MOURNERS PAY TRIBUTE AS SEN. DIANNE FEINSTEIN IS LAID TO REST

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mourners streamed into San Francisco City Hall on Wednesday to pay their respects to the late U.S. Sen. Dianne Feinstein, honoring her as fearless, smart and the glue who kept the city together after two political assassinations that catapulted her into the mayor's office and the national spotlight.

"SHE wasn't afraid to do a man's job. She wasn't afraid to be a senator. She wasn't afraid to go after what she wanted," said Lawanda Carter, 48, of San Francisco. "And that's encouragement for us women now to have courage."

Carter was among the scores of everyday San Franciscans and political leaders alike who brought flowers, bowed their heads or clasped their hands in prayer as they stood before Feinstein's casket, which was draped in an American flag and on display behind velvet ropes. Many said they had never met Feinstein, but wanted to honor an indefatigable public servant who fought to level the playing field for women, members of the LGBTQ community and racial minorities.

She was San Francisco's first female mayor and one of California's first two women U.S. senators, a job she first won alongside Barbara Boxer in 1992, dubbed the " Year of the Woman." Former U.S. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, also of San Francisco, and Mayor London Breed were among the officials who paid their respects.

Kaiser Health Care Workers Begin Three-Day Strike

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - Thousands of Kaiser Permanente health care workers in Southern California and beyond hit the picket lines Wednesday to begin a planned three-day strike that their union dubbed the largest action of its type in U.S. history, while Kaiser officials insisted progress was made in 11th-hour contract negotiations.

The strike began at 6 a.m. at Kaiser facilities across California, but picketing began three hours earlier at East Coast locations.

An estimated 75,000 Kaiser workers were taking part in the strike, according to the Coalition of Kaiser Permanente Unions. In addition to California, picketing took place in Colorado, Washington, Oregon, Virginia and Washington, D.C.

Ex-Texas Sheriff's Corporal Pleads Not Guilty in Riverside Fatal Hit/Run

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - A former Texas sheriff's corporal accused of driving drunk and causing a hit-and-run in Riverside that killed a man who was trying to put gas in his pickup on the shoulder of Interstate 215 pleaded not guilty Monday to a murder charge.

Bexar County Texas Sheriff's Office

GIOVANNI CEJA, 31, is charged with second-degree murder and hit-and- run causing death for the crash that occurred around 1:45 a.m. Aug. 7 on the southbound Moreno Valley (215) Freeway south of state Route 91.

According to investigators, 38-year-old Gilberto Sotelo of Lake Elsinore was putting gasoline into his disabled Chevrolet Silverado on the right shoulder when a Honda Ridgeline struck him and the Chevrolet.

Sotelo was pronounced dead at the scene by emergency personnel.

The driver who struck him left the scene and continued southbound on I- 215, CHP officials said.

On Aug. 9, the Honda the suspect was driving was found at a repair facility in Riverside, and was taken into CHP evidence.

Ceja was a detention corporal with the Bexar County Sheriff's Department, but he resigned upon his arrest, which was made by his own agency about a week after the crash, Sheriff Javier Salazar told reporters in Texas. He said Ceja was vacationing in California and had borrowed a vehicle from a relative when the crash occurred, adding that Ceja drank "a significant amount of alcohol" before getting behind the wheel.

Ceja was extradited to Riverside County and booked into the Robert Presley Detention Center on Aug. 27.

New Bill Strengthens Patient's Rights in Physician Disputes

By Don Ray

Californians who encounter problems with licensed physicians will soon face fewer barriers and gain better access to the Medical Board's information and investigative procedures.

GOVERNOR Gavin Newsom signed into law last week a bill that its author, State Senator Richard D. Roth (D) of Riverside says will "promote patient rights and improve transparency and efficiencies" at the Medical Board of California.

"We're listening," Roth said. "We hear you. We're empowering you and we're giving you a stronger voice in this process.

"This legislation contains key transparency and accountability reforms that protect and empower patients, guarantee swifter patient-centric action for physicians facing discipline, and provide the Medical board with added revenue to bring it back from the fiscal cliff it has been hanging from, for years."

Roth praised the governor for signing into law what he calls "substantial legislation."

The bill will create a Complaint Liaison Unit at the Medical Board that will better deal with members of the public who are unhappy with the conduct of their physicians.

Roth says the Complaint Liaison Unit personnel will coordinate and support public outreach activities to "improve the public's understanding of the Medical Board's enforcement process."

The new law also requires, for the first time, the Medical Board investigators interview the complainant before they close the case. Furthermore, it requires the Medical Board to consider the complainant's statement when it makes a final disciplinary decision.

The legislation authorizes the Medical Board to revoke the license of any physician that a court convicts of "a serious felony," including selling or transferring fentanyl as part of his or her practice. And, it adds additional acts to its list of "unprofessional conduct" that could warrant discipline.

They include a physician suggesting to complaining patients that they rescind their consent to release their medical records to the Medical Board or its investigators, as well as "dissuading, intimidating or tampering" with anyone who is reporting or testifying against a physician.

The law also broadens the Medical Board's jurisdiction regarding pretrial and settlement processes, physician's probation timeframes and the keeping of patients' records.

Finally, the legislation increases physician license fees by nearly a third.

Kaiser Strike

The coalition has been pushing for higher wages commensurate with inflation, increased staffing and working conditions. The unions have also repeatedly accused Kaiser of bad faith negotiating, an allegation Kaiser has denied.

"At issue, healthcare workers say, are a series of unfair labor practices related to bargaining in bad faith, along with simmering staff concerns related to unsafe staffing levels that can lead to dangerously long wait times, mistaken diagnosis, and neglect," according to a statement from the Coalition of Kaiser Permanente Unions. "After years of the COVID pandemic and chronic understaffing, Kaiser healthcare workers are calling on management to provide safe staffing levels."

In a statement released by the union Monday, Jessica Cruz, a licensed vocational nurse at Kaiser Los Angeles Medical Center, said there is a "short- staffing crisis" and Kaiser.

"I see my patients' frustrations when I have to rush them and hurry on to my next patient," she said. "That's not the care I want to give. We're burning ourselves out trying to do the jobs of two or three people, and our patients suffer when they can't get the care they need due to Kaiser's short-staffing."

The union has also accused Kaiser of cutting performance bonuses for employees, failing to protect employees against subcontracting and offering wages that fail to keep pace with inflation -- all issues that Kaiser has refuted.

The workers' contract expired Saturday, but bargaining continued over the weekend and again Monday, Tuesday and through the night into Wednesday.

"After six months of bargaining with the Coalition of Kaiser Permanente Unions, including a marathon effort that went through last night and into today (Wednesday), our bargaining sessions unfortunately ended without a settlement, and the Coalition strikes began," according to a Kaiser statement released Wednesday afternoon.

Kaiser officials said the marathon bargaining sessions did result in a "number of tentative agreements," and they insisted the health care system's latest offers address the union's demands. Kaiser officials said the company is offering:

-- "across-the-board" wage increases in all markets over four years;

-- an improved Performance Sharing Plan with the potential for payouts of up to $3,750;

-- minimum wages of $23 an hour in California and $21 an hour in other markets; and

-- renewal of tuition assistance and training programs.

"We remain committed to reaching a new agreement that continues to provide our employees with market-leading wages, excellent benefits, generous retirement income plans, and valuable professional development opportunities," according to Kaiser.

The company also affirmed its commitment to hiring, confirming that it has already reached a goal of hiring 10,000 new union-represented employees before the end of the year.

"In total over the past two years, Kaiser Permanente has hired more than 50,000 people to join our teams," according to the company.

Earlier Wednesday, Kaiser officials issued a statement saying that rising inflation has led to a "massive surge" in expenses, and has made it tough for the company to balance taking care of its employees with being affordable to patients.

"As noted in a recent report from the American Hospital Association, rising inflation has led to health care experiencing a `massive surge' in expenses driven by drugs and supplies, equipment shortages, staffing costs and supply chain disruptions," Kaiser officials said. "At the same time, in the wake of the pandemic, demand for care has increased dramatically, as people come in for care that has been delayed. Kaiser Permanente is not immune to these inflationary pressures."

Among the workers involved in the strike are licensed vocational nurses, emergency department technicians, radiology technicians, ultrasound sonographers, teleservice representatives, respiratory therapists, X-ray technicians, certified nursing assistants, dietary services, behavioral health workers, surgical technicians, pharmacy technicians, transporters, home health aides, phlebotomists and medical assistants, union officials said.

Board OKs Contract with New Vendor for Elections, Despite Reservations

By PAUL J. YOUNG
City News Service

RIVERSIDE - The Board of Supervisors Tuesday signed off on a $3 million-a-year contract with a ballot printing firm for upcoming elections in Riverside County, though the chairman and one other supervisor hesitated in supporting the agreement based on another vendor's complaints about actions by the now-former registrar of voters.

"There are some real discrepancies," Supervisor Karen Spiegel said prior to the 5-0 vote in favor of the county contract with Porterville-based ProVote Solutions. "I am not confident this was a fair deal."

Jim Suver, spokesman for Phoenix-based Runbeck Election Services, appeared before the board to request that the county continue an extension agreement for election services through June 2024. Runbeck had been under contract with the Office of the Registrar of Voters since 2018.

"We have been a stalwart vendor. But we shared some not-so-favorable information about (the former registrar)," Suver said, referring to an independent audit conducted earlier this year by former Orange County Registrar of Voters Neal Kelley.

In a letter submitted to board Chairman Kevin Jeffries on Sept. 21, Runbeck expressed concerns that former Registrar of Voters Rebecca Spencer engaged in "contract retaliation" after the company cooperated with Kelley, turning over documents that he had requested.

"In multiple instances in 2022, the registrar attempted to use Runbeck as a shield to cover up certain mistakes that she had caused," according to the company.

Kelley's audit, which ran from March to July at a cost of $26,750 to the county, was intended to identify deficiencies in the registrar's office to which corrective measures could be applied to improve operations.

The probe resulted in multiple findings pointing to the need for change.

Kelley wrote that the "entire process of ballot material preparation, production and proofing ... should be modernized" because "Riverside County is consistently the last in the state among medium- and large-sized counties" to distribute information ahead of statutory deadlines.

The audit found communication breakdowns were a routine problem in the Office of the Registrar of Voters and that sound financial practices were a concern.

"While I was conducting my review, (ROV staff) were still working on billing from the November 2022 general election," Kelley wrote.

He found that Spencer, who was appointed to the top spot in 2014, had been exceedingly involved in minute details connected to all operations, failing to delegate many tasks.

"My observations are that she has taken these tasks on because she either dealt with them directly during her previous roles in the department, or she has encountered errors along the way," Kelley said.

"She started with the ROV as a temporary employee during high school and moved through multiple positions over the years," he added. "This is both positive and negative, depending on the cycle of the operation."

The office has been plagued with difficulties going back well over a decade, under different leadership, running budget deficits and experiencing challenges reporting election results. Spencer was an assistant to Barbara Dunmore, who was fired in November 2010 following a clash with the board over a series of technical foul-ups during the general election that year.

Today in History

By the Associated Press

Today's Highlight in History: On October 6, 1979, Pope John Paul II, on a week-long U.S. tour, became the first pontiff to visit the White House, where he was received by President Jimmy Carter. In addressing the 10,000 guests on the South Lawn, the Pope remarked, "I wish to commend those in public authority and all the people of the United States for having given, from the very beginning of the existence of the nation, a special place to some of the most important concerns of the common good."

ON THIS DATE:

In 1536, English theologian and scholar William Tyndale, who was the first to translate the Bible into Early Modern English, was executed for heresy.

In 1927, the era of talking pictures arrived with the opening of "The Jazz Singer" starring Al Jolson, a feature containing both silent and sound- synchronized sequences.

In 1928, Chiang Kai-shek became president of China.

In 1939, in a speech to the Reichstag, German Chancellor Adolf Hitler spoke of his plans to reorder the ethnic layout of Europe __ a plan that would entail settling the "Jewish problem."

In 1973, war erupted in the Middle East as Egypt and Syria launched a surprise attack on Israel during the Yom Kippur holiday, starting a nearly three-week conflict that would become known as the Yom Kippur War.

In 1976, President Gerald R. Ford, in his second presidential debate with Democrat Jimmy Carter, asserted that there was "no Soviet domination of eastern Europe."

In 1981, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat was shot to death by extremists while reviewing a military parade.

In 2003, American Paul Lauterbur and Briton Peter Mansfield won the Nobel Prize for medicine for discoveries that led to magnetic resonance imaging.

In 2010, the social networking photo app Instagram was launched by Kevin Systrom and Mike Krieger.

In 2014, the Supreme Court unexpectedly cleared the way for a dramatic expansion of gay marriage in the United States as it rejected appeals from five states seeking to preserve their bans, effectively making such marriages legal in 30 states.

In 2017, the board of directors of The Weinstein Co. said movie mogul Harvey Weinstein was on indefinite leave from the company he founded amid an internal investigation into sexual misconduct allegations against him.

In 2018, in the narrowest Senate confirmation of a Supreme Court justice in nearly a century and a half, Brett Kavanaugh was confirmed by a 50-48 vote; he was sworn in hours later.

In 2020, President Donald Trump, recovering from COVID-19, tweeted his eagerness to return to the campaign trail and said he still planned to attend an upcoming debate with Democrat Joe Biden in Miami; Biden said there should be no debate as long as Trump remained COVID positive. (The debate would be canceled.).

In 2022, a fired police officer facing a drug charge burst into a daycare center in Thailand, killing 24 children, most of them preschoolers, and then continued his rampage running others over with his truck and shooting still others. Thirty-six were killed before taking his own life, in the deadliest rampage in the nation's history.

On Friday, the Executive Office announced Spencer had resigned after being placed on paid administrative leave two weeks earlier. The county and Spencer "entered into a settlement agreement whereby the parties mutually agree that this action is done solely for the purposes of compromise and to eliminate the burden and expense of any litigation," according to an Executive Office statement.

The agreement specifies a $799,591 payout to Spencer.

Jeffries agreed with Runbeck that "they were not at fault for what occurred" on Spencer's watch.

"They have the documentation to back up their claims," he said, asking county Chief Operating Officer Juan Perez whether it was really necessary to drop an extension to the Runbeck contract in preference to a new five-year agreement with ProVote.

Perez replied that Runbeck competed with ProVote and another vendor, and the contract vetting process in August involved six people -- two of whom were Registrar of Voters' employees -- who engaged in "blind scoring" to determine the best fit for the county going forward.

"The process was followed scrupulously," he said. "We stand behind the work that was done. It was an independent evaluation (of prospective vendors)."

Jeffries said he preferred not "to be in the business of second- guessing the process, if done fairly and ethically."

"I feel that the current company (Runbeck) was wronged on so many levels, doing everything they were told to do," the chair said. "Now they're hung out to dry. But we're trying to clean the slate and start fresh."

Spiegel said her "first instinct is to vote no" on the compact with ProVote. But she worried that going against the Executive Office's recommendation would jeopardize operations in an already-troubled department.

She and Jeffries were assuaged after learning the ProVote agreement could be canceled at any time.

Assistant Registrar Art Tinoco has been appointed interim registrar while a recruitment campaign is conducted to find a new chief.

Senate Transition

Feinstein spent much of her career in the U.S. Senate but will be known as the forever mayor of San Francisco, a role she inherited in tragedy. She was president of the Board of Supervisors in November 1978 when a former supervisor assassinated Mayor George Moscone and Supervisor Harvey Milk, the city's first openly gay supervisor, at City Hall.

Feinstein, who found Milk's body, became acting mayor and won election twice to serve as mayor until 1988.

Georgia Otterson, 76, a health care administrator, said Feinstein wasn't as politically liberal as she would have liked, but the late mayor earned her respect with how she kept the heartbroken city together.

"We were all mourning together, holding candles. If memory serves me, Joan Baez sang," Otterson said of an impromptu march that night from the historically gay Castro District to City Hall. "And she held us up."

As a centrist Democrat, she was criticized by some more liberal voters, including for her longtime support for the death penalty, and as the country became more polarized, for her collegial relationship with Republicans. But the straight, white woman largely earned the gratitude of a city that celebrates its racial and sexual diversity.

She steered San Francisco through the HIV and AIDS crisis, bringing attention to an epidemic ignored by President Ronald Reagan. She also secured federal and private funding to save the city's iconic cable cars from death by deterioration.

Feinstein led the city as it played host to the Democratic National Convention in 1984. Another San Francisco tradition — "Fleet Week" — was started by Feinstein in 1981, and this year's annual celebration of air shows, naval ships and military bands is dedicated to her.

Breed recalled looking up to Feinstein when she was a Black kid growing up in public housing and playing the French horn in a middle school band that performed regularly at mayoral events.

"She was so proud of us and she said so, and she took the time to talk to us, express how amazing we were and to remind us that we were her band," Breed said at a news conference the day after Feinstein's death.

> She championed and fought for the rights of so many people, Donovan said. I'm so grateful. And I really just wanted her family to know how much she meant to me.

Mourners Wednesday expressed their pride in Feinstein.

"She kept moving on up. I was proud of her, very proud of her," said Dorothy Hudson, 81, a retired federal government employee. "She was very kind, very smart. She opened doors up to let people know, 'You can do it.'"

San Francisco native Cari Donovan placed a bouquet of red and pink lilies and daisies on the floor before the casket. She lingered, crying quietly over a woman she never knew but who was so important to her life.

"She championed and fought for the rights of so many people," Donovan said. "I'm so grateful. And I really just wanted her family to know how much she meant to me."

The social worker said she talked to her 28-year-old daughter about the battles Feinstein fought so that younger generations of women could dream bigger. "She was a lioness."

While Feinstein's career sent her to Washington, she remained deeply involved in the affairs of San Francisco, the city where she was born and raised. She often called her successors — including Gov. Gavin Newsom — to complain about potholes or trash and to offer advice and encouragement.

John Konstin Sr., owner of John's Grill, a favorite downtown tourist destination and watering hole for city politicians, recalled Feinstein ordering potholes filled, trees trimmed and ugly scaffolding brought down before San Francisco hosted the 1984 Democratic convention.

"She asked, 'How long has this scaffolding been up?' And my dad said 'Maybe 10 years,' and the next day it came down," said Konstin, 59. "It was half a block of scaffolding."

The restaurant, which is celebrating its 115th anniversary Wednesday, honored Feinstein with flowers beneath a portrait of her that hangs on a wall.

Feinstein's body will remained in City Hall through the evening and a memorial service is scheduled Thursday outside the building.

Speakers will include Vice President Kamala Harris, U.S. Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer of New York and Feinstein's granddaughter Eileen Mariano. President Joe Biden will deliver remarks by recorded video.

Among the first to say goodbye Wednesday were Jose Romero Cooper and Mark Cooper. The married couple waited in line before doors opened to the public.

"What I'm gonna say is: 'Thank you for everything, for being strong,'" said Romero Cooper, 61, a scarf of the American flag draped around his neck.

He stood before the casket, genuflected, and crossed himself, then walked away with tears streaming down his face.

Surprise Choice Laphonza Butler Sworn in as New U.S. Senator from California

APPOINTED BY GOV. NEWSOM IN WAKE OF FEINSTEIN PASSING

BY MARY CLARE JALONICK AND MICHAEL R. BLOOD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former union leader and Democratic insider Laphonza Butler was sworn in as the newest member of the Senate on Tuesday, replacing California Sen. Dianne Feinstein after her death and becoming only the third Black female senator in history.

Butler was appointed by California Gov. Gavin Newsom on Sunday, just two days after Feinstein died at her home in Washington. Butler is a longtime fundraiser and strategist in the state's Democratic circles and was the head of Emily's List, a national organization that raises money for women candidates who support abortion rights.

The new senator was sworn in by Vice President Kamala Harris, who served as the second Black female senator until she resigned in 2021 to join President Joe Biden in the White House. The first was Democratic Sen. Carol Moseley Braun of Illinois, who served one term in the 1990s.

With dozens of supporters and family members looking down from the gallery, Butler smiled broadly as she walked down the center aisle of the Senate alongside Democratic Sen. Alex Padilla of California and Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer. After Harris administered the oath of office, members of the Senate from both parties crowded around her to shake her hand.

Schumer, D-N.Y., said that "today, the Senate takes another step towards fully reflecting our vibrant democracy."

He said Butler has "dedicated her entire career to fighting for others - fighting for women, fighting for working families and fighting for the cause of justice."

After she was sworn in, Biden called her to congratulate her, the White House said.

The Congressional Black Caucus also held a ceremonial swearing-in for Butler. "Her background and years of experience will bring a much-needed perspective to the Senate, which currently does not have any Black women," CBC Chairman Steven Horsford, D-Nev., said in a statement after she was appointed.

Butler is also the first openly LGBTQ+ senator from California.

Though she has never held elective office, Newsom praised her "deep knowledge" of the legislative process and said she was the kind of candidate he would build "if I had to literally design from my imagination."

"She's the only choice," Newsom added.

Butler is well known inside California's Democratic party apparatus. Her credentials include working for nearly two years with a consulting firm tied closely to Newsom and founded by his top political lieutenants. She also served as a senior adviser to Harris' 2020 presidential campaign.

It is unclear if Butler will run to hold the seat when Feinstein's term ends next year. A competitive race for Feinstein's seat is already underway among three prominent House Democrats, Reps. Katie Porter, Adam Schiff and Barbara Lee, who is Black. The governor has said he didn't want to tip the scales in the 2024 race by choosing among those candidates.

Newsom said he told Butler to "do what you think is best for you and the state of California, and you make that judgment completely independent of any expectations from me."

Butler, 44, comes from a working-class family. Her father, a small-business owner, died from a terminal illness when she was 16. Her mother worked as a classroom aide, a home care provider, a security guard and a bookkeeper while caring for Butler and her two siblings, the governor's office said. She was elected president of the state's largest labor union in the early 2010s, back when the nation was reeling from the Great Recession.

Butler has also worked for corporate clients, including Airbnb and Uber.

In a statement released by Emily's List after her appointment, Butler said she was honored and ready to get to work.

"For women and girls, for workers and unions, for struggling parents waiting for our leaders to bring opportunity back to their homes, for all of California, I'm ready to serve."

Newsom, who was elected governor in 2018, has now chosen both of the state's U.S. senators. The selection of Butler bears resemblance to the last time, when he tapped his close friend and confidant Padilla for Harris' seat when she resigned in 2021.

Feinstein, who died after months of declining health, had held the seat since 1992, when she was elected alongside California Sen. Barbara Boxer, Moseley Braun and others in what became known as "the year of the woman." She was a giant in California politics, having been the first female mayor of San Francisco and a force in the state's Democratic circles.

In the Senate, Feinstein was the first female chairwoman of the Senate Intelligence Committee and the first female top Democrat on the Senate Judiciary Committee. Her Senate colleagues gathered on the floor Friday to remember her impact and her personal friendships.

When Newsom announced Butler as his pick, he said the priorities Feinstein fought for in Congress — reproductive freedom, equal protection and safety from gun violence — were under assault in the nation.

"Laphonza will carry the baton left by Sen. Feinstein (and) continue to break glass ceilings and fight for all Californians in Washington D.C.," Newsom said.

ROMAN SOLDIER DINNER PARTY

a taste of history

By Joanna Barajas

This week's dish is a flatbread that has been around since the Roman Empire.

LEGEND has it it's what kept soldiers fed during battle. They'd take chickpea flour, spread it over their shield and then throw over the fire. And once it became pancake-like it was ready to eat.

But the times of soldiers and battles are history. And the flatbread has become so common you can find it all over the Italian Riviera.

If you want a taste of history here's the simple recipe:

Socca (Farinata)

Ingredients (makes 4 to 6 appetizer servings):

- 1 cup chickpea flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 4 to 6 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- ½ large onion, thinly sliced
- 2 teaspoons chopped fresh rosemary

Directions:

1. Heat the oven to 450 F. Place a well-seasoned 9-inch cast-iron or nonstick 12-inch pizza pan in the oven.

2. Put the chickpea flour in a bowl; add the salt and pepper. Slowly add 1 cup lukewarm water, whisking to eliminate lumps. Stir in 2 tablespoons of olive oil. Cover and let sit at least 1 hour or up to 12 hours. I did 1 hour. The batter should be about the consistency of heavy cream.

3. Remove the pan from the oven carefully, pour 2 tablespoons of the oil into it and swirl. Add the onions, return the pan to the oven and cook, stirring once or twice, until they're well browned, about 5 min. Stir in the rosemary. Place the onions and rosemary into the batter, then immediately pour the batter into the pan.

4. Bake for 10 to 15 minutes, or until the pancake is firm and the edges set.

5. Heat the broiler and brush the top of the pancake with 1 or 2 tablespoons of oil if it looks dry. Set the pancake a few inches away from the broiler and cook just long enough to brown it in some spots.

6. Cut it into wedges and serve hot or warm. I served it with salad on top. Make it fancy with a glass of rosé.

ROASTED

BUTTERNUT SQUASH AND CARROT SOUP

Connor Cooks

By Connor Forbes

It's soup season! At least that is what the food creators on Instagram have been telling me. So inspired to make soup, and with a butternut squash on my counter and carrots needing to get used in my fridge I set out on a soup adventure. Well adventure isn't really accurate. I had a good idea of what I was getting into, and it was more like a walk in the park than full blown adventure.

But non the less, my butternut squash loving wife was super stoked to be eating a delicious and warming bowl of this soup. Sweet, earthy, nutty and packed with savory notes, this soup is sure to have you taking a deep breath and exhaling faaaaallllllll. Let's make some soup!

Ingredients

- 1 butternut squash - peeled, deseeded, and cubed
- 6 carrots – peeled and thickly cut
- ½ onion, sliced
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 2 cups ounces of vegetable stock
- Sprig of rosemary
- 6 cloves of garlic
- 1 tsp salt
- 1 tsp pepper

To Make

Preheat your oven to 400°. On a baking pan, spread the carrots, butternut squash and onion. Cover with the olive oil. Bake in the oven for 30 minutes or until everything is soft and has a nice browning to it. In a Dutch oven or pot on the stove, over medium low heat, combine the roasted squash, carrot, and onion with the vegetable stock, rosemary, garlic and salt and pepper and simmer for 45 minutes to 1 hour. Blend (an immersion blender comes in handy here but a regular blender works too, just be careful the soup will be very HOT). Serve with Greek yogurt, paprika, crushed walnuts, and/or green onion. EAT!

JOSHUA TREE (CNS) - The 21st annual fall Joshua Tree Music Festival will get underway Thursday at the Joshua Tree Lake Campground, featuring workshops, mindfulness activities and over 30 artists.

Joshua Tree Music Festival

"Ladama" performs in Spanish, Portuguese and English, combining traditional roots music and pop sounds from their home countries, Venezuela, Brazil, Colombia and the U.S. They perform Sunday at 2:30 pm.

MUSIC will get underway at 8 p.m. Thursday, at 10:30 a.m. Friday, and at 10 a.m. Saturday and Sunday. It will continue until past midnight each day except for Sunday, when the festival is set to close out with a performance at 7:30 p.m. from Father Taj.

"Music acts alternate between two stages throughout the weekend so music is continuous and you don't miss any bands," organizers wrote. "No running around trying to figure out who to see when."

Thursday's performances will get underway with Novalima, who will be followed by DJ Dragonfly. Wrecka will continue the party at 1:30 a.m. and Ian Winters at 3:15 a.m.

Wildlife Freeway will pick up performances again on Friday and will be followed by Dom Jones, Trishes, Davis, Rosa Pullman, Rags Rosenberg, Groove with Alyssa Decaro, Lisa Pimienta, High Step Society, and Q. Varo. The GetDown and Alcazar will continue the night at 1:30 a.m.

Saturday's performances include NYChillharmonic, Lisa Sanders and Brown Sugar, Diggin Dirt, Madalitso, Nicky Genesis, Lettuce, Baila Nova, Apollo Bebop and Adam Deitch.

Before Father Taj closes out the festival, attendees can also expect to see Las Tias, Ryan Heffington, Kerala Dust, Ron Artis II, Ladama, Shabaz, and TV Broken 3rd Eye Open featuring Katie Skene.

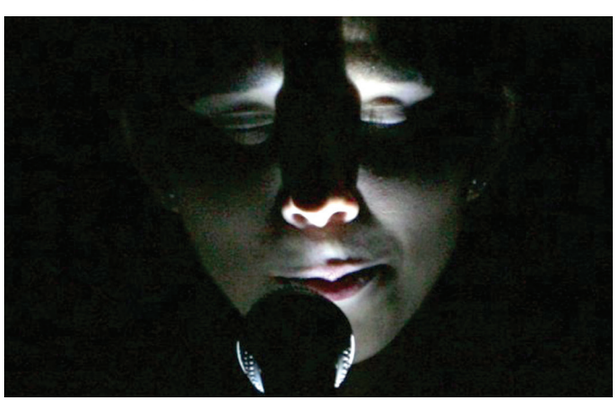

The festival will also feature The Positive Vibration Station for attendees to practice breathing, yoga and movement; a "Sanctuary" to have mindfulness discussions, tell stories and attend daily AA meetings; a queer salon with art, performances, a skills-share, racial justice talk and resources; and an "Astro Mojo Dojo," which is a sober space for reflection, connection and tea ceremonies.

In an effort to encourage families to attend the festival with their kids, the venue also offers a Kidsville, which has rotating interactive activities, special pop-up performances and playshops, festival officials said.

Riverside's Fright Night Tours Return for Halloween

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - Organizers of the annual ``Ghost Walk Riverside" announced today that the spine-tingling tours will return about a week prior to Halloween, centered in a school adjacent to the city's oldest Catholic church.

``This tantalizing adventure through the corridors of St. Francis de Sales Catholic School is set to be a whimsical and fantastic adventure that's perfect for all ages," according to the California Riverside Ballet, which produces the Ghost Walk events to raise money for the nonprofit.

The campus is an adjunct of St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church, which dates back to 1886, when it was established as a mission of the Diocese of Monterey-Los Angeles.

Tours are scheduled on a rotating basis during the nights of Oct. 20 and 21.

``Within the school courtyard, patrons will be treated to the sounds and sights of Halloween, including the kids' carnival, food & vendor court and beer garden," according to the CRB. ``Within the walls, a thrilling scene will unfold."

This year's themes include ``Mysteries in the Moonlights," ``Eerie Enchantments" and ``Shadows & Secrets."

Last year's tours were located in White Park downtown, and previously they were held in multiple locations surrounding the Mission Inn Hotel & Spa.

High school students perform re-enactments and take on the roles of the goblins, apparitions, victims, malefactors and other Halloweenish figures, who populate the tours.

Proceeds from ticket sales directly benefit the ballet.

More information regarding tickets and tour times is available at http://crballet.com/site/ghost-walk/.

PAW PATROL

THE MIGHTY MOVIE

By Bob Garver

Standard disclaimer for any and all "PAW Patrol" media: I am not the target audience for "PAW Patrol." The target audience for "PAW Patrol" is young children and only young children.

THIS is not a "fun for all ages" property that adults can enjoy as much as kids. At best, adults watching with kids can enjoy how much their kids enjoy it. But adults will not enjoy it for themselves. I saw the movie by myself, and did not enjoy it myself. But there were plenty of kids in the theater and I enjoyed how much they enjoyed it.

The PAW Patrol are an animated team of talking dogs that live to protect Adventure City. Under the supervision of human leader Ryder (Finn Lee-Epp), the Patrol consists of police officer Chase (Christian Covery), firefighter Marshall (Christian Corrao), water rescuer Zuma (Nylan Parthipan), handydog Rocky (Callum Shoniker), builder/demolisher Rubble (Luxton Handspiker), pilot Skye (Mckenna Grace), and flexible Liberty (Marsai Martin). The film introduces new characters in the form of a set of Junior Patrollers: Tot (Brice Gonzalez), Nano (Alan Kim), and Mini (North West, whose brother Saint has a small part as a "Meteor Man," and whose mother Kim Kardashian cameos as a lazy poodle).

Evil (don't call her "mad") scientist Victoria Vance (Taraji P. Henson) carries out a plan to harness the power of a passing meteor. Unfortunately the plan backfires and the PAW Patrol have to save all of Adventure City from the meteor that Vance brings to Earth. The PAW Patrol takes possession of the meteor, while Vance goes to prison, where her cellmate is none other than disgraced former mayor Humdinger (Ron Pardo). The two team up to break out, harness the power of more meteors, and defeat the PAW Patrol.

It turns out that the meteor contains crystals that dole out superpowers. Chase gains super-speed, Marshall can shoot fireballs, Zuma can turn into water, Rocky gains magnetism, Rubble can turn into a wrecking ball, and Skye can fly… without her jet. The team decides that with these great powers comes a need for new costumes, new vehicles, and a new name – The Mighty Pups. Parents will groan during this portion of the movie, because they know that the Mighty Pups will become a line of toys that their kids will want them to buy. The movie itself even jokes about this ploy, not that joking about it makes it okay.

You may have noticed that I didn't mention the superpower gained by Liberty. As the flexible member of the team, she doesn't really have a theme and thus her power is not readily apparent. She's forced to stay back and train the Junior Patrollers while the others are out having adventures. That's one of two subplots given to individual members of the team, the other being Skye's struggle with insecurity over her size. She will, of course, eventually learn to take the team's motto of "No job is too big, no pup is too small" to heart, but not before she makes a mess of things with Vance and Humdinger. Her journey could be boring and mopey, and to a degree it is, but talented actress Grace gives her performance enough gravity that I didn't mind the emotional moments.

Occasional mushy stuff aside, "PAW Patrol: The Mighty Movie" is mostly fun and exciting, at least by PAW Patrol standards. Parents and even older kids will be wishing the movie could pick up the pace a little, but again, it's aiming for a very young audience that might feel left behind by a quicker pace. For the kids at my screening, the movie was just right for them, and at the end they were cheering and applauding. And that's what really matters.

Grade: B-

"PAW Patrol: The Mighty Movie" is rated PG for mild action/peril. Its running time is 92 minutes.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this internet website http://www.qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-23-959144-AB. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 800-280-2832, or visit this internet website http://www.qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-23-959144-AB to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE OWNEROCCUPANT: Any prospective owneroccupant as defined in Section 2924m of the California Civil Code who is the last and highest bidder at the trustee's sale shall provide the required affidavit or declaration of eligibility to the auctioneer at the trustee's sale or shall have it delivered to QUALITY LOAN SERVICE CORPORATION by 5 p.m. on the next business day following the trustee's sale at the address set forth in the below signature block. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. Any information obtained may be used for that purpose. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (714) 730-2727 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site - www.servicelinkASAP.com - for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case: 149818. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22300, the successful bidder may substitute certain securities for funds withheld by City to ensure his performance under the Contract.

The Work is subject to the payment of not less than prevailing wages pursuant to Chapter 1 (beginning at Section 1720 et seq.) of Part 7 of Division 2 of the California Labor Code, as well as Title 8, Section 16000 et seq. of the California Code of Regulations ("Prevailing Wage Laws"). The Director of the Department of Industrial Relations ("DIR") has determined the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of worker needed to execute the Contract which will be awarded to the successful bidder, copies of which are on file and will be made available to any interested party upon request from the City's Representative or online at http://www.dir.ca.gov/dlsr. A copy of these rates shall be posted by the successful bidder at the job site.

Pursuant to SB 854, which amended the Prevailing Wage Laws, this Contract is subject to compliance monitoring and enforcement by the DIR. Beginning March 1, 2015, with very limited exceptions no contractor or subcontractor may be listed on a bid proposal for this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. Beginning April 1, 2015, no contractor or subcontractor may be awarded this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. The DIR registration number for each contractor and subcontractor must be identified on the bid proposal - failure to identify this number could result in the bid being rejected as nonresponsive. It is each bidder's responsibility to ensure that they have fully complied with SB 854. The City will report all necessary contracts to the DIR as required by the Prevailing Wage Laws.

The successful bidder and all subcontractor(s) under him, shall comply with all applicable Prevailing Wage Laws, which include, but are not limited to the payment of not less than the required prevailing rates to all workers employed by them in the execution of the Contract, the employment of apprentices, the hours of labor, the payment of overtime, and the debarment of contractors and subcontractors. The successful bidder and all subcontractor(s) under him shall also be responsible for any and all violations and fines imposed on them pursuant to the Prevailing Wage Laws.

The successful bidder must fully comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations in furnishing or using equipment and/or providing services, including, but not limited to, emissions limits and permitting requirements imposed by the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD) and/or California Air Resources Board (CARB). Although the SCAQMD and CARB limits and requirements are more broad, the successful bidder shall specifically be aware of their application to "portable equipment", which definition is considered by SCAQMD and CARB to include any item of equipment with a fuelpowered engine. The successful bidder will be required to indemnify City against any fines or penalties imposed by SCAQMD, CARB, or any other governmental or regulatory agency for violations of applicable laws, rules and/or regulations by the successful bidder, its subcontractors, or others for whom the successful bidder is responsible under its indemnity obligations.

Award of Contract: The City shall award the Contract for the Project to the lowest responsive, responsible bidder as determined on the basis of the summation of the Total Base Bid Schedule and the Total Alternate Bid Schedule combined. However, the City may choose to award the Contract on the basis of the base bid alone or the base bid and any selected alternate bid item or combination of selected alternate bid items. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bids or in the bidding process.

CITY OF CORONA
PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT
NOTICE INVITING BIDS

The City of Corona (City) Finance Department, Purchasing Division, will receive sealed bids for the Citywide Parks ADA Improvements – Year 3 Project, Project No. FC-2020-01, NIB 24-008YL, through the City's PlanetBids electronic bidding system no later than 2:00 p.m., November 14, 2023. Bids submitted after this date and time will not be accepted by the electronic bidding system. At said time, it will be bidder's responsibility to log into the PlanetBids system for the City of Corona to view the apparent low bidder for the project. Bids shall be valid for 90 calendar days after the close of bid. Bids must be submitted on the City's Bid Forms.

Prospective Bidders must visit the City's Bids and Requests for Proposals Vendor Portal at https://www.coronaca.gov/iwantto/rfppostslist/ and register as a new vendor in PlanetBids in order to download Contract Documents, including Instructions to Bidders, plans and specifications, and to receive addenda and notifications when issued. Bidders will also submit electronic bids through this website. The City will also make the Contract Documents available for review at one or more plan rooms.

All electronic Bids must be accompanied by a bid security in an amount not less than 10% of the submitted Total Bid Price pursuant to Section 13 Bid Guarantee (Bond) of the Instructions to Bidders.

It shall be Bidder's responsibility to allow sufficient time to complete and submit its bid including all required documentation referred to in the Contract Documents prior to the stated deadline. Electronic bid submission cannot be completed unless bidder properly uploads all required documents. Each bid shall be accompanied by the security referred to in the Contract Documents, the NonCollusion Declaration, the list of proposed subcontractors, and all additional documentation required by the Instructions to Bidders.

Bidders are solely responsible for the "on time" submission of their electronic Bid. The City will only consider Bids from contractors that have transmitted successfully and have been issued a confirmation number with a time stamp from PlanetBids indicating that the Bid was submitted successfully. Transmission of Bids by any other means will not be accepted. Bidders shall be solely responsible for informing themselves with respect to the proper utilization of the online bid management system, for ensuring the capability of their computer system to upload the required documents, and for the stability of their internet service. Failure of the Bidder to successfully submit an electronic Bid shall be the Bidder's sole risk and no relief will be given for late and/or improperly submitted Bids. Bidders experiencing technical difficulties with the bid submission process may contact PlanetBids Support at 818-992-1771. If you continue to have difficulty, call City of Corona Purchasing Department at 951-736-2274. Neither the City, nor PlanetBids, make any guarantee as to the timely availability of assistance, or assurance that any given problem will be resolved by the bid submission date and/or time.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish the City with a Performance Bond equal to 100% of the successful bid, and a Payment (Labor and Materials) Bond equal to 100% of the successful bid, prior to execution of the Contract. All bonds are to be secured from a surety that meets all of the State of California bonding requirements, as defined in Code of Civil Procedure Section 995.120, and is admitted by the State of California. Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22300, the successful bidder may substitute certain securities for funds withheld by City to ensure performance under the Contract.

The Work is subject to the payment of not less than prevailing wages pursuant to Chapter 1 (beginning at Section 1720 et seq.) of Part 7 of Division 2 of the California Labor Code, as well as Title 8, Section 16000 et seq. of the California Code of Regulations ("Prevailing Wage Laws"). The Director of the Department of Industrial Relations ("DIR") has determined the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of worker needed to execute the Contract which will be awarded to the successful bidder, copies of which are on file and will be made available to any interested party upon request at Owners office or online at http://www.dir.ca.gov/dlsr. A copy of these rates shall be posted by the successful bidder at the job site.

Pursuant to SB 854, which amended the Prevailing Wage Laws, this Contract is subject to compliance monitoring and enforcement by the DIR. Beginning March 1, 2015, with very limited exceptions no contractor or subcontractor may be listed on a bid proposal for this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. Beginning April 1, 2015, no contractor or subcontractor may be awarded this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. The DIR registration number for each contractor and subcontractor must be identified on the bid proposal - failure to identify this number could result in the bid being rejected as nonresponsive. It is each bidder's responsibility to ensure that they have fully complied with SB 854. The City will report all necessary contracts to the DIR as required by the Prevailing Wage Laws.

The successful bidder and their subcontractor(s) shall comply with all applicable Prevailing Wage Laws, which include, but are not limited to the payment of not less than the required prevailing rates to all workers employed by them in the execution of the Contract, the employment of apprentices, the hours of labor, the payment of overtime, and the debarment of contractors and subcontractors. The successful bidder and all subcontractor(s) under him shall also be responsible for any and all violations and fines imposed on them pursuant to the Prevailing Wage Laws

Before the Contract is awarded, the successful bidder shall be a licensed contractor pursuant to the Business and Professions Code and shall be licensed in the following appropriate classification(s) of contractor's license(s), for the work bid upon, and must maintain the license(s) throughout the duration of the Contract: a valid Class 'A' General Engineering Contractor license sufficient to cover all of the work to be performed.

The successful bidder must fully comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations in furnishing or using equipment and/or providing services, including, but not limited to, emissions limits and permitting requirements imposed by the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD) and/or California Air Resources Board (CARB). Although the SCAQMD and CARB limits and requirements are broader, the successful bidder shall specifically be aware of their application to "portable equipment", which definition is considered by SCAQMD and CARB to include any item of equipment with a fuelpowered engine. The successful bidder will be required to indemnify City against any fines or penalties imposed by SCAQMD, CARB, or any other governmental or regulatory agency for violations of applicable laws, rules and/or regulations by the successful bidder, its subcontractors, or others for whom the successful bidder is responsible under its indemnity obligations.

Award of Contract: The City shall award the Contract for the Project to the lowest responsive, responsible bidder as determined on the basis of the summation of the Total Base Bid Schedules A through E and the Total Alternate Bid Schedule F combined. However, the City may choose to award the Contract on the basis of the base bid alone or the base bid and any selected alternate bid item or combination of selected alternate bid items. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bids or in the bidding process.
