of Democrats.

Three months ago, conventional wisdom suggested that Gov. Gavin Newsom's redistricting plan faced a brutal uphill battle amid an impromptu 10-week campaign sprint.

But within minutes after polls closed at 8 p.m. Tuesday, The Associated Press and national news networks had already proclaimed that Proposition 50 would pass handily, with voters agreeing to temporarily suspend California's independently drawn maps and adopt ones gerrymandered in favor

Prop. 50's landslide victory proved that Newsom and his allies bet correctly on pitching the measure as a countermeasure to gerrymanders by Republican states such as Texas and an act of resistance against President Donald Trump.

It also spells the beginning of the end for several of California's Republican House members, who now must make the unpleasant calculation of whether to run in their current district, switch to a new seat or drop out entirely — questions they could previously dodge under the guise of "Prop. 50 won't pass."

VETERANS DAY WEEKEND FLAG PLACEMENT NIXED DUE TO GOVERNMENT SHUTDOWN

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - The annual mission to erect miniature American flags alongside tens of thousands of graves at Riverside National Cemetery on the weekend before Veterans Day was nixed this year because of challenges stemming from the federal government shutdown, organizers said Wednesday.

"Due to the ongoing government shutdown, our official flag placement ceremony at ... the cemetery will not take place," Honoring Our Fallen CEO Laura Herzog said. "This decision was not made lightly; it comes after careful consideration of the significant staffing reductions and various logistical challenges we are facing, including limited access to facilities, trash management and traffic control."

Traditionally, the nonprofit's volunteers, which typically include Boy Scout troops, Civil Air Patrol cadets, members of various unions and their families, former military personnel and others, deploy the weekend prior to Veterans Day for a four-hour walk throughout the cemetery's 900 acres -- 70 sections -- to erect the small flags, routinely reaching all of the nearly 250,000 burial plots.

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs' National Cemetery Administration manages Riverside National Cemetery. Its staffing levels have been cut back amid the federal furloughs that started a month ago amid congressional and Executive Office conflicts that led to the shutdown.

Person Rescued After 15-Foot Fall into Septic Tank in Norco

NORCO (CNS) - Firefighters successfully rescued a person who fell into a residential septic tank in Norco Saturday.

Crews responded to the 5400 block of Bluff Street at around 11:40 a.m. Saturday to a report of a person who fell into a residential septic tank about 15 feet deep, according to the Riverside County Fire Department.

Firefighters were using a ground ladder for access. The Riverside County Sheriff's Department and the Department of Environmental Health were requested to assist.

The person was successfully extricated at about 12:30 p.m. and taken to a hospital with minor injuries, authorities said.

"While we cannot proceed with the formal event, we encourage everyone to visit the cemetery to place a flag in honor of your veteran, friends or loved ones," Herzog said. "The cemetery remains open for this purpose. The dedication to honoring our veterans is invaluable, and we appreciate your cooperation as we navigate these circumstances together."

The walks, first organized in 2012, are conducted not only on Veterans Day but also Memorial Day weekend. Both were rescinded in 2020 because of the COVID-19 lockdowns but returned in 2021.

When they first started, volunteers were able to reach only 21,000 grave sites. In 2014, organizers were able to procure enough flags and enlist a sufficient number of people to plant the Stars & Stripes next to just about all of the final resting places of individuals interred at the cemetery.

Since then, the number of volunteers has grown significantly. The cemetery is the third-largest of its kind in the nation.

What a Federal Reserve Rate Cut Means for Your Finances

By CORA LEWIS Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Reserve cut its benchmark interest rate by a quarter point Wednesday for the second time since September. Before that, it had gone nine months without a cut.

The federal funds rate is the rate at which banks borrow and lend to one another. While the rates consumers pay to borrow money aren't directly linked to this rate, shifts affect what you pay for credit cards, auto loans, mortgages, and other financial products.

"While the full economic impact of such a move will unfold over time, early indicators suggest that even modest rate cuts can have meaningful consequences for consumer behavior and financial health," said Michele Raneri, vice president and head of U.S. research at credit reporting agency TransUnion.

The Fed has two goals when it sets the rate: one, to manage prices for goods and services, and two, to encourage full employment. Typically, the Fed might increase the rate to try to bring down inflation and decrease it to encourage faster economic growth and increase hiring. The challenge now is that inflation is higher than the Fed's 2% target but the job market has been weak. The government shutdown has also prevented the collection and release of data the Fed relies on to monitor the health of the economy.

Still, the Fed has projected it will cut rates once more before the end of the year.

Here's what to know:

Interest on savings accounts won't be as appealing

For savers, falling interest rates will slowly erode attractive yields currently on offer with certificates of deposit (CDs) and high-yield savings accounts.

Three of the top five high yield savings accounts had rate cuts after the last Fed rate cut in September, according to Ken Tumin, founder of DepositAccounts.com, while two of the big five banks (Ally and Discover/Capital One) cut their savings account rates. The top rates for high yield savings account right now remain around 4.46% to 4.6%.

Those are still better than the trends of recent years, and a good option for consumers who want to earn a return on money they may want to access in the near-term. A high yield savings account generally has a much higher annual percentage yield than a traditional savings account. The national average for traditional savings accounts is currently 0.63%, according to Bankrate.

There may be a few accounts with returns of about 4% through the end of 2025, according to Tumin, but the Fed cuts will filter down to these offerings, lowering the average yields as they do.

Buying a car is one of life's bigger financial decisions—and timing can make all the difference.

But according to auto experts at Wells Fargo, the best time to buy a car isn't about chasing seasonal sales or waiting for tax credits. It's about being prepared before the need becomes urgent.

"It's just a reality that buying when you absolutely have to can limit your ability to get a good deal," said Robert Lyles, retail auto relationship management director, East Market for Wells Fargo Auto. "Doing your research, knowing what you're looking for, and understanding how much you can afford will give you a leg up when it's time to negotiate."

So how do you know when you're ready? It starts with understanding your finances. Michael Meganck, retail auto relationship management director, West Market, advises buyers to begin with a clear budget. "Buying a vehicle is exciting, but it can be overwhelming. Start with the basics: what you can afford, how you plan to use the vehicle, what size you need, and gas mileage."

If you're financing a car, know your interest rate, total amount financed, monthly payments, and whether there

"Mortgage rates, in particular, have responded swiftly," said Raneri. "Just in the past week, they fell to their lowest level in over a year. While mortgage rates don't always move in lockstep with the Fed's target rate — often pricing in anticipated future cuts, the continued easing of monetary policy may well push rates are prepayment penalties. Consider the loan length—while longer terms like 84 months may lower monthly payments, they can cost more over time. Also, educate yourself about the aftermarket products and services that may be purchased with your vehicle and ask questions at the time of closing if you are unclear.

Industry trends also play a role. Reports from Edmunds and Kelley Blue Book show car prices remain high, with average transaction prices rising year over year. "New car prices are at some of their highest levels in the last decade," said Meganck. "That's why longer financing terms are becoming more common."

Leasing may be a smart alternative for those who don't keep cars long term. "Understand what's happening in the market and how that ties into the monthly budget you've already created," Lyles added.

To stay within budget, explore manufacturer incentives and promotions, understand the fine print, and know your credit score—it can impact your interest rate and loan terms.

Research is more important than ever. Today's buyers often visit up to 11 websites even lower."

Bankrate financial analyst Stephen Kates said a declining interest rate environment will provide some relief for borrowers over time.

"Whether it's a homeowner with a 7% mortgage or a recent graduate hoping to refinance student loans and before stepping into a dealership. "It's not surprising to get customers who are as informed as the people selling the cars," said Lyles. Dealerships also use AI tools to adjust pricing based on market conditions, so being informed helps you spot a fair deal.

Take your time at the dealership. Test drive vehicles, use services like Carfax for used cars, and research warranties. "Give yourself time to evaluate your options," Lyles advised.

While traditional timing strategies like month-end shopping are less effective today, seasonal trends still offer opportunities. Spring sees higher demand due to tax refunds, while summer holidays may bring discounts. Fall is ideal for new model clear-outs, and winter can offer deals on convertibles and used inventory.

Why a NEW CALIFORNIA LAW Could Change the Way All Americans Browse the Internet

BY COLIN LECHER,
CalMatters

The privacy changes web browsers will be required to make under a new California law could set the de facto standard for the entire country, changing how Americans control their data when using the internet, according to experts.

Assembly Bill 566, recently signed into law by Gov. Gavin Newsom, requires companies that make web browsers to offer users an opt-out “signal” that automatically tells websites not to share or sell their personal information as they browse.

It will likely be easier for companies to roll out the service for the entire country, rather than for users only in California.

“It’s such a trivial implementation,” said Emory Roane, associate director of policy at Privacy Rights Clearinghouse, an organization that pushed for the legislation. “It’s really not that difficult technically.”

The legislation, a first of its kind in the country, was sponsored by the California Privacy Protection Agency, the state’s consumer privacy watchdog, as well as several consumer advocacy and privacy rights groups.

Under the law, browsers like

Google’s Chrome and Microsoft’s Edge will have until the beginning of 2027 to create a way for consumers to select the signal. Combined with recent changes from other states, the new law could be a tipping point in how web traffic is treated in the United States.

“We expect it to have a national impact,” Roane said.

A national standard

California already offers privacy protections under the California Consumer Privacy Act, including a right to go to every individual website and click the link saying you ‘don’t want your information sold or shared,’ that’s not really a meaningful privacy right,” said Caitriona Fitzgerald, deputy director of the Electronic Privacy Information Center, another organization that pressed for AB 566.

“We expect it to have a national impact.”

~ EMORY ROANE, PRIVACY RIGHTS CLEARINGHOUSE

Already, some browser makers have voluntarily offered similar settings under a framework called the Global Privacy Control. Mozilla’s Firefox, for example, includes a setting called “tell websites not to sell or share your data.” With that setting on, the browser communicates to sites that the visitor wants the site to respect the user’s preference.

Several states, including Texas and New Jersey, have moved to force companies to respect such preferences, and California’s attorney general to opt out from having their information sold.

But advocates for the new law point out this still puts the burden on the consumer to navigate to web pages and individually select web pages to opt out from. The new tool will effectively automate that process, giving consumers a single toggle to keep their data protected.

“I would argue if you have

Prop 50

But it’s not yet clear how widely Prop. 50’s influence will stretch outside of California. The five-seat gain for Democrats could offset at least some redistricting efforts in Republican states, although Republicans stand to gain more seats from an all-out redistricting arms race.

Then there’s the looming possibility that the U.S. Supreme Court will outlaw the use of race in the redistricting process, which could give Republicans a major advantage in Southern states.

Opponents also haven’t given up, despite losing at the ballot box.

Just over 12 hours after polls closed, California Republicans announced a lawsuit challenging Prop. 50 in a Fresno-based federal court on the grounds that it violates the 14th and 15th Amendments by drawing districts that favor Latino voters at the expense of other ethnic and racial groups.

All the while, incumbents and challengers on both sides of the aisle are scrambling to mark their turf in whichever newly drawn district they think will give them the best chance of winning, which could lead to some tense and expensive intra-party matchups.

As all eyes turn to 2026, here are five key takeaways from Prop. 50’s success and what comes next:

Democrats leveraged Trump and national politics

Newsom repeatedly told Californians that a vote for Prop. 50 was a vote against Trump.

It worked.

Droves of Democratic voters who were hungry to “do something” meaningful to fight back against what they perceived as an out-of-control Trump administration weighed in on a single-issue ballot measure. With thousands of outstanding ballots still to count, the measure was leading by a 64% to 36% margin Wednesday. Secretary of State Shirley Weber said there was “huge turnout” in person Tuesday night, with long lines wrapping around buildings at many polling sites.

The nationalization of the campaign, which harnessed many Californians’ palpable fear of and disgust with the actions coming out of Washington, drowned out the good governance case that Prop. 50 opponents tried to push.

Absent the “Trump effect,” an argument against gerrymandering likely would have played well in California, a state that just 15 years ago voted to take map-drawing powers away from politicians and give them to citizens.

The opposition lacked money and a clear message

While the Yes campaign focused on antagonizing Trump, the opposition steered clear of the president and settled instead on a California-focused good governance message that avoided national politics altogether.

To Cathy Abernathy, a Bakersfield-based Republican political operative and longtime mentor of former Speaker Kevin McCarthy, that was a big mistake.

“The word was, ‘Well, don’t make it about Trump,’” Abernathy said. “Why in the world aren’t we making it all about Trump?” she added. “Trump didn’t even campaign here for president and got 40% of the vote.”

Abernathy also criticized the state Republican Party for its sloppy get out the vote mailing blitz, which wasted precious money by failing to target only voters who hadn’t yet returned their ballots, sending mailers to thousands of people who had already voted. She placed the blame on consultants who cared more about making money than winning elections.

“I just don’t think there’s respect for the money donated to the party by the people that are spending the money,” she said.

Let the musical chairs begin

Now that voters have approved Prop. 50, a major shuffle is underway as some incumbents scramble to preserve their careers in newly redistricted seats while challengers jockey for the chance to unseat them.

Five congressional Republicans in California, Reps. Doug LaMalfa, Kevin Kiley, David Valadao, Ken Calvert and Darrell Issa, face much steeper challenges to retaining their seats. And on the defensive side, five incumbent Democrats — Reps. Adam Gray, Josh Harder, Dave Min, Derek Tran and George Whitesides — have seen their seats grow safer.

Among the incumbents switching districts is Calvert, who for more than 30 years has represented a Riverside County district that was redrawn eastward into Los Angeles County. He announced Wednesday that he would instead run for reelection in the neighboring 40th District, setting up an intraparty showdown with fellow incumbent Republican Rep. Young Kim. Kim upped the stakes Wednesday by announcing that her campaign has already placed a $3.25 million ad buy in advance of the June primary election.

On the Democratic side, Rep. Ami Bera announced he would challenge Kiley in the newly gerrymandered 3rd District, which encompasses Sacramento suburbs. That in turn prompted Dr. Richard Pan, a former state senator and a pediatrician who had already declared his candidacy, to relocate to the newly drawn 6th District to avoid a tough primary battle with a well-known incumbent.

Legal challenges could change the maps again

California Republicans on Wednesday sued to block the Prop. 50 map, as they previously did twice, unsuccessfully, when the proposal was still on its way to the ballot.

The suit, funded primarily by the National Republican Congressional Committee, claims the map causes "stigmatic and representational injury" by placing certain candidates, such as Republican Assemblymember David Tangipa of Fresno, who is Polynesian, into districts drawn with a specific racial or ethnic minority group in mind.

"The map is designed to favor one race of California voters over others," said Mike Columbo, an attorney for the Dhillon Law Group, the firm founded by Harmeet Dhillon, assistant attorney general for civil rights in Trump's Justice Department.

Dhillon's firm, along with the California Republican Party and Tangipa, is suing Newsom and Weber, asking a three-judge panel for a temporary restraining order before Dec. 19, the date when candidates can start collecting signatures to get their names on the 2026 primary ballot.

Legal scholars say the case faces long odds. The plaintiffs would have to prove that the primary intent of the map drawers — and California voters who approved Prop. 50 — was to racially gerrymander without proper evidence of racially polarized voting.

"It would be a very hard case to win," said Emily Rong Zhang, an assistant professor of law at the University of California at Berkeley School of Law. "But if the Supreme Court changes the law, then the likelihood of success here might be higher."

The justices are weighing Louisiana v. Callais, on whether to strike down the part of the Voting Rights Act that requires creating districts in which racial and ethnic minorities have a chance to elect their preferred candidate. That could render both the Prop. 50 maps and those drawn by the independent redistricting commission unconstitutional.

Supporters of Prop. 50 have repeatedly said their maps will hold up to legal scrutiny. Paul Mitchell, the data consultant whose firm drew the lines, said the group in many cases hewed closely to configurations proposed by the citizens redistricting commission. An analysis by the nonpartisan Public Policy Institute found the new maps largely kept communities together.

Regardless of how SCOTUS rules, other states are still deciding whether to weigh in on the redistricting wars. Republicans in Kansas recently dropped an attempt to redraw their district lines, citing a lack of support. Maryland Gov. Wes Moore, a Democrat, announced Wednesday that he was forming a committee to propose new congressional maps to eliminate the state's one safe Republican seat, held by Rep. Andy Harris, who leads the ultra-conservative House Freedom Caucus.

Overcrowding at San Jacinto Animal Shelter Prompts Request for Help

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - The Riverside County Department of Animal Services sounded the alarm Tuesday about overcrowding at the San Jacinto Valley Animal Campus, where a rapid rise in impounded canines has squeezed space to the limit, prompting officials to appeal to the public for help with adoptions, as well as temporary fostering.

"Operating in critical over-capacity puts animals at risk of sickness or injury and is not safe for pets or staff," agency Director Mary Martin said. "We need to be ready to continue receiving animals that have nowhere else to go, and we are hoping the community is willing to open their homes now more than ever to save lives."

The San Jacinto Valley Animal Campus has twice the number of dogs it can reasonably accommodate in pens, officials said. They've set a goal of adopting out or sending at least 30 large canines to pet fosters by Thursday.

Fostering entails taking an impounded animal home for set periods, from a few weeks to a few months, without any obligation to formally adopt. Pets are eligible to receive no-cost veterinary care from the county while in foster homes.

In recent months, there's been an elevated number of domesticated animals dumped or abandoned around the Riverside metropolitan area, reflected in social media posts and other channels, possibly related to cost-of-living burdens.

"Shelter overcrowding means some animals are at-risk of euthanasia simply due to lack of space and the inability to properly care for them," the Department of Animal Services stated. "All pets are available for adoption at no cost and include spay/neuter, microchips, vaccinations and an engraved ID tag."

The San Jacinto facility is open Tuesday to Friday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In May, the board approved a "no kill" policy, resolving that the county would make it an objective to preserve the lives of a minimum of 90% of all cats and dogs impounded at the county's four shelters annually.

The policy entails greater emphasis on free or low-cost spay and neuter clinics, enhanced return-to-owner programs that unite lost pets with their loved ones, adoption campaigns with full fee waivers and expedited "trap-neuter-return-to-field" programs for cats that were inaugurated in March 2024.

The no-kill effort dovetails with a reformation initiated last year by the board. One organization previously alleged that the county had the highest pet "kill rate" in the nation.

three years after the Fed raised its benchmark interest rate starting in early 2022. Those are not expected to decline anytime soon. While a cut will contribute to eventual relief, it might be slow in arriving, analysts say.

"If the auto market starts to freeze up and people aren't buying cars, then we may see lending margins start to shrink, but auto loan rates don't move in lockstep with the Fed rate," Kates said.

Prices for new cars remain at historically high levels, not adjusting for inflation.

Generally speaking, an auto loan annual percentage rate can run from about 4% to 30%. Bankrate's most recent weekly survey found that average auto loan interest rates are currently at 7.10% on a 60-month new car loan.

Credit card rate relief could be slow

Interest rates for credit cards are currently at an average of 20.01%, and the Fed's rate cut may be slow to be felt by anyone carrying a large amount of credit card debt. That said, any reduction is positive news.

"While inflation continues to exert pressure on household budgets, rate cuts offer a potential counterbalance by lowering debt servicing costs," Raneri said.

Still, the best thing for anyone carrying a large credit card balance is to prioritize paying down high-interest-rate debt, and to seek to transfer any amounts possible to lower APR cards or negotiate directly with credit card companies for accommodation.

Mission Inn Owner Dies Three Days Before 89th Birthday

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - The Riverside County Board of Supervisors declared Tuesday Duane Roberts Day on what would have been the 89th birthday of the man who saved the Mission Inn from demolition.

"There was a time when this cherished landmark faced an uncertain future -- until one man, Duane Roberts, stepped forward," Supervisor Jose Medina wrote on social media Sunday, one day after Roberts' death.

"With vision, courage, and a deep love for our community, he took on the monumental task of restoring the Mission Inn, reviving its beauty, and welcoming the world to experience its magic once more."

Medina was married at the Mission Inn, as was President Richard M. Nixon. He authored the motion proclaiming Tuesday as Duane Roberts Day.

has even taken legal action against businesses that fail to do so.

But until now, browsers haven't been required to offer a setting that uses the Global Privacy Control or another standard to communicate users' preferences. "There are browser extensions but those aren't very widely used," said Nick Doty, senior technologist at the Center for Democracy and Technology.

Since it would likely be burdensome for companies to carve out a way to only allow the signal to be used by Californians, according to experts, the tool will likely be available across the country. How, exactly, that will look still remains to be seen. The legislation doesn't require browser makers to use a specific standard. (Spokespeople for Google and Microsoft declined to comment on the companies' plans.)

There's still a risk that some websites may try to detect which state a visitor is from, and only respect the signal if they find the visitor is from a state that mandates it.

This is legally risky, though, according to Roane, who points out that AB 566 applies to residents of California, regardless of whether they're using the web from California.

"If I'm safe saying I'm a resident and you're assuming I'm not and you're flagrantly not respecting my privacy wishes, that is a violation of the law," Roane said.

Pushback from Google and the industry

The law didn't get across the finish line without friction. As CalMatters reported in September, despite not being publicly against the legislation, Google organized opposition to the bill through a group it backs financially.

AB 566 also wasn't the first attempt at such legislation. Newsom vetoed a similar, but slightly more expansive, version of the bill in 2024.

But now that the door is open, some advocates say they are going to continue to push to further expand privacy preferences.

Roane notes that legislation could be drafted that requires connected smart devices to offer an opt-out preference, or for vehicles that gather data on drivers to respect opt-out preference requests.

"We are finally, finally starting to have real privacy rights," Roane said, "but we're far away from them being really easy to exercise across the country and across the border and even in states like California where we have these rights."

TRANSPLANTING SHRUBS: Timing and Technique for a Thriving Garden

By JESSICA DAMIANO
Associated Press

It's the end of the gardening season, and those of us who've endured a less-than-perfect layout may be itching to move shrubs around. But proper timing is imperative.

I inadvertently planted a Clethra bush too close to a peach tree, and their intertwining branches have been taunting me all summer. But because the Clethra is a late-season bloomer, I'll have to wait a bit longer before I can safely move it.

As a general rule, shrubs (and shrubs will have larger roots than younger ones.

Your findings will guide your digging: New holes should be as close to twice the width of roots as possible -- and exactly as deep.

Always dig a hole for the plant's new home before removing it from the ground to minimize root exposure.

When possible, gently tie the plant's branches together to get a better view of the area you're digging. This step also helps prevent eye injuries from errant stems.

Take care to dig up as much of perennials) that bloom in late summer and fall should be transplanted in spring, just after they emerge from dormancy. This timing provides ample time for roots to establish before the plant's energy is redirected toward blooming.

Spring and early summer bloomers should be relocated in the fall, when their blossoms and, sometimes, foliage, are long gone.

Start with roots

Before attempting to dig up shrubs, research how deep and wide their roots typically grow. Shallow-rooted shrubs, like rhododendron, for instance, are easier to dig up than, say, manzanita, which have very deep root systems. Take the plant's age into account, too, as mature the roots as possible, plunging a sharp-edged shovel into the soil at what you estimate to be the roots' farthest point and working your way around the perimeter of the plant. Then, retrace your steps, this time with more force to insert the tool deeply enough to lift roots out of the ground from underneath.

Tips on planting

To avoid losing soil and damaging roots — as well as your back — place the entire shrub onto a tarp and drag the tarp to the new hole you've prepared.

Carefully slide the rootball into the hole and assess its depth. If necessary, remove the plant from the hole to add or remove soil as needed to ensure the point where

Floral Pumpkin Arrangements: A TABLESCAPE SHOWSTOPPER

By MIA ROTELL

Candles are lit, the centerpiece is arranged, and guests can't stop ogling the pumpkin in the middle of the table, bursting with flowers, "You have to tell me where you got that!" It's a tale told over and over again. The little lid balanced perfectly in the bursting bouquet, the vibrant flowers in the bright pumpkin, and it all fit in the palm of a hand. The pumpkin floral arrangements are a perfect show-stopping piece in any room — or for a Thanksgiving tablescape. These last up to three days.

What You'll Need:

- 1 mini pumpkin
- A kitchen knife or pumpkin carving knife
- A pen
- A spoon
- Floral foam thoroughly soaked in water ( 2.8 x 3.8 x 8.8 inches)
- 2 toothpicks
- A small bouquet

How to Make

It:

Step 1: Draw a circle around the stem of the mini pumpkin. (the circle will be about as big as a 50-cent piece)

Step 2: Follow the pen marks and cut the lid out with a knife. To make it easier, cut at a 45-degree angle — the tip of the knife is closest to the center. Don't go deep!

Step 3: Remove the lid from the pumpkin. If the lid is tough to remove, cut the circle a little wider — it's not going back in place.

Step 4: Cut the seeds off the underside of the lid and use a spoon to scoop out all the seeds inside the pumpkin. There should be no seeds in the pumpkin. Set the lid aside.

Step 5: Slightly push the block of soaked floral foam into the pumpkin's hole — there will be an imprint of the hole in the floral foam.

Step 6: Remove the floral foam from the pumpkin, turn it over so the imprint is facing up. With a knife, cut the floral foam a little bit wider

t h a n
the hole, straight down

Step 7: Push and twist the thick stick-like floral foam into the pumpkin. It doesn't have to be straight, and it will stick out of the pumpkin.

Step 8: Shave off the top of the foam — there should be at least 1 inch sticking out of the pumpkin.

Step 9: Stick two toothpicks opposite each other in the underside of the lid. Make sure they don't go all the way through the lid. Insert the other end of the toothpicks into the floral foam at an angle.

Step 10: Get the biggest flowers from the bouquet and cut the stems, so they're maximum 2 inches long, and stick into the floral foam.

Step 11: After the big flowers, cut and slide the little flowers into the foam — then slide in the leaves. Make sure there are no blank spaces!

Tip: The block of floral foam must be soaked all the way through — do it for at least 12 hours. To make a flower smaller, pull leaves off the stem or pull out some petals.

its roots meet the trunk —the plant's crown —sits at the same level it was previously.

Plant too deeply, and the crown and trunk will eventually rot; too shallow, and the roots will dry out, suffer sun and cold damage, and struggle to spread horizontally.

When you're satisfied the shrub is sitting straight and at the correct depth, begin backfilling the hole with soil, stopping periodically to firmly tamp it down to eliminate air pockets. Water the soil halfway through, then resume backfilling and tamping. Water the soil again, then apply mulch over the entire root zone to retain soil moisture, regulate soil temperature and repel weeds.

Water the plant regularly through frost during the entire first year in its new home, but don't fertilize yet.

PURPLE SWEET POTATO

By CONNOR FORBES

A purple sweet potato, or yam or ube, landed on my counter and I thought, wow, that is a cool looking tuber. I wanted to treat it just like any other sweet potato. Roasting is always a good option but for the little crispy bits on the edges I like to sauté them in a pan. These are sweet, savory, and the perfect side dish for almost any meal. You can sub out regular sweet potato if you can't find a purple one.

Ingredients

- 1 large Purple Sweet Potato
- 2 tbsp oil
- 2 tbsp honey
- 1 tsp salt

To Make

Peel sweet potato. Cut

no reason fish sticks, which really can be very tasty, can't be lent a little class by pairing them with marquee ingredients, such as fresh-from-the-vine heirloom tomatoes.

Panzanella, a rustic Italian salad made of chunks of yesterday's bread brought back to life with the juice of fresh tomatoes, herbs, and crunchy sweet onions, is a perfect starting point for changing one's mind about fish sticks.

In this recipe from Andrew Zimmern and Barton Seaver's "The Blue Food Cookbook," crunchy, just-cooked fish sticks replace the bread and perform their task marvelously.

FISH STICK "PANZANELLA"

Serves: 4

Ingredients:

- 12 ounces prepared breaded fish sticks
- 2 tablespoons whole grain mustard

- 1/2 cup extra-virgin olive oil
- 1/4 cup red wine vinegar
- Salt
- 1 1/2 pounds heirloom tomatoes, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 red onion, thinly sliced (about 1 cup)
- 1 fennel bulb, thinly sliced (about 1 1/2 cups)
- 4 cups arugula
- Freshly cracked Black Pepper-Fennel Blend or black pepper

Directions:

Prepare the fish sticks according to the package instructions, adding a minute or two additional cooking time so they are extra crispy.

Whisk the mustard, oil, vinegar, and salt to taste in a large bowl to make a vinaigrette. Place the tomatoes in a separate bowl, drizzle with a few spoonfuls of the vinaigrette, and season with salt.

Combine the onion, fennel and arugula, in the bowl with the vinaigrette and toss. Remove the fish sticks from the oven. Cut or tear each stick into pieces roughly the size of croutons (about 3 pieces per fish stick). To serve, place the fennel-arugula mixture onto a platter or plates and top with the seasoned tomatoes and the warm fish stick pieces. Sprinkle with pepper-fennel blend.

“BLACK PHONE 2”

By BOB GARVER

How is it that Halloween of 2025 couldn't give us a better horror movie than “Black Phone 2”? It's not that I'm shocked that a Halloween horror movie is a disappointment. I'm just shocked that we got such a disappointing movie this year. 2025 has been such a banner year for horror thus far. “Sinners,” “Weapons,” “Final Destination: Bloodlines,” and “The Conjuring: Last Rites” were all blockbusters. There's serious Oscar talk around those first two films, the latter two are the best box office performers of their respective franchises. We should have gotten a film that could stand alongside those giants for Halloween.

Instead, we got “Black Phone 2,” a movie that has barely scrounged up an estimated $60 million at the domestic box office in its three weekends of release. With Halloween over, the film is not only highly unlikely to wind up a blockbuster, it's highly unlikely to make more than its 2022 predecessor. It might even fall short of preventing already-notorious flop “Tron: Ares” from being the biggest release of October 2025. That covers the commercial disappointment. Creatively, the film has its defenders (it currently has a “Certified Fresh” 72% rating on Rotten Tomatoes), but I personally found it to be similarly disappointing.

The film takes place in 1982, four years after the original, where teenager Finney Blake (Mason Thames) managed to overcome and kill serial child murderer The Grabber (Ethan Hawke) by talking to the villain's past victims with the help of the mysterious Black Phone. Now Finney and his sister Gwen (Madelaine McGraw) are trying to move on with their lives, despite him not being able to overcome his trauma and her unable to stop having violent psychic visions. She thinks they need to go on a mission of some kind at the behest of their late mother.

The kids' journey takes them to a snowed-in Christian youth camp that their mother attended 25 years ago. Gwen's visions start to intensify and she has increasingly severe nightmares and sleepwalking episodes. Also, despite the camp's director (Demián Bechir) insisting that it is inoperative, Finney starts getting calls on the camp's (Black) pay Phone. Some of the calls are from scared children that Finney has never met, though whom Gwen has seen in her dreams. But one call is from The Grabber. Somehow he can still make things happen from beyond the grave. And one of the things he wants to make happen is revenge.

Early stages of the film show promise. We don't know exactly what tools the dead Grabber has at his disposal, so we don't know how he can affect the characters and the world around them. He could do something shocking. But as the film goes along and he shows his hand more and more, he gets less and less scary. By the end, he's basically a less-smart Freddy Krueger, and the film has taken on the unfunny slapstick of a late-stage “Nightmare on Elm Street” sequel.

Speaking of sequels with diminishing returns, “Black Phone 2” is guilty of running several halfway decent ideas into the ground. Gwen had a memorably-profanely outburst in the first movie, this one has her go on about a half-dozen over-rehearsed vulgar tirades. The first movie was good at heartfelt inter-family dialogue, this movie gets so wordy that it feels about twenty minutes too long. Most overdone is the trope of showing grainy footage of murder victims in happier times, followed by “horrific” footage. This is because director Scott Derrickson employed the same trick in his two “Sinister” movies before he made “The Black Phone,” so I've had to put up with this device for four movies now instead of two, and Derrickson isn't upping his game. “Black Phone 2” has had its Halloween heyday, and there's no point in seeing it now, without the kind of big responsive horror crowd that this movie desperately needs for it to even approach being fun.

Grade: C-

“Black Phone 2” is rated R for strong violent content, gore, teen drug use, and language. Its running time is 114 minutes.

‘Regretting You’ Makes $8.1 Million to Lead Slow Weekend Box Office

LOS ANGELES (CNS) - “Regretting You” grossed $8.1 million this weekend to lead all films in North America, according to industry estimates released Sunday.

The romantic drama, which stars Allison Williams, McKenna Grace and Dave Franco and is based on Colleen Hoover's best-selling 2019 novel, opened in third place last weekend with $12.8 million.

Blumhouse's horror film “Black Phone 2” was second with $8 million in its third weekend in theaters, Comscore reported.

The anime film “Chainsaw Man” grossed $6 million Friday through Sunday in its second week of release.

Director Yorgos Lanthimos' “Bugonia” opened with $4.8 million for fourth place, followed by a 40th anniversary re-release of “Back to the Future,” which took in $4.7 million.

Rounding out the top 10 domestic releases were “Springsteen: Deliver Me From Nowhere” ($3.8 million), “Tron: Ares” ($2.8 million), “Stitch Head” ($2.1 million), “Good Fortune” ($1.4 million) and “One Battle After Another” ($1.1 million).

Separately, Netflix's global phenomenon “KPop Demon Hunters” reportedly grossed about $5.3 million this weekend in its second big-screen go-around after the streaming giant released it for a limited time in August. Netflix doesn't officially report theatrical box office numbers.

This weekend's overall three-day box office haul was estimated at $49.8 million. The year-to-date total is $7.057 billion -- up 2.9% from the figure at this time last year, according to Comscore.

Halloween weekend is traditionally slow at the box office, and this year's business was likely further affected by a thrilling seven-game World Series that concluded Saturday night.

DoorDash, Riverside Partner in Possible Autonomous Vehicle Deliveries Plan

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - The city of Riverside and DoorDash announced a joint venture that may lead to autonomous -- robot -- deliveries via motorized carts to residences and businesses in the future.

"Riverside is leading the way in building a connected, innovative and sustainable city," Mayor Patricia Lock Dawson said in a statement. "Our partnership with DoorDash Labs reflects our vision to attract cutting-edge technology that strengthens our local economy, supports small businesses and improves quality of life for our residents."

The partnership with DoorDash Labs stems from talks between the parent company, which dispatches independent drivers nationwide via the DD app to deliver food and other products, and the city's Economic Development Team.

There is no revenue attached to the agreement.

The combined

effort will entail municipal agencies collaborating with DoorDash Labs to identify safe means for initiating "autonomous delivery robots on Riverside's streets," according to a city statement.

The program is called "Dot."

Proof-of-concept Dot demonstrations were conducted last week, during which the cart-size robot vehicles made pretend deliveries within a confined space, officials said.

"We're proud to be working with the city to advance the future of autonomous deliveries," DoorDash Labs Legislative Policy Adviser Henry Greenidge said. "Together, we can help shape a smarter and more sustainable future, where innovative technology like Dot can bring next-generation robotics out of the lab and into the community."

The city views the public-private enterprise as an opportunity to "strengthen small-business growth."

"It will also improve access to local restaurants and services, bringing tangible benefits to Riverside residents and small business owners alike," the city stated.

There was no mention of prospective future impacts to the independent drivers who make DoorDash deliveries for money.

County and State to Continue Joint Bollworm Battle Protecting Cotton Crops

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - The Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved the Riverside County Office of Agriculture Commissioner's contract with the state to monitor programs intended to ensure containment of any pink bollworm threats to cotton crops countywide.

The office has entered into agreements with the California Department of Food & Agriculture annually for the last decade or so to manage the Pink Bollworm Cotton Plowdown Program.

The new contract, valued at $5,000, is retroactive to Nov. 1 and expires on June 30, 2026.

Under the agreement, the county's agricultural inspectors will be responsible for tallying all acreage reserved for cotton crops and track whether those parcels where pink bollworm populations were previously identified remain plowed down, uncultivated.

No recent evidence has emerged of major bollworm activity in cotton growing areas of Riverside County.

However, the pest remains an ongoing concern to farmers statewide and throughout various locations in the Southwest United States, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Cotton crop production programs utilizing insecticides and radiation-sterilized male moths had netted successes slashing the pink bollworm population. The creatures resurfaced, however, and remained a persistent problem going into the early comprises about $13 million in value countywide.

Pink bollworms were first identified in the United States in 1917, arriving via Mexico, where agricultural officials said they were likely imported in trade with Egypt.

The pests originate from moths laying eggs in cotton bolls. The larvae consume cotton stalks from the inside out.

By the 1960s, agricultural 2000s, when farmers began planting genetically modified "Bt" cotton crops, which proved largely resistant to the creatures.

Despite this, the bollworms have evolved, in some cases developing the capability to penetrate the modified crops. Though their numbers are no longer a serious threat, crops where they're found have to be plowed down, officials said.

Said sale will be held, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, condition, or encumbrances, including fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust, to pay the remaining principal sums of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust. The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (855) 313-3319 or visit this Internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 124053-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 124053-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF:

FERNANDO JOSE PUGA CASTRO
CASE NO. PRR12503125
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contin-gent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of FERNANDO JOSE PUGA CASTRO.
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by ALMA DELIA PUGA in the Superior Court of California, County of RIVERSIDE.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that ALMA DELIA PUGA be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action). The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 11/25/25 at 8:30AM in Dept. 11 located at 4050 MAIN STREET,
RIVERSIDE, CA 92501
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing.
Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowlegeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown above. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. TO POTENTIAL BIDDER(S): If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction.
You will be bidding on alien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien.
If you are the highest bidder at the auction,
you are or may be responsible for paying off
all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorders office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one
mortgage or deed of trust on the property.
NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER(S): The
sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court,
pursuant to Section 2924g of the California
Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date

has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866-684-2727) or visit the website <http://www.servicelinkasap.com>, using the file number assigned to this case 24-252544. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled NOTICE TO TENANT(S): Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to California Civil Code Section 2924m. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last
and highest bid placed at the trustee auction.
There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48-hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (866-684-2727)
or visit the website <http://www.servicelinkasap.com>, using the file number assigned to this case 24-252544 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held,
the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place
a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15-days after the trustee's sale. Third,
you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45-days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder",
you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Robertson,

thereon, as provided in said note(s), advances, under the terms of said Deed of Trust, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is $648,823.65. The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located.
NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien,
you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one
mortgage or deed of trust on the property.
NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The
sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court,
pursuant to Section 2924g of the California
Civil Code. The law requires that information
about trustee sale postponements be made
available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If
you wish to learn whether your sale date
has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 833-561-0243 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site WWW.SALES.BD-FGROUP.COM for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case 00000010064376. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property
after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last
and highest bid placed at the trustee auction.

There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 833-561-0243, or visit this internet website WWW.SALES.BDFGROUP.COM using the file number assigned to this case 00000010064376 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. If you continue to have difficulty, call City of Corona Purchasing Department at 951-736-2274. Neither the City, nor PlanetBids, make any guarantee as to the timely availability of assistance, or assurance that any given problem will be resolved by the bid submission date and/or time.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish the City with a Performance Bond equal to 100% of the successful bid, and a Payment (Labor and Materials) Bond equal to 100% of the successful bid, prior to execution of the Contract. All bonds are to be secured from a surety that meets all of the State of California bonding requirements, as defined in Code of Civil Procedure Section 995.120, and is admitted by the State of California.

Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22300, the successful bidder may substitute certain securities for funds withheld by City to ensure performance under the Contract.

The Work is subject to the payment of not less than prevailing wages pursuant to Chapter 1 (beginning at Section 1720 et seq.) of Part 7 of Division 2 of the California Labor Code, as well as Title 8, Section 16000 et seq. of the California Code of Regulations ("Prevailing Wage Laws"). The Director of the Department of Industrial Relations ("DIR") has determined the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of worker needed to execute the Contract which will be awarded to the successful bidder, copies of which are on file and will be made available to any interested party upon request at Owners office or online at <http://www.dir.ca.gov/dlsr>. A copy of these rates shall be posted by the successful bidder at the Project site.

Pursuant to SB 854, which amended the Prevailing Wage Laws, this Contract is subject to compliance monitoring and enforcement by the DIR. Beginning March 1, 2015, with very limited exceptions no contractor or subcontractor may be listed on a bid proposal for this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. Beginning April 1, 2015, no contractor or subcontractor may be awarded this Contract unless registered with the DIR pursuant to Labor Code section 1725.5. The DIR registration number for each contractor and subcontractor must be identified on the bid proposal - failure to identify this number could result in the bid being rejected as non-responsive. It is each bidder's responsibility to ensure that they have fully complied with SB 854. The City will report all necessary contracts to the DIR as required by the Prevailing Wage Laws.

The successful bidder and their subcontractor(s) shall comply with all applicable Prevailing Wage Laws, which include, but are not limited to the payment of not less than the required prevailing rates to all workers employed by them in the execution of the Contract, the employment of apprentices, the hours of labor, the payment of overtime, and the debarmment of contractors and subcontractors. The successful bidder and all subcontractor(s) under him shall also be responsible for any and all violations and fines imposed on them pursuant to the Prevailing Wage Laws.

Before the Contract is awarded, the successful bidder shall be a licensed contractor pursuant to the Business and Professions Code and shall be licensed in the following appropriate classification(s) of contractor's license(s), for the work bid upon, and must maintain the license(s) throughout the duration of the Contract: a valid Class 'A' General Engineering sufficient to cover all of the work to be performed.

The successful bidder must fully comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations in furnishing or using equipment and/or providing services, including, but not limited to, emissions limits and permitting requirements imposed by the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD) and/or California Air Resources Board (CARB). Although the SCAQMD and CARB limits and requirements are broader, the successful bidder shall specifically be aware of their application to "portable equipment", which definition is considered by SCAQMD and CARB to include any item of equipment with a fuelpowered engine. The successful bidder will be required to indemnify City against any fines or penalties imposed by SCAQMD, CARB, or any other governmental or regulatory agency for violations of applicable laws, rules and/or regulations by the successful bidder, its subcontractors, or others for whom the successful bidder is responsible under its indemnity obligations.

CARB implemented amendments to the InUse OffRoad DieselFueled Fleets Regulations ("Regulation") which are effective on January 1, 2024 and apply broadly to all selfpropelled off road diesel vehicles 25 horsepower or greater and other forms of equipment used in California. A copy of the Regulation is available at: <https://ww2.arb.ca.gov/sites/default/files/barcu/regact/2022/offroaddiesel/appa-1.pdf>.

Bidders are required to comply with all CARB and Regulation requirements, including, without limitation, all applicable sections of the Regulation, as codified in Title 13 of the California Code of Regulations section 2449 et seq. throughout the duration of the Project. Bidders must provide, with their Bid, copies of Bidder's and all listed subcontractors' most recent, valid Certificate of Reported Compliance ("CRC") issued by CARB. Failure to provide valid CRCs as required herein may render the Bid non-responsive.

Award of Contract: The City shall award the Contract for the Project to the lowest responsive, responsible bidder as determined from the lowest total for the summation of the base bid Schedule A alone. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bids or in the bidding process.
