DOCK WORKERS, TRUCKERS, WAREHOUSES, AND CONSUMERS EXPECT TO TAKE A HIT

BY JIM FORBES, PUBLISHER

CORONA - COMBINED SOURCES

First, there was a glut, and now predictions of severe shortages on the near horizon.

This week has brought dire predictions from many quarters of international trade grinding down, particularly with China, impacting the local economy, from workers to consumers. A one-two punch to many in the Inland Empire who work in the far-flung industries that support global trade and are, of course, consumers themselves.

Shortly after President Donald J. Trump took office for a second term, he indicated his promised tariffs were coming. What followed was on, off, on-again, selected carve-outs for certain products and industries, and confusion. Massive confusion.

The administration, depending on who was at the microphone, said confusion was good, a negotiating tactic. The financial markets, hungry for predictability and stability, decided, not good, not at all.

One initial result was a surge in trade, importers and exporters, rushing to get their orders in and fulfilled before the shared pain hit the fan. The Port of LA, the busiest American port for containers from China, reported a 5.2% first-quarter gain over a robust 2024 first quarter. That was through March 31st.

But two days later, on April 2 (eliminating the chance it may be dismissed as a joke if announced the day before), Trump declared "Liberation Day," steep tariffs across the board, sparing few, from nations with powerful economies to the now-known island of penguins.

The biggest hit was to the 2nd biggest economy, China. The two largest economies counter-punched, trading tariff blows, with Trump landing a right hook at 145%.

RIVERSIDE

(CNS) - Resource fairs intended to ensure Riverside County residents suffering mental health complications, as well as relatives and friends who want to help them, are scheduled during the first half of May in three cities, according to the Riverside University Health System.

The Art of Wellness events are part of Mental Health Month, recognized every May by the county.

"The county is committed to ensuring that every resident has access to behavioral health support," Board of Supervisors Chairman Manuel Perez said. "Through events like

we are creating spaces where individuals feel connected and empowered to prioritize their health."

All three fairs are scheduled from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The first one is set for May 1 in Palm Desert Civic Center Park, 43-900 San Pablo Ave. The second will be on May 8 at Valley-Wide Recreation & Park, 901 W. Esplanade Ave., San Jacinto, and the third on May 15 at Fairmount Park, 2601 Fairmount Blvd., Riverside.

During each gathering, county health officials and personnel from multiple nonprofit organizations will be available to provide information and one-on-one assistance for those seeking behavioral health aid.

The City of Norco gave tribute to late Riverside County Sheriff Motor Deputy Timothy Corlew Saturday night at the Norco Rodeo. Corlew died in a collision on the 91 Freeway in Riverside while on his way to work in Norco the morning of January 8th, 2025. Norco based Deputies and other motor deputies joined Corlew's wife and sons in the arena while Norco women carried the thin Blue Line flags on horseback. Corlew's BMW GS patrol bike was presented center stage in tribute to the fallen Deputy.

Friend of QB John Elway Fatally Hurt While Pair Riding Cart in La Quinta

PALM SPRINGS (CNS) - A sports agent and longtime friend of legendary NFL quarterback John Elway was fatally injured in a golf cart accident during an after-party event for the Stagecoach County Musical Festival, officials confirmed Wednesday.

Jeffrey Sperbeck, 62, of San Clemente suffered a traumatic head injury Saturday night at the Madison Club in La Quinta. The Riverside County Coroner's Office said that he died just after 1 a.m. Wednesday, reportedly following his removal from life support.

Published reports indicated Sperbeck was the passenger in a golf cart being driven by Elway about 7 p.m. Saturday in the 53000 block of Humboldt Boulevard.

The two friends and business partners had been involved in festivities surrounding the music fest, which ran from Friday to Sunday at the Empire Polo Club in Indio. Sperbeck apparently fell lingered in a coma, never regaining consciousness, until the predawn hours Wednesday.

There was no word whether alcohol or other factors may have played a part in the fatality, which was under investigation by the sheriff's department.

Sperbeck and Elway teamed up in 1990, when the victim became the athlete's NFL agent, while Elway was quarterback for the Denver Broncos. The two-time Super Bowl winner hung up his jersey in 1998, ultimately serving as the team's general manager, then later as a consultant. He retired altogether from the sport in 2023.

The two men partnered in a winery venture in 2013, according to reports.

SURVEY: Home Ownership Less Affordable for Ethnic Groups Statewide

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - Less than 18% of all Californians earned enough income to support the purchase of an $865,440 median-priced home in 2024, down from 19% the previous year, the California Association of Realtors announced Thursday.

Among ethnic groups in California, 21% of white households could afford a median-priced home in 2024. In comparison, only 10% of Black and 9% of Hispanic/Latino households had the same ability. Meanwhile, 27% of Asian households could afford a median-priced home last year.

According to CAR, interest rates remained elevated and the typical monthly mortgage payment for a median-priced detached home rose 6% last year compared to 2023.

In Riverside County, 25% of all households earned enough income to support the purchase of a $628,470 median-priced home with monthly payments of $4,010, the survey showed. CAR reported that 37% of Asian residents and 29% of white households could afford the same home.

Meanwhile, 23% of Black households and 20% of Hispanic/Latino households could afford the same home in Riverside County, according to CAR.

Orange County was the least affordable county for white households, with 15% earning the minimum income required to buy a median-price home. For Asian households, Orange County was also the least affordable, with 14% earning the minimum income required to buy a median-price home.

In Los Angeles, 21% of white households and 18% of Asian residents could afford a median-priced home costing $906,030 with monthly payments of $5,790 in 2024. Meanwhile, just 8% of Hispanic/Latino households and 7% of Black households could afford the same home, according to CAR.

Across the state, housing affordability gaps narrowed last year but remained wide as home prices increased and mortgage rates remained elevated. The affordability gap between Black households and the overall population in California narrowed from 8.9% in 2023 to 8% in 2024, while the gap for Hispanics/Latinos improved from 9.4% in 2023 to 8.3% in 2024.

While interest rates are projected to dip slightly in 2025, the gap in housing affordability among ethnic groups will likely remain wide this year as home prices are expected to grow moderately in the next 12 months, researchers found.

According to the Census Bureau’s American Community Survey, the 2023 homeownership rate for all Californians was 55.9%, 64.4% for whites, 61.5% for Asians, 45.9% for Hispanics/Latinos and 36.6% for Black households.

Worries About Flying Seem to Be Taking Off

Here's How to Cope With In-Flight Anxiety

By MIKE STOBBE AP
Medical Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Adelynn Campbell's last plane trip ended with a panic attack that she got through largely with the help of a kind flight attendant.

That was last year — before 67 people died in January when an American Airlines jet collided with a helicopter over Washington, D.C., in the deadliest U.S. air disaster in almost a quarter century. Now, Campbell is even more hesitant to book a flight.

"It's definitely spiked my concern about getting on a plane and it's making the whole situation a little more stressful than it used to be," said Campbell, 30, who manages a coffee shop in San Diego.

Being at least a little nervous about flying is understandable. As Mel Brooks once said: "If God wanted us to fly, He would have given us tickets." But for some people it causes deep anxiety that could require professional help.

Here's a look at air travel anxiety and ways to cope with it.

More people seem to be nervous about flying

The evidence is anecdotal, but psychologists and flight attendants say they've seen and heard increased worries — and not only in people who already had anxieties about flying.

"Even people who didn't have a fear of flying are talking about it, given recent events," said Jennifer Dragonette, a California-based psychologist who treats people with air travel anxieties.

U.S. air travel was down in March and early April compared with last year, according to TSA statistics. Airlines have attributed the decline to economic uncertainty, a decline in government and corporate travel and — yes — concern about recent aviation incidents.

FAA officials recently acknowledged they weren't doing enough to ensure air safety. Recent polling by the Associated Press-NORC Center for Public Affairs Research shows that fewer Americans report feeling safe about flying this year.

Flight attendants who work planes out of the Washington, D.C., airport were particularly rattled by the January collision, said Sara Nelson, president of the Association of Flight Attendants union. Some asked for time off to process their emotions, and at least one flight attendant left the job, she said.

What is fear of flying?

Fear of flying — sometimes called aerophobia — goes beyond just being nervous about a flight. It is an intense form of anxiety that centers on certain aspects of air travel. Many aerophobes get most rattled during take-off and landing, or when they think about being locked in a plane.

Some research has suggested it affects about 25 million U.S. adults. Psychologists say it often surfaces in adulthood, developing in people who didn't mind flying as kids but grew more rattled as they aged.

In many cases, it starts when people are in their 20s or 30s, at a time they are experiencing big life changes and new responsibilities — like getting married or becoming a parent — and they start to think that "everything counts," said David Carbonell, a Chicago-based psychologist who authored a workbook to help people cope with flying fears.

A bad flight with heavy turbulence or some other problem may trigger an anxiety that persists, he said.

Campbell, who has other forms of anxiety, developed a fear of flying a few years ago. She is transgender, and said travel can be stressful because of concerns about how she'll be treated by airport security or in other interactions.

Aerophobia can be complicated, Carbonell said. For many people, it's not so much a fear of crashing as it is claustrophobic feelings of being in an enclosed cabin and not having control.

Campbell said that's what she experiences: "feeling trapped and unable to breathe."

Nelson said flight attendants regularly deal with suffering passengers: "We've had people have panic attacks, and we've had to give them oxygen. It can be quite intense."

How to cope with flying anxiety

Statistics have long shown that airliners are probably the safest way to travel. According to the National Safety Council, the odds of dying in an airplane crash are too low to be calculated, based on 2023 statistics — making them far, far lower than of being killed in a motor vehicle crash or, for that matter, walking on a sidewalk or crossing a street.

But experts say you can't really reason your way out of an anxiety disorder.

Carbonell spends little time on statistics, telling patients: "I know you already looked at them all, and they're not helping you."

For people with milder levels of aerophobia, deep breathing often works. Longer exhales help the body relax, said Dragonette, who counseled Campbell for aerophobia and other anxiety disorders at a Newport Healthcare residential facility in Temecula, California.

People suffering more extreme cases can be helped with exposure therapy. It can start by simply getting patients to become comfortable looking at photos of planes, watching videos of planes flying safely, or putting on a virtual reality headset that shows recordings of being inside a plane, Dragonette said.

It's a matter of getting patients to learn to live with their feelings and better handle them.

Carbonell recommends patients take practice flights that do not involve work trips or any other responsibilities. When they have symptoms, he recommends they keep a written inventory.

"They're keeping a simple count," he said. "We're using counting as a proxy for acceptance."

It's OK to ask for help

Nelson, who was a longtime United Airlines flight attendant, says: "I've had situations where I'd sort of sit in the aisle and hold someone's hand."

On a Frontier Airlines flight last year from Detroit to San Diego, Campbell tried breathing and other coping skills, but they didn't halt her panic attack. The passenger next to her noticed she was increasingly anxious, and summoned a flight attendant.

The flight attendant took deep breaths with Campbell and helped her get through it, and also took down Campbell's phone number and checked on her a day later.

"I was really impressed," she said.

Your Pharmacist is an Essential Health Ally

When you think about your health care team, you likely think first about your doctors. Others, however, play a critical role in helping you be healthy, including your pharmacist.

This is especially true for older adults, according to Dr. Grant Tarbox, national medical executive with Cigna Healthcare Medicare, because they tend to have more chronic conditions than younger people and often rely upon multiple medications to keep them well. In fact, more than half of adults 65 and older report taking four or more prescriptions, according to the Kaiser Family Foundation (KFF), an independent source for health policy research, polling and news.

Pharmacies and pharmacists have been expanding their roles over the years. Tarbox says the following are among the services you can expect from your pharmacist.

Improving adherence. Not taking your medication as prescribed can result in negative health consequences. Only about 50% of people take their medications as directed due to such reasons as fear and forgetfulness. A pharmacist can help you understand the purpose of each prescription and discuss strategies for taking it correctly. For example, they may simplify your regimen to once- or twice-daily dosages to pair at the same time as a daily activity or recommend digital reminders.

Ensuring safety. More than 1.5 million people visit emergency rooms annually because of adverse drug events, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Older adults are especially susceptible. They may take medications prescribed by several different doctors. This can cause confusion, especially during transitions in care, such as returning home from the hospital. Pharmacists can help reconcile medications during these times, while reducing the risk of errors. Remember to discuss any over-the-counter (OTC) drugs you're taking, which can have negative side effects, interact poorly with other medications and food, or even become addictive. Always read and follow instructions for OTC drugs. And ask your pharmacist to run an interactions check of all of your medications.

Providing access to care. Older adults in rural areas or lacking transportation may have difficulty accessing their prescriptions. By utilizing a mail-order pharmacy, you may be able to have a three-month supply of medication delivered, while saving money, too. Ask your insurer for details.

Addressing affordability. According to the KFF, 21% of older adults did not take their medicines as prescribed in the past year because of cost. Pharmacists can help. Working in concert with your physician, they may be able to suggest a lower cost or generic alternative that is just as effective. Additionally, they can point you toward patient assistance programs, such as those run by pharmaceutical manufacturers, which help eligible patients access medications at little or no cost. Finally, they may be aware of government agencies or other programs that can help with costs. Unfortunately, many people who qualify for these programs don't even know they exist.

Offering immunizations. Several vaccinations are important for older adults, such as COVID-19, flu, RSV, pneumonia and shingles. But older adults may not get them because of distrust, needle phobia or cost. Your pharmacist can address your concerns and may even be able to offer them on-site. The cost may be covered by a Medicare Advantage or Medicare Part D plan.

For more information about Medicare and pharmaceutical coverage, visit cigna.com/medicare.

As the population ages and the prevalence of chronic diseases grow, you can expect pharmacists to deliver more services as key members of your health care team, Tarbox said. (State-Point)

The tariffs have also sown distrust among our allies and inflamed geopolitical tensions. These tariffs are nothing more than a direct attack on the working class and should be opposed outright."

Seroka of the Port of LA told Investor's Business Daily that major retailers have indicated to him they have a six to eight-week inventory of goods that "will quickly dry up."

Even if there were an instant truce between countries, the clock governing trade is already nearing, if not already struck, Midnight. First, there is the restart of production, and it's not clear what the damage may be to those relationships.

Then, on average, it takes about 30 days port-to-port, China to Los Angeles, loading and unloading of containers. It's 45 days to Houston by sea, 45 days to Chicago by rail, and 55 days to the Port of New York by sea.

Port of LA Director Seroka doesn't see those cards being played anytime soon. "Now, major importers are saying, 'I'm going to wait, hit the pause button,'" he told the New York Times, "I don't see any quick change."

His counterpart, Mario Cordero, Executive Director of the Port of Long Beach, told The Times that so far, at least 30 ships scheduled to sail into Long Beach through June have already been cancelled.

"The trajectory is not good."

An Opportunity to Improve Health Nationwide

Walking into a grocery store can feel overwhelming – especially for those trying to buy healthier food. There are so many choices, eye-catching marketing and health claims, and confusing ingredients, making it hard to know what's healthy and what isn't. Grocery store aisles can actually be a place to fight preventable diet-related disease and illness – as long as nutrition information is readily available and easy to understand.

Other countries successfully use simple and clear nutrition labels on the front of food packaging to draw attention to foods that are high in sugar, saturated fat or salt – three nutrients most people eat too much of. These labels are helping consumers make healthier choices.

After years of consumer engagement and research, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has proposed easy-to-read labels on the front of most packaged foods here in the United States. The proposed label would appear on foods intended for people aged 4 years and older and focus on three nutrients to limit: saturated fat, sodium (salt) and added sugars. Each would be rated as high, medium or low, and include the percentage of the recommended daily amount. The label would be placed on the front of the package in bold, easy-to-see text so shoppers could quickly understand what is in their food and compare products.

Even though similar labels have worked well in other countries, some food companies oppose implementing them here in the United States. While these labels certainly could impact the sales of less healthy foods, advocates say that these companies should recognize that their customers want to make healthier choices and purchase healthier products. Clearer labels will help them do just that.

“Eating healthy should be less complicated and consumers should be able to walk down grocery store aisles and be able to easily compare how nutritious different foods are,” says Nancy Brown, CEO of the American Heart Association.

“This will give everyone more control over their food choices and health.”

Right now, the FDA is asking people to share their thoughts on this new proposed label. Between now and May 16, 2025, you can visit yourethecure.org/label for more information from the American Heart Association and to provide feedback to the FDA. (State-Point)

County's Animal Shelters to Begin New Sunday Hours

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - Beginning Sunday, Riverside County animal shelters will be open every Sunday in the hope of attracting more prospective adopters to take home new four-legged friends.

“Opening Sundays is going to be a game-changer for our shelter pets and the people who care about them,” county Department of Animal Services Director Mary Martin said. “We are excited to offer more opportunities for community members to fall in love with our many marvelous animals who deserve a fresh start.”

As an incentive to boost interest, this Sunday, the department is waiving all general adoption fees, though mandatory basic license fees will still be requested. Licenses range from $12 to $25 for altered pets.

More than 1,000 dogs and over 100 cats are awaiting adoption at the Blythe Animal Shelter, San Jacinto Valley Animal Campus, Coachella Valley Animal Campus in Thousand Palms and Western Riverside County Animal Shelter in Jurupa Valley.

Only the Blythe shelter will be excluded from the Sunday adoptions due to apparent staffing difficulties.

“In the process of improving animal services, we listened and are following the example of other animal shelters with more convenient hours to come by and potentially adopt,” Board of Supervisors Chairman Manuel Perez said. “I am grateful for the board’s Ad-Hoc Committee for Animal Services for making this change that we hope will help more shelter pets find forever homes.”

Going forward, weekend hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In addition to outright adoptions, some sheltered animals are available to foster. That involves taking the pets home and nurturing them in an environment where they can thrive, outside of cages, officials said.

The Department of Animal Services remains in the early stages of a reformation initiated last year by the board.

A lawsuit filed in August by Rancho Mirage-based Walter Clark Law Group is seeking a permanent injunction against the department’s euthanasia programs. Clark called it a “ground-breaking case” that’s predicated on the 1998 Hayden Act. That legislation, authored by then-state Sen. Tom Hayden, D-Santa Monica, states in part, “no adoptable animal should be euthanized if it can be adopted into a suitable home.” One organization has alleged the county has the highest pet “kill rate” in the nation.

In September, the board hired Austin, Texas-based Outcomes for Pets LLC Principal Adviser Kristen Hassen to rectify problems within the agency.

In February, the board approved the Executive Office’s selection of Martin to head the department following a nationwide executive recruitment drive. Martin, who recently served as assistant director for Dallas Animal Services of Texas, officially started at the end of March.

Information regarding shelters’ hours of operation and pets ready for adoption is available at www.rcdas.org.

Celebrate CINCO DE MAYO with CRISP-FRIED SHRIMP TACOS

By CHRISTOPHER KIMBALL Christopher Kimball's Milk Street

Shrimp is payday food for many, but Raul Ortega figured out how to make the shrimp taco affordable by using fewer shrimp while optimizing flavor. At Mariscos Jalisco, Ortega's food truck in the Boyle Heights area of Los Angeles, the tacos de camarón, or shrimp tacos, are the main attraction.

Ortega stuffs a perfectly seasoned shrimp filling into tortillas and fries the tacos to golden crispness before finishing them with tomato salsa and avocado. His recipe is a closely guarded secret, but for the recipe in our cookbook "Milk Street 365: The All-Purpose Cookbook for Every Day of the Year," we got some help replicating it from recipe developer Paola Briseño-González.

To get that same delicious melding of flavors and textures, the shrimp are chopped in a food processor, then cooked with a flour-thickened tomato-onion purée to make the filling. Though the recipe specifies shrimp of a certain size, just about any will work. It's easy enough for a weeknight, but special enough for a Cinco de Mayo celebration.

Don't try to bypass the step of warming the tortillas before filling them. Straight from the package, the tortillas likely will be brittle and will crack when folded. After warming the tortillas, be sure to keep them wrapped in a towel so they remain pliable until you're ready to fill the tacos.

FRIED SHRIMP TACOS WITH SALSA ROJA

Start to finish: 1 1/4 hours

Servings: Makes 8 tacos

Ingredients:

For the salsa roja:

1 pound ripe plum tomatoes, cored, halved and seeded

1/4 large white onion, chopped (about 1/2 cup)

2 medium garlic cloves, smashed and peeled

1 tablespoon dried Mexican oregano

Kosher salt and ground black pepper

1 cup finely chopped green cabbage

1 cup lightly packed fresh cilantro, chopped

For the tacos and serving:

8 ounces ripe plum tomatoes, cored, halved and seeded

3/4 large white onion, chopped (about 1 heaping cup)

2 medium garlic cloves, smashed and peeled

1 teaspoon dried Mexican oregano

Kosher salt and ground black pepper

8 ounces large (26/30 per pound) shrimp (see headnote), peeled (tails removed) and deveined

3 tablespoons plus 1 cup grapeseed or other neutral oil, divided

3 tablespoons all-purpose flour

Eight 6-inch corn tortillas

1 ripe avocado, halved, pitted, peeled and sliced

Lime wedges, to serve

Directions:

To make the salsa, in a food processor, combine the tomatoes, onion, garlic, oregano and 1 teaspoon salt. Process until smooth, 1 to 2 minutes. Transfer to a medium bowl; reserve the food processor bowl and blade. Stir the cabbage and cilantro into the puree, then taste and season with salt and pepper. Cover and set aside until ready to serve.

To make the tacos, in the food processor, combine the tomatoes, onion, garlic, oregano, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Pulse to a coarse pu-ree, about 10 pulses. Transfer to a small bowl. To the food processor, add the shrimp and pulse until finely chopped, about 4 pulses.

In a 10-inch skillet over medium, heat the 3 tablespoons oil until shimmering. Add the tomato-onion puree and cook, stirring occasionally, until most of the moisture has evaporated, 7 to 9 minutes. Add the flour and cook, stirring, until well incorporated, about 1 minute. Add the shrimp and cook, stirring constantly, until the shrimp turn pink and the mixture has thickened, about 1 minute. Set aside off heat.

Heat a 12-inch skillet over medium until water flicked onto the surface immediately sizzles and evaporates. Add 2 tortillas in a single layer (it's fine if they overlap slightly) and heat, flipping them once, until warm, about 30 seconds per side. Transfer to a kitchen towel and wrap loosely to keep warm and pliable. Repeat with the remaining tortillas, stacking and wrapping them in the towel. Add the remaining 1 cup oil to the skillet; keep warm over low while you fill the tortillas.

Lay 4 of the tortillas on a work surface and divide half of the shrimp mixture evenly among them, placing the filling on one side of the tortilla. Fold the unfilled sides over and press lightly; leave the edges open (do not seal them). Fill the remaining tortillas with the remaining shrimp mixture in the same way.

Return the oil to medium and heat until shimmering (about 350°F). Carefully add 4 of the tacos and cook until golden brown and crisp on the bottoms, about 3 minutes. Using a thin metal spatula, flip each taco and cook until golden brown on the second sides, about 3 minutes, then transfer to a paper towel-lined plate. Fry the remaining tacos in the same way, adjusting the heat as needed.

Transfer the tacos to a serving platter and spoon on some of the salsa. Top with the avocado slices and serve with the remaining salsa and lime wedges on the side.

GOCHUJANG BRUSSELS SPROUTS

By CONNOR FORBES

Paste

2 tbsp water

To Make

In a medium sized pan, add the oil. Heat over medium heat until a little shimmer. Add the Brussels Sprouts and cook 3 minutes. Stir and cook another 3 minutes. Remove Sprouts from pan and add gochujang and water. Mix thoroughly and simmer for 1 minute to allow to thicken. Add back in Brussels Sprouts and stir, coating sprouts evenly. EAT!

*I added bell pepper too but that is totally optional. Cooked the same way as the sprouts.

I was messing around in the kitchen, as I am one to do, looking for an interesting twist on my regular Brussels sprouts. The dish I was making was a simple family meal of Chicken, Brussels sprouts and rice. And if there is one thing I don't like in a meal, it is a boring meal. So, I went searching in my refrigerator and found some gochujang paste knocking around forgotten in the back of a shelf. That is when this recipe was conceived.

Gochujang is a Korean chili pepper paste that is a low rumbling heat with a bit of saltiness.

Ingredients

1 lb Brussels Sprouts halved
1 tbsp Cooking Oil
1 heaping tbsp Gochujang

"THE ACCOUNTANT 2"

By BOB GARVER

"The Accountant" was a midsize hit from 2016 that until recently had a reputation as a wannabe franchise-starter that never got a follow-up. I watched the first movie for research last weekend, and I would have guessed that the reason the film went so long without a sequel was that the key players knew that they had made a lousy movie and wanted to do better things with their careers. But apparently there was enough interest to bring about "The Accountant 2," a film popular enough to make for one of the most crowded screenings I've attended in recent memory. I can't say that I really see the appeal — either before or after the screening.

Ben Affleck is back as genius accountant Christian Wolff. He takes jobs from the most dangerous people on the planet: mobsters, cartels, even terrorist organizations. So that nobody can ever track him to a permanent address, he lives a nomadic lifestyle in a trailer. He also has the extra insurance policy of being a highly-trained killer, though he prefers to not put those skills to use. To ease his conscience a bit, he supplies occasional tips on clients to the Treasury Department and donates much of his income to a private school for autistic children, where his mute partner Justine (played by Allison Robertson, with the voice of Alison Wright via computer) handles many of his operational logistics. Christian himself is autistic, which leads to difficulties in communication that range from funny to sad to scary.

The film opens with Ray King (J.K. Simmons), Christian's former contact at the Treasury Department, of them. Christian is going to have to reach out to his estranged brother Braxton (Jon Bernthal).

The first "Accountant" kept Christian's connection to antagonistic assassin Braxton a secret until the end (I know hindsight is 20/20, but it seems like this was an in-meeting with mysterious assassin Anais (Daniella Pineda) about the whereabouts of a Mexican family. The meeting is... violently broken up. Current Treasury agent Marybeth Medina (Cynthia Addai-Robinson) is determined to find out and fix the matter that was so important to her mentor. Her investigation leads her to teaming up with Christian, but continuing Ray's mission may be too dangerous even for the two credibly easy twist to guess, considering we knew from flashbacks that Christian had a brother raised by the same tough-love father), so they really only had one scene together. This movie, to its credit, takes much better advantage of Affleck and Bernthal as actors. Their chemistry, which mostly consists of sibling squabbling, is the highlight of the movie.

Far from the highlight of the movie is the convoluted storyline about illegal immigration rings, prostitution rings, child internment camps, and how violent wildcard Anais fits into it all. The first movie was just as bad in this department, but at least it had squirrely villain John Lithgow to root against, it's easy to forget that this movie's fish-market-owning villain (Robert Morgan) is even a character.

With the exception of gray-area Anais, all the bad guys in this movie are so inept that it's impossible to take them seriously as threats to Christian and Braxton.

Most of the reviews I've read either paint "The Accountant 2" as a decent buddy action movie hampered by a confusing mess of a story or a confusing mess of a story elevated by decent buddy action. I'm in the latter camp, which means I don't recommend the movie overall. I was going to give it a "C-," but then I decided that I should reward it for improving on the first movie by giving us more Affleck/Bernthal banter, so I'm bumping it up a little. Still, I hope that any future

"Accountant" movies recognize and retain what worked about this movie (and the first) while also acknowledging that there need to be improvements made to the way the story unfolds.

Grade: C

"The Accountant 2" is rated R for strong violence and language throughout. Its running time is 124 minutes.

'Sinners' Keeps Box Office Crown with $45 Million in Second Weekend

LOS ANGELES (CNS) - "Sinners" grossed $45 million in its second weekend, nearly matching its opening weekend total and once again leading all films in North America, according to industry estimates released Sunday.

Director Ryan Coogler's horror film is a period piece with musical and vampire themes set in the Mississippi Delta in 1932, and stars Michael B. Jordan in a dual role as twin brothers.

A 20th anniversary re-release of George Lucas' "Star Wars: Episode III -- Revenge of the Sith" took second place with $25.2 million, Comscore reported.

Third place went to "The Accountant 2," a thriller starring Ben Affleck, which opened with $24.5 million.

"A Minecraft Movie" was fourth with $22.7 million Friday through Sunday in its fourth week, followed by the horror film "Until Dawn," which opened with $8 million.

Sixth place went to "The King of Kings," an animated, faith-based offering from Angel Studios that took in $4 million in its third weekend in theaters.

Rounding out the top 10 domestic releases were "The Amateur" ($3.8 million), "Warfare" ($2.65 million), "Pink Floyd at Pompeii -- MCMLXXII" ($2.62 million) and "The Legend of Ochi" ($1.4 million).

This weekend's overall three-day box office haul was estimated at $146.5 million. The year-to-date total is $2.281 billion -- up 11% from the figure at this time last year, according to Comscore.

Desert X Student Art Exhibit to Open in Palm Desert Next Week

PALM DESERT (CNS) - The third annual Desert X Art Club Student Exhibit, a collaboration between Desert X and an after-school program serving three Coachella Valley school districts, will launch next week with a mixed media showcase by K-12 students in Palm Desert.

The exhibition will open with a public reception from 5 to 7 p.m. on May 8 and remain open daily from noon to 5 p.m. May 9-21 at Melissa Morgan Fine Art, 73660 El Paseo, according to organizers.

The free exhibit will feature artwork created by students in the 2024-2025 Expanded Learning Opportunities Program.

Participating schools include Amistad High School, Carrillo Ranch Elementary, Cathedral City High School, Cielo Vista Charter, Coachella Valley High School, Desert Hot Springs High School, Desert Mirage High School, Desert Ridge Academy, Gerald Ford Elementary, Indio Middle School, James Workman Middle School, John Glenn Middle School, La Quinta High School, Palm Springs High School and Palm Desert High School.

Desert X is a biennial, site-specific contemporary art exhibition held across California's Coachella Valley. Launched in 2017, it features large-scale installations by international artists, designed to engage directly with the desert landscape.

Organizers said students took creative inspiration by going on fieldtrips to Desert X, field trips to local art studios, engagement with local artists and behind-the-scenes visits to the Coachella Valley Music and Arts Festival and the Palm Springs Art Museum.

The artwork presented will feature paintings, drawings, sculpture, site-specific installation, video and photography.

The fifth edition of Desert

X will run through May 11, organizers said.

On May 10, a special screening of a original short documentary made by high school students from the Palm Springs, Desert Sands and Coachella Valley Unified School Districts will be shown at the Palm Springs Art Museum Annenberg Theatre at 12:30 p.m.

"Education has been at the heart of Desert X since our very first exhibition in 2017," Jenny Gil, executive director of Desert X, said in a statement. "Through programs like the Desert X Art Club, we've been able to empower young people across Coachella Valley to see themselves as artists, storytellers and change makers."

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale.

If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (855) 313-3319 or visit this Internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 111838-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 111838-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. A public auction sale to the highest bidder for cash, (cashier's check(s) must be made payable to National Default Servicing Corporation), drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state; will be held by the duly appointed trustee as shown below, of all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by the trustee in the hereinafter described property under and pursuant to a Deed of Trust described below. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The requirements of California Civil Code Section 2923.5(b)/(2923.55(c) were fulfilled when the Notice of Default was recorded. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 or visit this internet website www.ndscorp.com/sales, using the file number assigned to this case 19-20495-SPCA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are a "representative of all eligible tenant buyers" you may be able to purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 888-264-4010, or visit this internet website WWW.ndscorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 19-20495-SPCA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as a "representative of all eligible tenant buyers" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code, the potential rights described herein shall apply only to public auctions taking place on or after January 1, 2021, through December 31, 2025, unless later extended. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Janet Loftus, Janet Louise Loftus, Janet L. Loftus

Case No. PRR12501030
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Janet Loftus, Janet Louise Loftus, Janet L. Loftus.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by James Loftus in the Superior Court of California, County of Riverside.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that James Loftus be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held on 5/12/2025 at 8:30am in Department 12 located at 4050 Main St, Riverside, CA 92501.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866) 539-4173 or visit this Internet Website www.servicelinkauction.com, using the file number assigned to this case FHAS.477-1243. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. For sales conducted after January 1, 2021: NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (866) 539-4173, or visit this internet website www.servicelinkauction.com, using the file number assigned to this case FHAS.477-1243 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder,"

Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address www.nationwideposting.com or call Nationwide Posting & Publication at 916.939.0772 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA07001451-24-1. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 916.939.0772, or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA07001451-24-1 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address www.Auction.com or call Auction.com at 800.280.2832 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA05000435-18-4. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 800.280.2832, or visit this internet website www.Auction.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA05000435-18-4 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
