CALVERT & ROLLINS SET FOR REMATCH, SCHIFF & GARVEY IN SENATE RACE

ROTH APPEARS HEADED TO RUNOFF IN SUPERVISORS RACE

CORONA - California's senior congressman, Republican Ken Calvert, and former federal prosecutor, Democrat Will Rollins are headed for a re-match of their 2022 campaign, which was the closest challenge to the 16-term incumbent since 2008.

POLLS that showed county resident Steve Garvey surging in the crowded U.S. Senate race to fill the seat of the late Sen. Dianne Feinstein, proved accurate. He and Pasadena congressman Adam Schiff are headed to the top-two run-off in November. Schiff is the prohibitive favorite.

In the District One Riverside County Supervisor race to replace retiring Republican Kevin Jeffries, State Sen. Richard Roth a Democrat, appeared headed for the run-off, garnering 34.21% of the primary vote counted to date.

Former Assemblyman Jose Medina, D-Riverside, at 24.52%, longtime civic activist Debbie Walsh at 21.57% and Western Municipal Water District Board of Directors member Gracie Torres at 19.07 were trailing.

With nobody expected to earn 50% of the vote, the top two vote-getters will advance to a November runoff.

In the District 3 Supervisors contest, incumbent Democrat, Charles "Chuck" Washington, 71, may avoid a run-off in November, with 54.67% of the vote thus far.

Murrieta Mayor Jonathan Ingram, 58, held 25.38%, while former Cudahy Mayor and Temecula resident, Jack M. Guerrero, was at 19.94% of the ballots counted.

In other congressional races either wholly or partially in Riverside County, Democrat incumbent Mark Takano and Republican David Serpa will face off in November in the 39th District, which includes Perris, Moreno Valley, the City of Riverside, and Jurupa Valley. Takano was leading by a dozen points in the Primary.

"EVERY 15 MINUTES" A SOBERING LESSON FOR NORCO HIGH STUDENTS

REPORTED BY GARY EVANS

Since exposing youth to the horrors of prison life with the "Scared Straight" program in the 1970's, and continuing with "Just Say No," to drugs in the 80's, adults are forever in search of methods to impress upon teens the real-life consequences of making poor decisions.

In the 90's, the "Every 15 Minutes" program was born in Canada, one of many concepts to impress upon teens – and adults – the tragic horrors of drunk driving.

Repeat Offender Charged with Hitting Child in Front of Perris Church, Fleeing

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - A convicted felon accused of running over and seriously injuring a 6-year-old boy while fleeing the scene of an accident outside a Perris church was charged Wednesday with hit-and-run resulting in great bodily injury and other offenses.

LOUIE Ahmad Qutami of Menifee was arrested Friday following a two-week investigation by the Riverside County Sheriff's Department.

Along with the hit-and-run count, Qutami is charged with probation violations and driving on a revoked license stemming from a drunk driving conviction.

The defendant, who is being held without bail at the Byrd Detention Center in Murrieta, was slated to make his initial court appearance Wednesday afternoon at the Riverside Hall of Justice.

The alleged hit-and-run occurred at about 6:30 p.m. on Feb. 14 at a crosswalk fronting St. James Catholic Church in the 300 block of West Third Street, according to sheriff's Sgt. Jeremy Bracey. He said the victim, whose identity was not released, was walking with his family when they started across Third Street at C Street, roughly the same time that Qutami, going southbound in a 2023 Dodge Ram 1500 pickup, allegedly clipped a parked vehicle.

"As the truck began fleeing the collision scene, it then struck the juvenile," Bracey said, alleging that the defendant sped away southbound.

Paramedics reached the location minutes later and found the victim with major life-threatening injuries. He was taken to Riverside University Medical Center in Moreno Valley for treatment and is now in recovery.

His family members weren't hurt.

Deputy Freider Rodriguez said in a bail-setting declaration that over the ensuing days, he was able to confirm to whom the pickup belonged -- Qutami - - and that the probationer was allegedly at the wheel at the time of the hit- and-run.

"Louie has a history of drug use DUIs and hit-and-runs," Rodriguez said. "He has not checked in with his probation officer since 2022, blatantly disregarding the terms of his probation."

The deputy said he discovered Qutami had been in Mexico, undergoing drug rehabilitation, for two years, returning to the United States on Feb. 9, just five days prior to the hit-and-run.

When the lawman tracked down the defendant and his pickup on Hospitality Place in Murrieta last week, "there was a heavy odor of alcohol (permeating) the truck, days after the collision," he said.

"There was also a heavy odor of alcohol coming from (Qutami's) breath," Rodriguez wrote.

He requested that Superior Court Judge Michael Rushton order the defendant held without bail because Qutami's family has properties that might enable them to post a seven-figure bond, and "they will lie and cover for him, not holding him accountable for his actions," the deputy said.

The judge granted the request.

According to court records, among Qutami's prior convictions are reckless driving, hit-and-run resulting in property damage, burglary and auto theft.

Supervisors Cite Concerns Tied to Audit of Environmental Health Agency

RIVERSIDE - Unfavorable findings regarding the Riverside County Department of Environmental Health's management of the county's waste haulers prompted criticism Tuesday from several supervisors, who requested an accelerated audit to ensure changes are made.

Riverside County Dept of Environmental Health

"IT'S disappointing to see the problems they're having with oversight," Supervisor Karen Spiegel said during a hearing on Auditor- Controller Ben Benoit's report on a review of practices and procedures in the Department of Environmental Health.

The Office of the Auditor-Controller concluded an audit last fall that reviewed environmental health's compliance with county policies between July 2021 and October 2023.

Benoit's staff "identified improvement opportunities for internal controls over contract management and monitoring" directly connected to the agency's tracking of billing, revenue collection and related operations by the county's four waste haulers.

"Contract monitoring is a key process in ensuring compliance with a contract's established terms and conditions," according to the audit. "Reviews of waste hauler compliance reports are not documented. Environmental health does not have an established procedure or process for documenting the review of waste hauler compliance."

The 15-page audit further cited concerns about the lack of a "process ... to ensure billings and revenues collected are reported correctly by waste haulers."

"Environmental health does not have policies and procedures ... to require a review of waste hauler billings and revenues to verify for accuracy," the report stated. "Inadequate review can lead to inaccurate financial reporting, potential revenue losses and compromise the integrity of the department's financial controls."

Supervisor Kevin Jeffries pointed to the findings as illustrative of complaints that he has publicly discussed during board sessions, saying the waste haulers are too often given a pass on deficiencies.

"We don't do competitive bidding in Riverside County on our waste haulers or ambulance providers," he said. "There are `evergreen' renewals to contracts. They never die; they just continue. So we don't benefit from competitive bidding. Lacking that, how do we ensure our constituents are receiving the best possible service for the best possible price? That's a policy decision made at this dais."

The supervisor said the audit underscored why in prior years he has voted against price escalator adjustments to the waste haulers' agreements with the county.

"Customers pay to have trash picked up every week, and it's not done," Jeffries said. "And they don't get a discount on their bills. They pay for a service, and it's not provided. We allow our vendors to bill our constituents for services not provided. We have to change that, because we are complicit in ripping off our constituents for services not provided."

The audit concluded with recommendations that the Department of Environmental Health implement immediate changes to the process for documenting waste hauler compliance checks and establish a regular "review process for waste haulers to ensure verification of billings and reported revenues."

The agency's director, Jeff Johnson, responded in writing that the recommendations would be implemented.

However, at Spiegel's urging, Benoit vowed to conduct a follow-up audit this year to double check that the changes had been effected, rather than letting the usual 18-month cycle expire before conducting another audit of the department.

Eastvale Teen Suspected of Perpetrating Fatal Attack at Party

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - Police Tuesday identified a 19-year-old man suspected of fatally stabbing a teenager and wounding another boy during a late-night party brawl in Riverside.

Alexandro Romero of Eastvale was arrested and booked into the Robert Presley Jail in Riverside Sunday on suspicion of murder with malice.

Romero is being held without bail.

Riverside Police Department investigators were expected to file a request with the Riverside County District Attorney's Office for a criminal complaint against the suspect by Wednesday.

The attack happened about 12:20 a.m. Sunday in the 3400 block of Gay Way, near Diana Avenue, on the west end of the city, according to the police department.

Agency spokesman Officer Ryan Railsback said a "house party" was underway when a confrontation erupted, culminating in Romero allegedly stabbing two boys, including a 17-year-old who suffered grave wounds and died at the scene.

He has not been identified.

The other victim, also not identified, suffered non-life-threatening stab wounds and was taken to a Riverside hospital for treatment, according to police.

The specific reasons for the deadly attack were not provided.

In a Rural California Region, a Plan Takes Shape to Provide Shade from Dangerous Heat

By DORANY PINEDA Associated Press

MECCA — When Limba Contreras moved to the desert community of Oasis, California, about 50 years ago, her family relied on a water cooler to keep temperatures inside their home comfortable. Other times, they sprayed each other with a hose outside.

BUT when the heat topped 100 degrees Fahrenheit (about 38 Celsius), the cooler was futile, and the hose was a temporary reprieve.

"We suffered because of the heat and because we didn't have any other resource," said Contreras, a retired elementary school librarian.

Contreras and her family now have air conditioning, but she worries about the lack of shade in playgrounds and fields in the few parks they have.

"In the midst of extreme heat, the children can't play because there's no shade," said Contreras on Saturday in the Eastern Coachella Valley, where elected officials, community leaders and others gathered at a park for the inauguration of a shade equity master plan.

The Eastern Coachella Valley, an important agricultural area in Southern California, is a hot and arid place, with summer temperatures frequently rising above 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Residents in this rural desert in Riverside County are mostly Latinos, Spanish speakers and low-income, and many live in mobile homes without air conditioning and work in fields under the sizzling sun.

But trees, green spaces and buildings that could offer refuge from the sun are sparse, and that can increase dangerous heat stress on the body.

From 2013 to 2023, heat was a contributing or underlying cause of 143 deaths in the Coachella Valley, according to the Riverside County Sheriff's Office. They had no statistics for Eastern Coachella Valley, the area where this shade equity plan is in play. Across the United States, heat was a factor in nearly 1,960 deaths in 2023.

Every year, heat kills more people than floods, hurricanes and tornadoes combined, and experts warn that extreme heat will become more intense, frequent and lethal with climate change.

Studies have shown that shade can reduce heat stress on the human body between 25% and 35% throughout the day. Shaded areas can be 20 to 45 degrees Fahrenheit cooler than surfaces without it, according to an estimate by the EPA.

Many cities across the U.S. — including New York, Miami and Austin — have adopted climate action and resilience plans that use trees as a defense against the broiling stone and asphalt that raise temperatures in urban areas. But fewer have taken the idea to less developed regions.

"Heat is often talked about through the lens of cities, and that's an important issue. But what was sort of being left off the table was how heat is affecting rural communities," said V. Kelly Turner, assistant professor of urban planning and geography at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Wikimedia Commons

The Eastern Coachella Valley plan aims to address this issue by recommending ways and places to create more shade via policy changes, smart building choices and input from community members. The plan would cover the unincorporated communities of Mecca, Thermal, Oasis and North Shore, near the Salton Sea, California's largest lake, and not far from the desert resort city of Palm Springs.

"This area has been neglected for a long time, and it's unfortunate," said Victor Manuel Perez, the Riverside County district supervisor who represents the communities. "You have hard-working people here that deserve better."

Bringing more trees and shade structures to parks, schools and other areas will "ultimately ensure that youth and their families have somewhere where they can get out of the heat because we are talking about 115 degrees" in July and August, he said. "It's pretty bad."

The shade master plan is the latest effort in the U.S. to increase climate resilience in Latino and other marginalized communities, which are disproportionately exposed to extreme heat in part because they have fewer resources like air conditioning and access to green spaces.

Mariela Loera, regional policy manager for the nonprofit Leadership Counsel for Justice and Accountability, said that low-income and communities of color are "easy to ignore," and are often excluded from decision-making. That means they often lack basic amenities.

In the Eastern Coachella Valley, where Loera works, dilapidated homes are common, and other poor infrastructure adds to the heat burden for residents.

"It's not just that it's hot. It's like it's hot, and then there's nowhere to go," she said. "So having any kind of shade structure anywhere is helpful."

The project is being financed by a $644,411 grant from the Governor's Office of Planning and Research in California, and is a collaboration between the Kounkuey Design Initiative, the Oasis Leadership Committee, the UCLA Luskin Center for Innovation and the Riverside University Health System.

But the grand vision for the initiative won't come without hurdles. It's not always clear who has the authority to implement projects in unincorporated communities, and when the plan is finished, it will take more money to execute it.

It will be one of several shade plans in the world. Phoenix has one. So do Tel Aviv in Israel and Abu Dhabi, the capital of the United Arab Emirates.

Turner, whose work focuses on cities adapting to hotter conditions, said she wanted to get involved in the project because she had never seen a shade master plan for a rural area.

People who work outdoors, such as farmworkers — who are overwhelmingly Latino — and those working in construction are vulnerable to heat. About 40 workers die annually because of it, but the government says the number is likely higher because of the lack of reporting.

Elidio Hernández Gómez, 59, was one of them. In 2023, the farmworker and father of two collapsed and died on an August day when temperatures in Fresno, California, peaked at around 100 degrees.

As part of the project, members of the Oasis Leadership Committee, composed of community residents, are paid to take a virtual class about heat with Turner and master's degree students in urban and regional planning at UCLA. On a recent Wednesday night, the class broke up into subgroups focused on spaces where residents experience heat: agriculture; transit; mobile homes and emergency shelters; and schools and parks.

Some committee members said they need robust shade in parks and public areas. They described trees that had collapsed after heavy rain and wind.

Palm Springs Art Museum, Desert X to Host Weekend of Art Events Friday-Sunday

PALM SPRINGS (CNS) - The Palm Springs Art Museum and Desert X have partnered to launch a weekend of free panels, workshops, discussions and artists studio visits starting Friday.

The weekend of events, "Desert r&d," will begin at 2 p.m. Friday with an artist talk with Cara Romero at the Palm Springs Art Museum, 101 N. Museum Drive, according to a statement from Desert X. It will feature her photographs, myths and stories of the desert landscape.

The first day will also include a conversation with the museum's JoAnn McGrath Executive Director Adam Lerner and Desert X Artistic Director Neville Wakefield about what it means to work curatorially in the desert landscape, Desert X officials said. A launch celebration will close out the first day at 7 p.m. in Drift Hotel, 284 S. Indian Canyon Drive.

The events, which are set to continue through Sunday will celebrate and make space for research and development through half-baked thoughts, process-based practices, ongoing experiments and unanswered questions, according to Desert X.

"Join us this spring as we gather a diverse group of creative practitioners, including artists, scientists, writers and thinkers, to explore global questions with a local focus, employing the desert as a research laboratory," Desert X officials wrote in a statement.

Saturday's program will begin at 10 a.m. with artists discussing their climate-related work and expertise at the Ace Hotel and Swim Club, 701 E. Palm Canyon Drive, according to organizers. Events set to follow are a lunch and Black History Tour at noon with Deiter Crawford in Palm Springs, and a hands-on discussion and practice at 3:30 p.m. with Maria Maea and Ronald Rael in Desert Hot Springs.

Sunday will consist of BoxoHOUSE artist-in-residence Eshan Rafi sharing his artistic approaches at 10 a.m. followed by a picnic and self-guided tour at 11 a.m., both in Joshua Tree, and a self-driving tour of artists' studios at various locations in the High Desert, organizers said.

Wakefield and 2025 Co-curator Kaitlin Garcia-Maestas curated the program with Palm Springs Art Museum Chief Education and Community Engagement Officer Luisa Heredia and Associate Curator of Modern and Contemporary Art Sharrissa Iqbal, according to officials.

Desert X is a biennial outdoor art exhibition in the Coachella Valley and will begin March 8, 2025.

New varieties of tried-and-true vegetables invite gardeners to experiment

By JESSICA DAMIANO Associated Press

Tomatoes, garlic, chives, basil, parsley, thyme and sage have been permanent residents in my garden for ages. But every year, I experiment with new -- or new to me -- crops.

MANY turn out to be transient, like the Instagram-worthy Voyager tomatoes that disappointed in the flavor department, and the goji berries I couldn't fit into my diet. But others, like 8-ball zucchini, rainbow Swiss chard and golden beets have earned permanent homes in my raised beds.

This year's new introductions, available now in seed catalogs, are just as enticing. Four new Fruit Snacks apple trees from Plants Nouveau -- Blushing Delight, Golden Treat, Tangy Green and Tasty Red – are ideal for folks like me with limited garden space. The narrow, columnar fruit trees top out between 8 and 10 feet tall and just 3 feet wide, and will even grow in pots. Plant two different varieties for cross-pollination and fruit production.

Love Gourmansun beefsteak tomatoes from Burpee are available in two new varieties, each producing 10-ounce, heart-shaped fruits on indeterminate (vining) plants. Choose Red or Sunrise (a bicolor yellow-red fruit), which have similar growth habits and taste profiles but slightly different disease resistance.

I trialed the company's Prism Sweet Peppers last summer, and the sweet, bell-shaped fruits grew well in my garden. The productive plants also added ornamental value, as the peppers matured from light green to orange and eventually red, resulting in various multicolor fruits on the plants at once.

Quick Snack cucumbers are the newest addition to PanAm Seed's Kitchen Minis collection. Small enough to be grown in a hanging basket or even indoors, since they don't require pollination, the cocktail-size cucumbers are crisp and sweet.

The Pastel Duo baby turnip seed mix, introduced from Japan by Renee's Garden, grows small, globe-shaped roots in both pink and white. Both colors have a mild, sweet flavor and thin skin that doesn't need to be peeled away.

My Genovese basil plants tend to contract downy mildew more often than not, so I'm looking forward to growing Noga Prospera Active DMR organic basil, bred by Genesis Seeds. The plants, marketed as "highly resistant" to the disease, also are slow to bolt, or flower, which is another problem I often encounter during the height of summer's heat.

Deep purple on the outside and bright orange on the inside, the Lila Lu Sang carrots offered by Baker Creek Rare Seeds are about as eye-catching as vegetables can get. But they're more than just eye candy: Carrying the attributes of both purple and orange carrots, they're sweet, tasty and nutrient-dense.

Riverside County Offers Free Master Composter Training

PALM DESERT (CNS) - The Riverside County Department of Waste Resources will begin to offer a free Master Composter Certificate Training program Saturday for residents who are interested in a more advanced look at home composting.

Starting Saturday, in-person training classes will be held in Palm Desert from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturdays for residents interested in a hands-on group experience, according to county officials.

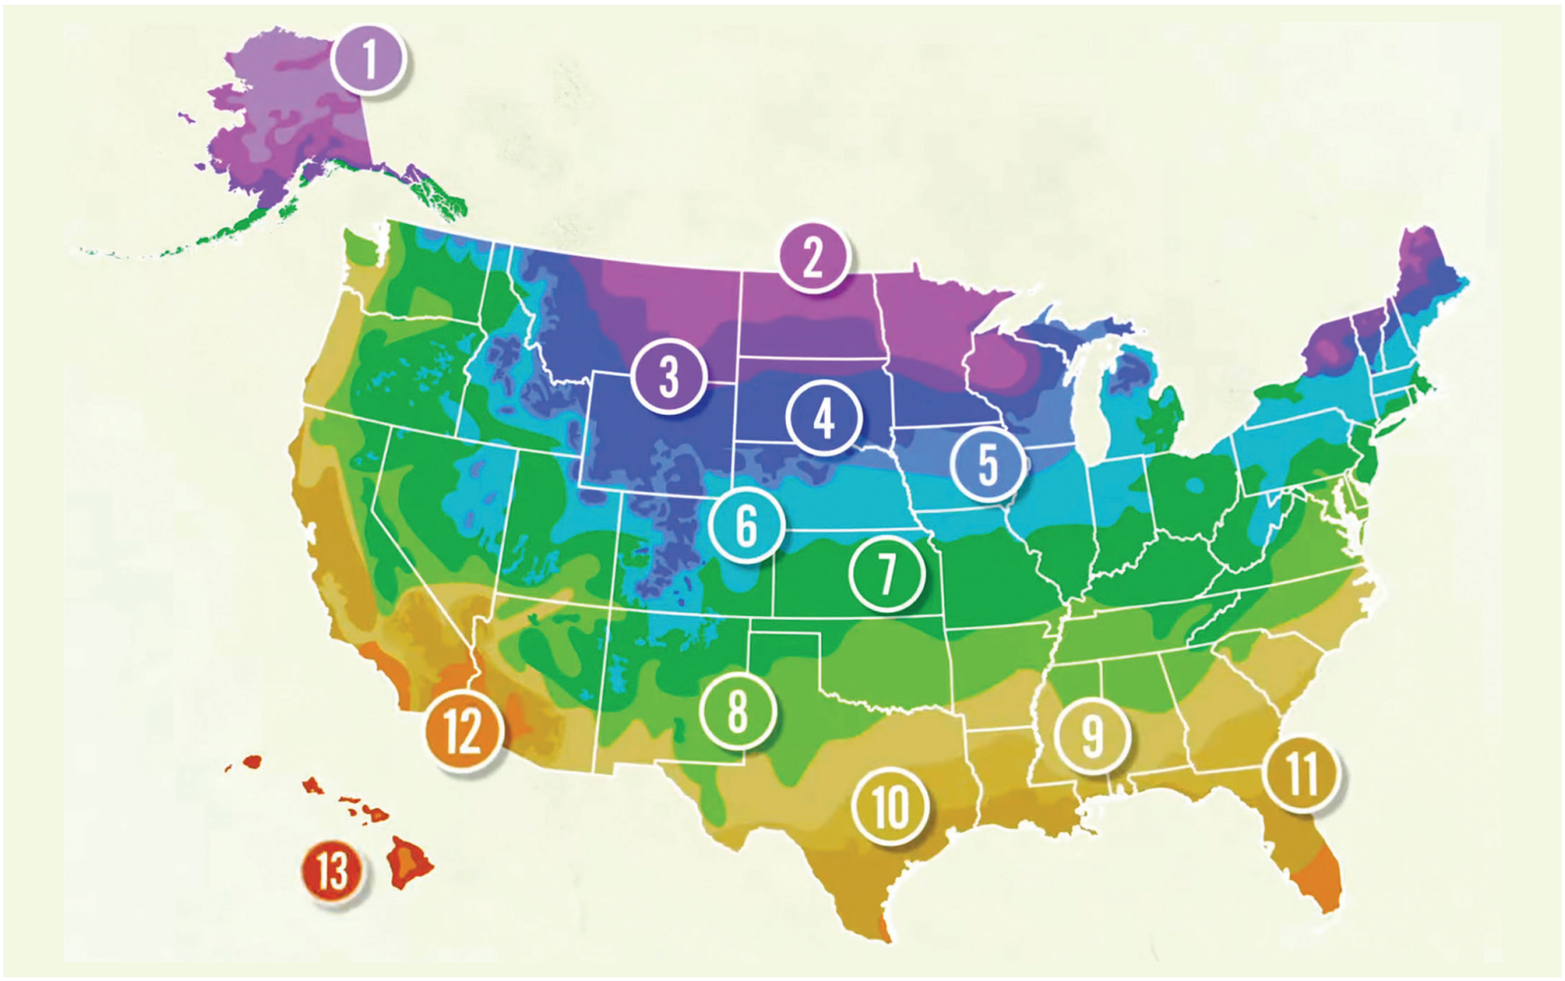

"Books and study materials will be provided by the department," county officials wrote in a statement. "(An) instructor will guide students through the course and students will build group compost piles for study and build their own vermicomposting bin."

A virtual online course will begin April 4, and participants will have up to three months to study and complete the course through online study materials and quizzes before they earn their certificate, according to county officials.

The certificate program will offer participants a more advanced look at the variety of methods that can be used in the home composting process, county officials said. They will also receive basic knowledge on the composting process and about the waste stream in Riverside County.

Additional information, including registration for both courses, is available at rcwaste.org/community-outreach/free-classes.

How to Pick Plants That Will Thrive in Your Climate

When choosing what kind of plants to put down in your yard, you likely focus on the what and the where. After all, a beautiful plant in a prime location enhances curb appeal and even bragging rights.

YOU may pay less attention though to understanding your plant hardiness zone and all the ramifications that come with it. To help ensure your plants don't just survive, but thrive, the experts at lawn care equipment manufacturer Exmark are sharing the following insights about plant hardiness:

WHAT IS PLANT HARDINESS?

The secret to growing healthier plants is called plant hardiness. Plant hardiness is the ability of a plant to survive adverse growing conditions such as drought, flooding, heat and cold. Ever watched with frustration as a late-season temperature dip leaves your beautiful buds with a serious case of frostbite? That's why plant hardiness zones were developed.

American farming contributes billions of dollars to the gross national product every year, which is one reason why the USDA has long monitored weather data. If determining when the average final frost may occur for every region in the country is worth billions, what could that same knowledge mean for your garden? Well, choosing plants with hardiness levels appropriate to specific planting zones gives you the best chance of gardening and landscaping success.

WHAT IS MY GROWING ZONE?

The United States is divided into 13 zones. Zones 1-6 being the coldest, and 7-13 the warmest. Zone 1 averages -60 degrees F while zone 13 never drops below 70 degrees F. A general guideline is to plant anything designated for your zone or lower, but never higher. Know what zone you live in, and be sure to always check the tag on the back of the plant or seed pack before planting anything.

PERENNIALS VERSUS ANNUALS

There's a reason you see palm trees in Miami, not Minnetonka, Minn. In the case of perennials, it's not about when the first frost is, but how cold it gets, and whether that plant can survive and thrive through winter.

Plant hardiness zones are less important however when it comes to annuals. Because these plants are only meant to last the length of one growing season; waiting until after the average first frost date will save you from having to re-plant. Know that even if your plant survives the frost, it may never match the photo you saw advertised at the nursery.

PLANTING ZONE RULE OF THUMB

Plant hardiness zone maps are, well, all over the map. Consider the number assigned to your zip code as a starting point. You may live right at the break between one zone and the other. Remember that it's better to guess too low, than too high. In the South, the heat can put real stress on a plant not made for it. Your particular geography can also affect your hardiness zone, like if you live on a hill or in a valley.

For more insights, check out the USDA Plant Hardiness Zone Map, and watch "Find Your Plant Hardiness Zone," a recent episode of "Backyard Smart," an original series from lawn care equipment manufacturer, Exmark. To watch the video, visit Backyard Life, which is part of a unique multimedia destination with a focus on helping homeowners improve their outdoor living spaces. By Connor Forbes

I smoked a pork butt over the weekend. It's one of the longest cooks I do. It can take upwards of 12 hours if you are smoking between 225 and 250.

HOWEVER, I don't have the patience for that, nor do I want to eat at 9 p.m. so I boosted that temp to 290 and wrapped the butt in butchers' paper when the internal temp reached 250. It came out great and I blasted through the stall. Which if you smoke meats, can be one of the more frustrating physics in cooking.

Anyhow, to pair with the pork but, I made slaw. And pound for pound I think I ate about double the slaw than I did the pork. It was on point. So here is my recipe for a great slaw.

INGREDIENTS

- Half a red cabbage, sliced thin
- 1 bunch cilantro
- 4 carrots julienne
- 3 tbsp Kewpie or regular mayo
- 2 tbsp rice vinegar
- 1 tsp salt

TO MAKE

Cut the cabbage in half, core out the stem, and them cut thin slices. Chop the cilantro. Julienne the carrots by cutting longways thinly, then cut the flat slices longways thinly again. In a bowl combine all the ingredients and mix thoroughly. Eat now or refrigerate for later.

"DUNE: PART TW

By Bob Garver

I wasn't the biggest fan of the first installment of director Denis Villeneuve's take on the Frank Herbert sci-fi classic "Dune" back in 2021. The sounds and visuals were great, and I understood why it won so many technical Oscars that year, but I couldn't get invested in the characters or story, so I didn't recommend the film. I feel the same way about "Dune: Part Two," but somehow the dynamic has shifted without anything really changing. The characters and story arcs are still baffling to keep straight (and as with the "Demon Slayer" movie last week, this doesn't make for a great entry point into the series), but the sounds and visuals are so awesome that I give it a recommendation. I guess I could chalk it up to going into the film with a little more familiarity with the property, having seen the first movie, but I'd like to think that Villeneuve has just upped his game in some subtle fashion.

THE story this time sees hero Paul Atreides (Timothée Chalamet) living full-time, and stripped of his noble title, on the sand planet Arrakis, known for its valuable "spice." He joins up with the good-but-rebellious Fremen, led by Stilgar (Javier Bardem), in their war against evil spice-controllers House Harkonnen. Stilgar and other Fremen believe that Paul may be a messiah sent to win them the war, so much so that his mother Lady Jessica (Rebecca Ferguson) is immediately granted the high religious position of Reverend Mother and all the powers and responsibilities that come with

`DUNE: PART TWO' HAS BIGGEST OPENING WEEKEND OF 2024 WITH $81.5 MILLION

LOS ANGELES (CNS) - "Dune: Part Two" debuted with a smash at the box office, taking in $81.5 million for the biggest opening weekend of the year so far, according to industry estimates released Sunday.

Director Denis Villeneuve's follow-up to 2021's "Dune: Part One," which also starred Timothée Chalamet, is based on a 1965 science fiction novel by Frank Herbert. Villeneuve's two-part saga is the second time the story has been adapted into a big-budget film after David Lynch's 1984 version starring Kyle MacLachlan. The latest film also features Zendaya, Rebecca Ferguson, Florence Pugh and Christopher Walken.

"Bob Marley: One Love" slipped into second place after spending its first two weeks in the No. 1 spot, taking in $7.4 million Friday through Sunday, Comscore reported.

The drama "Ordinary Angels," starring Hilary Swank, took in $3.8 million in its second week.

Fourth place went to Sony and Marvel's "Madame Web," which added another $3.2 million to its three-week total.

"The Chosen: Season 4 Episodes 7-8," a multi-part saga about the life of Jesus Christ, saw its final installment debut in fifth place with $3.1 million at North American theaters, according to Comscore.

Rounding out the top 10 domestic releases were "Migration" ($2.5 million), "Demon Slayer: Kimetsu no Yaiba" ($2 million), "Wonka" ($1.7 million), "Argylle" ($1.4 million) and "The Beekeeper" ($1.1 million).

This weekend's overall three-day box office haul was estimated at $113 million. The year-to-date total is $1 billion -- down 13% from the figure at this time last year, according to Comscore.

And I'm looking forward to seeing what happens down the line. Not so much for the still-bland story and characters, but just to see what this series can do to top itself as a sheer spectacle. After the first "Dune," I didn't care if we ever got another movie. But after "Part Two," I care. Just my luck, I'm hearing that the next installment won't be ready for at least five more years, but this movie is doing so well at the box office that the studio may tell the production to step on the gas. This is the kind of ambitious epic that doesn't come along very often, so when it does, it makes for a special occasion, which is why I recommend springing for special large-scale theater experiences like IMAX or Dolby. This film is likely to fare even better than its predecessor at next year's Oscars, and is frankly the first "must-see" film that I've seen in a long time.

Grade: B-

"Dune: Part Two" is rated PG-13 for sequences of strong violence, some suggestive material and brief strong language. Its running time is 166 minutes.

RISE AND THRIVE: HEALTHY PEANUT butter BANANA MUFFINS

By Joanna Barajas

Are you tired of the same old breakfast routine? Well, why not try an energy-boosting muffin.

HERE'S a muffin made with whole wheat flour and packed with protein, from the peanut butter and yogurt.

I often make these for my meal prep clients and it quickly becomes a favorite. Most people can't turn down peanut butter and chocolate for breakfast.

Besides breakfast, they're great to take on a hike or when you go to the airport. They're the perfect snack to power you through whatever.

Share it with your friends and family and make everyone's day!

Peanut Butter Banana Muffins

Ingredients (makes 12)

Dry:

- 1 and 3/4 cups whole wheat flour or all-purpose flour (spooned & leveled), or a mix of both
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Wet:

- 1 cup mashed bananas (about 3 medium or 2 large ripe bananas)
- 1/2 cup honey (or pure maple syrup)
- 1/2 cup plain Greek yogurt (or regular yogurt; any fat content)
- 2 Tablespoons coconut oil, melted and slightly cooled
- 1 large egg, at room temperature
- 1/3 cup unsweetened almond milk (or your preferred type of milk, dairy or nondairy)
- 1/2 cup creamy natural peanut butter
- 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- 1/2 cup mini chocolate chips

Instructions

1. Preheat oven to 425°F. Spray a 12-count muffin pan with nonstick spray or line with cupcake liners. Set aside.

2. In a medium bowl, whisk the dry ingredients together.

3. In a large bowl, whisk the wet ingredients until smooth.

4. Pour the dry ingredients into the wet. Stir gently until just combined. Try not to over-stir the muffin batter or your muffins will have a tough texture. Fold in half of the mini chocolate chips in.

5. Spoon the batter into the muffin cups, filling them to the top. Top with remaining ¼ cup chocolate chips.

6. Bake for 5 minutes at 425°F, then, keeping the muffins in the oven, reduce the oven temperature to 350°F. Bake for an additional 15-18 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean.

I hope you try this new recipe! Snap a picture and tag me @chefjoannas on instagram so I see how yours came out.

Primary

In the 35th District, primarily in San Bernardino and LA Counties, but including Eastvale, Democratic incumbent Norma Torres and Republican Mike Cargile will run in November, with Torres leading the Primary vote 48 to 39%.

Incumbent Republican Darrell Issa has a commanding lead in the 48th District, primarily in San Diego County but including Murrieta and Temecula. Issa was commanding 60% of the vote while two Democratic challengers, Whitney Shanahan with 15.42% and Stephen Houlahan with 13.13% trailed, competing for a spot on the November ballot.

Ken Calvert For Congress

Ken Calvert

Will Rollins For Congress

Will Rollins

Democrat incumbent Raul Ruiz was hovering near 50% of the vote in the 25th District including Hemet and the desert areas. Two Republicans, Ian M. Weeks, 19.92%, and Ceci "Cecillia" Truman, 16.83 % are vying for the run-off slot.

Of all the races, Calvert v Rollins is the one garnering national attention as the party's battle for control of the House of Representatives.

This rematch is the second contest in the newly drawn 41st district that stretches from Corona and Norco, across Lake Elsinore and Menifee to La Quinta. In 2022, the first-time candidate Rollins, lost by 11 thousand votes of the 236 thousand cast.

Two national race tracking organizations rate the race as "Lean Republican," while a third, the Cook Political Report calls it a toss-up. With the keen national focus on the race, each candidate has raised more than $3.5 million as of the most recent reporting date. As of Valentine's Day, Calvert had raised about 200-thousand dollars more, but Rollins had about 100 thousand dollars more "cash on hand."

In the contest to replace the termed-out Richard Roth in CA State Senate District 31, Romoland School Board Member, Cynthia Navarro appears headed to the November run-off with 45.3%. Democratic Assemblymember Sabrina Cervantes is the likely opponent, garnering 39.7%, while fellow Democrat, RUSD Board Member, Angelo Farooq has 15.1%.

In the 19th senate district which includes Perris Lake and Hemet, incumbent Republican Rosilicie Ochoa Bogh and Democratic challenger Lisa Middleton will go another round in November, with Ochoa Bogh leading Middleton 51 to 49 in the Primary.

In the local California State Assembly races, the open seat in the 58th Assembly District (Corona, Eastvale, Riverside, Jurupa Valley) looks to be a hot race in November. Republican Leticia Castillo leads the Primary with 47.7%, while two Democratic challengers are neck-and-neck to secure the second slot. Both Clarissa Cervantes and Ronaldo Fierro were drawing 26%, with Fierro leading by 62 votes as of this writing.

In the 63rd District, (Corona, Norco, Temescal Valley, Menifee Lake Elsinore, Lake Mathews) First-term Assemblymember, Republican Bill Essayli was garnering nearly 59.55% while Democrat Chris Shoults will be his November challenger, receiving 37.47% of the vote.

First-term incumbent Democrat Corey A. Jackson, 52.14%, leads two Republican challengers, Ron Edwards, 28.04%, and Hector Diaz Nava, 19.82% in the 60th CA Assembly District, (Perris Moreno Valley, Nuevo, Hemet).

Incumbent Republican Kate Sanchez, 62.7% has a healthy lead over Democratic challenger Gary Kephart, 34.9% in the 71st district, (Murrieta, Temecula, Winchester, Wildomar). They'll compete again in November.

And the statewide Proposition 1, Bonds for Mental Health Treatment Facilities, is a nip-and-tuck contest, with the "Yes" vote in support of the measure, holding a slim 50.3 to 49.7% lead. Only 22,064 votes of 3,952,118 cast, separate the two positions as of this writing.

Heat

Silvestre Caixba Villaseca, through a translator, talked about inadequate and poor shade structures in fields.

When temperatures exceed the 100s, the low, plastic rolling structures absorb heat and don't cool, he said, and workers often seek shade in their cars or under trees.

At the end of the day, many fieldworkers return to a hot home with no air conditioning.

"None of us go to a place to cool off after work," he said.

But Villaseca also worries about his children, particularly his 6-year-old son.

On Saturday, under a cloud-dotted blue sky and before a dust storm rolled in, he spoke of the lack of shade at Silvestre Jr.'s elementary school. Every day after class, he lines up with his classmates outside waiting to be picked up.

"They are out in the direct sun," he said. "They don't have any shade in the form of trees or structures ... it can be dangerous."

Despite the heat, Contreras, the Oasis resident and retired librarian, finds the desert beautiful. The mountains. The sunsets. The endless palms and orchards.

"It looks really pretty here. But the people here need help and need to protect themselves from the sun, the heat," she said. "We can't change the weather. But we can change how we live. We can protect ourselves."

Scared Sober

After months of intensive planning, in coordination with the California Highway Patrol which included 24 students participating in the chilling presentation, "Every 15 Minutes" came to the Norco High campus this past week, with a sobering two-day production.

The "cradle to grave" program underscores the downhill spiral that begins with the decision first, to drink underage, and then to either drive or get into the car of a driver who has been drinking.

"The biggest impact is to show kids, and adults as well, the consequences of driving impaired," CHP Public Information Officer Javier Navarro related.

And that begins with creating a realistic and gruesome accident scene, with students themselves playing the roles. First the extrication of the bodies, dead and alive. Ambulances, a medivac helicopter touched down on the baseball field, the coroner, arrest, jail, court, and the life-changing sentence. For those who are fortunate to have survived.

Each of those stops was on the student's agenda to visit.

"I was always aware of the dangers of drinking and driving," Ashley Gonzalez, who portrayed one of the students who dies in the hospital as a result of the crash, said. "It's really opened my eyes to drunk driving endangering people's lives. I want to be involved with this in college because drinking and driving is not just a high school issue."

For CHP Officer Navarro, this was far more than a script. It was the actual reality programming he experienced, working the aptly named "Graveyard Shift" for years.

"Things happen very fast. It only takes one incident to affect you, lose your life, someone else's life. You can go to prison for life. It doesn't just affect you, it's going to affect your family, it's going to impact other families involved, there is a lot at stake."

To learn more about the "Every 15 Minutes" program, visit https://www.chp.ca.gov/programs-services/programs/youth-programs/every-15-minutes.

Natalia Rosales, another student in one of the crash cars confided, "Being involved with Every 15 Minutes truly makes me cherish those around me even more, and value my time with them because something like this can happen in an instant. We have to think about our actions before we do them. I am a little more cautious now on everything I do."

The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (844) 477-7869 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.STOXPOSTING.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 117724-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 117724-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF:
CHRISTIAAN THADDEUS LUNNEY AKA CHRIS LUNNEY
CASE NO. PRRI2400345
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of CHRISTIAAN THADDEUS LUNNEY AKA CHRIS LUNNEY.
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by AIMEE LUNNEY in the Superior Court of California, County of RIVERSIDE.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that AIMEE LUNNEY be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 03/21/24 at 8:30AM in Dept. 12 located at 4050 MAIN STREET, RIVERSIDE, CA 92501
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE T.S. No. 23-02184-USCA Title No. DEF-585452 A.P.N. 112-181-003 YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST DATED 12/02/2005. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. A public auction sale to the highest bidder for cash, (cashier's check(s) must be made payable to National Default Servicing Corporation), drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state; will be held by the duly appointed trustee as shown below, of all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by the trustee in the hereinafter described property under and pursuant to a Deed of Trust described below. The sale will be made in an "as is" condition, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by the Deed of Trust, with interest and late charges thereon, as provided in the note(s), advances, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, interest thereon, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee for the total amount (at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale) reasonably estimated to be set forth below. The amount may be greater on the day of sale. Trustor: Naz Badalyan and Avag Badalyan, wife and husband Duly Appointed Trustee: National Default Servicing Corporation Recorded 12/20/2005 as Instrument No. 2005-1050084 (or Book, Page) of the Official Records of Riverside County, California. Date of Sale: 04/03/2024 at 09:00 AM Place of Sale: 2410 Wardlow Road #111, Corona, CA 92880 - Auction.com Room Estimated amount of unpaid balance and other charges: $347,639.00 Street Address or other common designation of real property: 2559 Independence Way, Corona, CA 92882 A.P.N.: 112-181-003 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown above. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The requirements of California Civil Code Section 2923.5(b)/2923.55(c) were fulfilled when the Notice of Default was recorded. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 or visit this internet website www.ndscorp.com/sales, using the file number assigned to this case 23-02184-USCA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT*: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are a "representative of all eligible tenant buyers" you may be able to purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 888-264-4010, or visit this internet website www.ndscorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 23-02184-USCA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as a "representative of all eligible tenant buyers" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. *Pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code, the potential rights described herein shall apply only to public auctions taking place on or after January 1, 2021, through December 31, 2025, unless later extended. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Charles John Bedard, Jr.

Case No. PRRI2400347
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Charles John Bedard, Jr..
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Julie Ghiulezian in the Superior Court of California, County of Riverside.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Julie Ghiulezian be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held on 3/21/2024 at 8:30 AM in Department 12 located at 4050 Main St, Riverside, CA 92501.
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Brien Kenneth Clingman
Case No. PRRI 2000925
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Brien Kenneth Clingman .
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Aline Engel in the Superior Court of California, County of Riverside.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Aline Engel be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.
A HEARING on the petition will be held on 3/18/2024 at 8:30 AM in Department 8 located at 4050 Main St, Riverside, CA 92501.
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF:
JEFFERY EUGENE LATCH
CASE NO. PRRI2400474
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of JEFFERY EUGENE LATCH.
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by KIMBERLY RENEE KRAUSE in the Superior Court of California, County of RIVERSIDE.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that KIMBERLY RENEE KRAUSE be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 04/03/24 at 8:30AM in Dept. 12 located at 4050 MAIN STREET, RIVERSIDE, CA 92501
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

YOU ARE BEING SUED BY PLAINTIFF (LO ESTÁ DEMANDANDO EL DEMANDANTE): Salomon Avalos
NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.
You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online SelfHelp Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.
There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online SelfHelp Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case.
¡AVISO! Lo han demandado. Si no responde dentro de 30 días, la corte puede decidir en su contra sin escuchar su versión. Lea la información a continuación.
Tiene 30 DÍAS DE CALENDARIO después de que le entreguen esta citación y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Una carta o una llamada telefónica no lo protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y más información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte.ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede más cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le dé un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podrá quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin más advertencia.
Hay otros requisitos legales. Es recomendable que llame a un abogado inmediatamente. Si no conoce a un abogado, puede llamar a un servicio de remisión a abogados. Si no puede pagar a un abogado, es posible que cumpla con los requisitos para obtener servicios legales gratuitos de un programa de servicios legales sin fines de lucro. Puede encontrar estos grupos sin fines de lucro en el sitio web de California Legal Services, (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California, (www.sucorte.ca.gov) o poniéndose en contacto con la corte o el colegio de abogados locales. AVISO: Por ley, la corte tiene derecho a reclamar las cuotas y los costos exentos por imponer un gravamen sobre cualquier recuperación de $10,000 ó más de valor recibida mediante un acuerdo o una concesión de arbitraje en un caso de derecho civil. Tiene que pagar el gravamen de la corte antes de que la corte pueda desechar el caso.
