said he "can" even if the film wasn't performing well), though he "should" have held out for a better vehicle.

Grade: C-

"The Equalizer 3" is rated R for strong bloody violence and some language. Its running time is 109 minutes.

`The Equalizer 3' Has Second-Biggest Labor Day Weekend Opening

LOS ANGELES (CNS) - ``The Equalizer 3" opened with $42.2 million over the four-day holiday weekend to lead all films in North America, according to revised industry estimates released today.

The third film in the action franchise -- all of which star Denzel Washington and were directed by Antoine Fuqua -- scored the second-highest Labor Day weekend opening on record. ``Shang-Chi and the Legend of the Ten Rings" made $94.6 million over the extended four-day weekend in 2021. ``Barbie" was in second place with $13.1 million Friday through Monday in its seventh week in theaters, Comscore reported.

``Blue Beetle" was third with $9.2 million in its third week.

``Gran Turismo" was fourth with $8.5 million, one week after opening in first place.

``Oppenheimer" was fifth, grossing $7.5 million in its seventh week.

Rounding out the top 10 domestic releases were ``Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles: Mutant Mayhem" ($6 million), ``Bottoms" ($3.659 million), ``Meg 2: The Trench" ($3.65 million), ``Strays" ($3.2 million) and ``Talk to Me" ($2.2 million).

This weekend's overall four-day box office haul was estimated at $113.6 million. The year-to-date total is $6.776 billion -- an increase of 25.5% over the figure at this time last year, according to Comscore.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 1-800-280-2832 or visit this internet website, www.auction.com, using the file number assigned to this case T.S.# 9462-5865. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 855-976-3916, or visit this internet website https://tracker.auction.com/sb1079/, using the file number assigned to this case T.S.# 9462-5865 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Any information obtained may be used for that purpose. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (714) 730-2727 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site - www.servicelinkASAP.com - for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case: 166786. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (714) 730-2727 for information regarding the trustee's sale, or visit this internet website www.servicelinkASAP.com for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case 166786 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. The successful bidder will be required to furnish the City with a Performance Bond equal to 100% of the successful bid, and a Payment (Labor and Materials) Bond equal to 100% of the successful bid, prior to execution of the Contract. All bonds are to be secured from a surety that meets all of the State of California bonding requirements, as defined in Code of Civil Procedure Section 995.120, and is admitted by the State of California. Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22300, the successful bidder may substitute certain securities for funds withheld by City to ensure performance under the Contract.

The Work is subject to the payment of not less than prevailing wages pursuant to Chapter 1 (beginning at Section 1720 et seq.) of Part 7 of Division 2 of the California Labor Code, as well as Title 8, Section 16000 et seq. of the California Code of Regulations ("Prevailing Wage Laws"). The Director of the Department of Industrial Relations ("DIR") has determined the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of worker needed to execute the Contract which will be awarded to the successful bidder, copies of which are on file and will be made available to any interested party upon request at Owners office or online at http://www.dir.ca.gov/dlsr. A copy of these rates shall be posted by the successful bidder at the job site.

Pursuant to SB 854, which amended the Prevailing Wage Laws, this Contract is subject to compliance monitoring and enforcement by the DIR. Beginning March 1, 2015, with very limited exceptions no contractor or subcontractor may be listed on a bid proposal for this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. Beginning April 1, 2015, no contractor or subcontractor may be awarded this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. The DIR registration number for each contractor and subcontractor must be identified on the bid proposal - failure to identify this number could result in the bid being rejected as nonresponsive. It is each bidder's responsibility to ensure that they have fully complied with SB 854. The City will report all necessary contracts to the DIR as required by the Prevailing Wage Laws.

The successful bidder and their subcontractor(s) shall comply with all applicable Prevailing Wage Laws, which include, but are not limited to the payment of not less than the required prevailing rates to all workers employed by them in the execution of the Contract, the employment of apprentices, the hours of labor, the payment of overtime, and the debarment of contractors and subcontractors. The successful bidder and all subcontractor(s) under him shall also be responsible for any and all violations and fines imposed on them pursuant to the Prevailing Wage Laws.

Before the Contract is awarded, the successful bidder shall be a licensed contractor pursuant to the Business and Professions Code and shall be licensed in the following appropriate classification(s) of contractor's license(s), for the work bid upon, and must maintain the license(s) throughout the duration of the Contract: a valid Class 'B' General Building license sufficient to cover all of the work to be performed.

Funding for this project is expected to be provided in whole or in part with federal housing and community development block funds. The Federal Labor Standards Provisions, including prevailing wage requirements of the DavisBacon and Related Acts will be enforced. A copy of the Federal Wage Decision applicable to this Project is included in the Contract Documents. This project is a public work in the State of California, funded in whole or in part with public funds. Therefore, the higher of the two applicable prevailing wage rates, federal or state, will be enforced. The Contractor's duty to pay State prevailing wages can be found under Labor Code Section 1770 et seq. Labor Code sections 1775 and 1777.7 outline the penalties for failure to pay prevailing wages and to employ apprentices, including the forfeitures and debarment. The State Wage Decision is available from the City's Representative and is also available online at http://www.dir.ca.gov/dlsr/.

The successful bidder and all subcontractors shall comply with all applicable federal and state laws, rules, and regulations, including but not limited to U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funding requirements (24 CFR Part 135), CDBG funding requirements and submittals, the Federal DavisBacon Act, and the prohibition against contractors who are debarred from federal contracting. The funding requirements are included in Appendix A – Federal Requirements.

Attention is directed to Sections 1777.5, 1777.6 and 1777.7 of the California Labor Code and Title 8, California Administrative code, Section 200 et seq. to ensure compliance and complete understanding of the law regarding apprentices.

Bidders shall document their status as a Minority Business Enterprise (MBE), a Womenowned Business Enterprise (MBE) or a nonMBE/WBE firm. Bidders that are not MBE/WBE firms will be required to make a good faith effort, and to document their efforts to include firms as part of the bid and contract.

This is a HUD Section 3 construction contract. Contractors and subcontractors must address Section 3 employment work hours benchmarks for Section 3 Workers and Targeted Section 3 Workers as established by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development at 24 CFR Part 75.

In the procurement of supplies, equipment, construction, and services, the conflict of interest provisions of 2 CFR 200.317 and 200.318 apply. No employee, officer or agent of the City shall participate in selection, or in the award or administration of a contract supported by Federal funds if a conflict of interest, real or apparent, would be involved.

The City will contract with a thirdparty labor compliance firm to monitor and enforce the applicable provisions of the federal Davis-Bacon and Prevailing Wage Laws, including but not limited to the standard provisions requiring payment of prevailing wages, maintenance and submission of certified weekly payroll records, hiring of apprentices, and compliance and enforcement by the DIR pursuant to SB854. Contractor shall work with City staff and consultants to ensure full compliance with applicable Prevailing Wage Laws.

The successful bidder must fully comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations in furnishing or using equipment and/or providing services, including, but not limited to, emissions limits and permitting requirements imposed by the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD) and/or California Air Resources Board (CARB). Although the SCAQMD and CARB limits and requirements are broader, the successful bidder shall specifically be aware of their application to “portable equipment”, which definition is considered by SCAQMD and CARB to include any item of equipment with a fuelpowered engine. The successful bidder will be required to indemnify City against any fines or penalties imposed by SCAQMD, CARB, or any other governmental or regulatory agency for violations of applicable laws, rules and/or regulations by the successful bidder, its subcontractors, or others for whom the successful bidder is responsible under its indemnity obligations.

Award of Contract: The City shall award the Contract for the Project to the lowest responsive, responsible bidder as determined on the basis of the summation of the Total Base Bid Schedule and the Total Alternate Bid Schedule combined. However, the City may choose to award the Contract on the basis of the base bid alone or the base bid and any selected alternate bid item or combination of selected alternate bid items. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bids or in the bidding process.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE’S SALE

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder’s office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site https://www.altisource.com/loginpage.aspx using the file number assigned to this case 2023-00141-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE’S SALE

NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction, if conducted after January 1, 2021, pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an “eligible tenant buyer,” you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an “eligible bidder,” you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (877)-518-5700, or visit this internet website https://www.realtybid.com/, using the file number assigned to this case 2023-00141-CA to find the date on which the trustee’s sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee’s sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee’s sale. If you think you may qualify as an “eligible tenant buyer” or “eligible bidder,” you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

CITY OF CORONA
NOTICE INVITING BIDS

The City of Corona (City) will receive sealed bids for the Citywide Street Pavement Rehabilitation Rebid, Project No. ST-2021-01, NIB No. 24-017CA through the City’s PlanetBids electronic bidding system, no later than October 12, 2023, 2:00 P.M. Bids submitted after this date and time will not be accepted by the electronic bidding system. At said time, it will be bidder’s responsibility to log into the PlanetBids system for the City of Corona to view the apparent low bidder for the project. Bids shall be valid for 90 calendar days after the close of bid. Bids must be submitted on the City’s Bid Forms.

Prospective Bidders must visit the City’s Bids and Requests for Proposals Vendor Portal at https://www.planetbids.com/portal/portal.cfm?CompanyID=39497 and register as a new vendor in PlanetBids in order to download Contract Documents, including Instructions to Bidders, plans and specifications, and to receive addenda and notifications when issued. Bidders will also submit electronic bids through this website. The City will also make the Contract Documents available for review at one or more plan rooms.

All electronic Bids must be accompanied by a bid security in an amount not less than 10% of the submitted Total Bid Price pursuant to Section 12 Bid Guarantee (Bond) of the Instructions to Bidders.

It shall be Bidder’s responsibility to allow sufficient time to complete and submit its bid including all required documentation referred to in the Contract Documents prior to the stated deadline. Electronic bid submission cannot be completed unless bidder properly uploads all required documents. Each bid shall be accompanied by the security referred to in the Contract Documents, the NonCollusion Declaration, the list of proposed subcontractors, and all additional documentation required by the Instructions to Bidders.

Bidders are solely responsible for the “on time” submission of their electronic Bid. The City will only consider Bids from contractors that have transmitted successfully and have been issued a confirmation number with a time stamp from PlanetBids indicating that the Bid was submitted successfully. Transmission of Bids by any other means will not be accepted. Bidders shall be solely responsible for informing themselves with respect to the proper utilization of the online bid management system, for ensuring the capability of their computer system to upload the required documents, and for the stability of their internet service. Failure of the Bidder to successfully submit an electronic Bid shall be the Bidder’s sole risk and no relief will be given for late and/or improperly submitted Bids. Bidders experiencing technical difficulties with the bid submission process may contact PlanetBids Support at 818-992-1771. If you continue to have difficulty, call City of Corona Purchasing Department at 951-736-2274. Neither the City, nor PlanetBids, make any guarantee as to the timely availability of assistance, or assurance that any given problem will be resolved by the bid submission date and/or time.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish the City with a Performance Bond equal to 100% of the successful bid, and a Payment (Labor and Materials) Bond equal to 100% of the successful bid, prior to execution of the Contract. All bonds are to be secured from a surety that meets all of the State of California bonding requirements, as defined in Code of Civil Procedure Section 995.120, and is admitted by the State of California.

Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22300, the successful bidder may substitute certain securities for funds withheld by City to ensure performance under the Contract.

The Work is subject to the payment of not less than prevailing wages pursuant to Chapter 1 (beginning at Section 1720 et seq.) of Part 7 of Division 2 of the California Labor Code, as well as Title 8, Section 16000 et seq. of the California Code of Regulations (“Prevailing Wage Laws”). The Director of the Department of Industrial Relations (“DIR”) has determined the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of worker needed to execute the Contract which will be awarded to the successful bidder, copies of which are on file and will be made available to any interested party upon request at Owners office or online at http://www.dir.ca.gov/dlsr. A copy of these rates shall be posted by the successful bidder at the Project site.

Pursuant to SB 854, which amended the Prevailing Wage Laws, this Contract is subject to compliance monitoring and enforcement by the DIR. Beginning March 1, 2015, with very limited exceptions no contractor or subcontractor may be listed on a bid proposal for this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. Beginning April 1, 2015, no contractor or subcontractor may be awarded this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. The DIR registration number for each contractor and subcontractor must be identified on the bid proposal - failure to identify this number could result in the bid being rejected as nonresponsive. It is each bidder’s responsibility to ensure that they have fully complied with SB 854. The City will report all necessary contracts to the DIR as required by the Prevailing Wage Laws.

The successful bidder and their subcontractor(s) shall comply with all applicable Prevailing Wage Laws, which include, but are not limited to the payment of not less than the required prevailing rates to all workers employed by them in the execution of the Contract, the employment of apprentices, the hours of labor, the payment of overtime, and the debarment of contractors and subcontractors. The successful bidder and all subcontractor(s) under him shall also be responsible for any and all violations and fines imposed on them pursuant to the Prevailing Wage Laws.

Before the Contract is awarded, the successful bidder shall be a licensed contractor pursuant to the Business and Professions Code and shall be licensed in the following appropriate classification(s) of contractor’s license(s), for the work bid upon, and must maintain the license(s) throughout the duration of the Contract: a valid Class ‘A’ General Engineering Contractor.

The successful bidder must fully comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations in furnishing or using equipment and/or providing services, including, but not limited to, emissions limits and permitting requirements imposed by the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD) and/or California Air Resources Board (CARB). Although the SCAQMD and CARB limits and requirements are broader, the successful bidder shall specifically be aware of their application to “portable equipment”, which definition is considered by SCAQMD and CARB to include any item of equipment with a fuelpowered engine. The successful bidder will be required to indemnify City against any fines or penalties imposed by SCAQMD, CARB, or any other governmental or regulatory agency for violations of applicable laws, rules and/or regulations by the successful bidder, its subcontractors, or others for whom the successful bidder is responsible under its indemnity obligations.

Award of Contract: The City shall award the Contract for the Project to the lowest responsive, responsible bidder as determined from the lowest total for the summation of the Base Bid Schedule A alone. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bids or in the bidding process.
