RIVERSIDE (CNS) - The Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved a $580 million project to establish an all-in-one medical campus providing a “range of services” for Riverside County residents of all ages.

In a 5-0 vote, the board formally signed off on the Riverside University Health System’s “Wellness Village,” a 19-acre facility slated for construction near the intersection of Harvill and Placentia avenues in Mead Valley.

A ceremonial groundbreaking at the site is tentatively set for the afternoon of June 1. Construction is expected to be completed in 2026, RUHS officials said.

“The RUHS Wellness Village represents a major shift in how we provide healthcare and will serve as a model for the state,” said Supervisor

Kevin Jeffries, whose First District encompasses the future campus. “By centralizing and enhancing access to health care, such as pediatric behavioral health services, we’re ensuring that families no longer need to travel out of county for essential care.”

Services set to be provided at the campus include general medical care, dental care, substance abuse therapy, pharmaceuticals, and possibly job training and educational programs later on, according to officials.

“This project is unlike anything else that’s been done,” RUHS Behavioral Health Director Dr. Matthew Chang said. “It will be a place where individuals of all ages can access a range of services in an environment designed to foster healing, community interaction and overall well-being. In terms of behavioral health treatment approaches, we are breaking new ground.”

Magnitude 4.1 Quake Shakes Inland Region

CORONA (CNS) - An earthquake centered roughly five miles southwest of Corona Wednesday rattled the Inland Empire, but there were no reports of damage.

According to the U.S. Geological Survey, the 4.1-magnitude temblor occurred at 1:49 p.m. at a subterranean depth of nearly a mile. The quake was originally reported as a 4.5 magnitude, then reduced to a 4.3 and ultimately to a 4.1.

The quake was felt in Riverside and began with a jolt, followed by moderate shaking that lasted about five seconds. It was felt as far away as West Los Angeles and the Long Beach area, too.

“The city of Corona immediately responded to the seismic event by surveying the affected area to ensure the safety and well-being of our residents and infrastructure,” Corona Fire Department spokesman Daniel Yonan said.

Cinco De Mayo Celebrants Warned Not to Imbibe and Drive

MORENO VALLEY (CNS) - Riverside County sheriff's deputies and officers from other law enforcement agencies throughout the region on Sunday will step up patrols to catch Cinco de Mayo celebrants who risk drinking, or drugging, and driving.

In Moreno Valley and Calimesa, anti-DUI enforcement deployments will be conducted all day Sunday, mostly involving saturation patrols.

"Don't put yourself and others on the road at risk by driving impaired," according to a statement released by the sheriff's Moreno Valley station. "If you're planning to celebrate with a drink or two, leave your keys at home and designate a sober driver."

In cities throughout the county, police officers will be closely monitoring traffic activity, enforcing a "zero tolerance" policy toward impaired driving, according to public safety officials.

They emphasized that party-goers have the option of calling a cab, using public transit or hailing a private ride service like Lyft or Uber.

A misdemeanor DUI conviction in California can result in fines up to $10,000, jail time and revocation of a driver's license.

SOLUTION TO THIS WEEKS PUZZLE

California Will Buy Cheaper Naloxone to Stop Fentanyl Deaths

By Lynn La and
Ana B. Ibarra,
CalMatters

California can buy more overdose-reversing medication at a lower price under a deal Gov. Gavin Newsom's office announced Monday with a pharmaceutical company, potentially giving law enforcement, schools and others more resources to address the state's fentanyl crisis.

Under a government-run pharmaceutical program called CalRx, California will purchase naloxone from New Jersey-based Amneal Pharmaceuticals at a discounted price of $24 for a two-pack of nasal sprays.

This means California can buy about 1.5 times more naloxone for the same price. That's 3.2 million twin-packs instead of the 2 million twin-packs purchased at the previous price of $41, Newsom's office announced.

The state purchases the medication and distributes it to schools, law enforcement agencies, county health departments, clinics and community organizations. Residents can obtain nalox-

Narcan nasal spray containers available at a rally at the First Street U.S. Courthouse in Los Angeles on April 22, 2024.

// By getting this lower price, we are making the financial savings and able to use our dollars to buy more product, which of course is ultimately very much about saving lives." - Elizabeth Landsberg, director of the Department of Health Care Access and Information one at no cost through one of these public groups. Otherwise, the market price for individuals at a pharmacy is about $50.

Just last week, Amneal Pharmaceuticals announced that it had received approval from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to sell its nasal spray naloxone over the counter. Amneal's nasal spray is a generic version of Narcan.

California's agreement is good for two years and can be extended, according to state health officials. The state expects to order its first units of naloxone from Amneal next month.

Since 2018, the Naloxone Distribution Project has given out 4.1 million kits of the medication. The state estimates that this has resulted in at least 260,000 overdose reversals.

Man Admits Selling Fentanyl, Meth in Perris

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - A 42-year-old man who sold large quantities of fentanyl and methamphetamine out of his Perris home pleaded guilty last Thursday to possession of controlled substances for sale and other offenses and was immediately sentenced to two years in state prison.

Miguel Angel Lopez admitted the possession count and a charge of child endangerment under a plea agreement with the Riverside County District Attorney's Office. In exchange for his admissions, prosecutors dropped three related felony charges against Lopez.

During a hearing at the Riverside Hall of Justice Thursday, Superior Court Judge Gail O'Rane certified the terms of the plea deal and imposed the sentence stipulated by the prosecution and defense.

According to sheriff's officials, Lopez came under investigation in early February after deputies were informed of drug trafficking at his home in the 1000 block of Ruby Drive, near Mildred Street.

Sheriff's Sgt. Kamal Kabbara said that Special Enforcement Bureau investigators served a search warrant at the property on the afternoon of Feb. 16 and "located and seized hundreds of multi-colored fentanyl pills, fentanyl powder, methamphetamine and thousands of dollars in cash."

"Additionally, deputies seized ballistic panels, ammunition and a collapsible baton," Kabbara said. "At the residence, deputies discovered a 12-year-old child alone in the vicinity of the narcotics."

The youth, whose identity was not disclosed and whose relationship to the defendant was not specified, was placed in the care of county Child Protective Services staff.

Lopez was taken into custody without incident.

According to court records, he had prior misdemeanor convictions for possession of controlled substances and illegal alteration of a firearm. He had no felony priors.

Preliminary data released earlier this year by the Department of Public Health showed there were 388 confirmed fentanyl-related fatalities countywide in 2023, a 23% decline from 2022, when there were 503.

Fentanyl is manufactured in overseas labs, principally in China, according to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, which says the synthetic opioid is smuggled across the U.S.-Mexico border by cartels.

The drug is 80-100 times more potent than morphine and can be mixed into any number of street narcotics and prescription drugs, without a user knowing what he or she is consuming. Ingestion of only two milligrams can be fatal.

Man, 19, Arrested for Alleged Homicide in Overdose Death

MURRIETA (CNS) - A 19-year-old Perris man was behind bars Saturday for allegedly selling drugs to a 22-year-old man who died as a result of a fentanyl overdose in Murrieta.

Miguel Angel Gonzalez was arrested last Thursday after detectives from the Murrieta Police Department's Special Enforcement Team and General Investigations Detective Bureau served a search warrant at his Perris residence, police said.

Gonzalez was booked into the Cois Byrd Detention Center on suspicion of homicide on a bail amount of $1 million.

The identity of the 22-year-old victim was not released. Murrieta police said officers responded to the 35000 block of Mitchell Road on Feb. 20 at around 9:15 p.m. to a report of a possible drug overdose.

An 'Impossible Situation': Why California Hospitals Are Suing a Major Health Insurer

By Kristen Hwang ,
CalMatters

Medical insurance delays can keep someone in a hospital bed much longer than they need to be waiting for after-care services like home health care. Those delays can also block hospitals from using beds needed for new patients.

California hospitals have long complained about those delays, and in a new lawsuit, they're suing one of the state's largest health insurers to force it to speed its approvals of secondary treatment.

The California Hospital Association, which represents more than 400 hospitals, filed the complaint against Anthem Blue Cross in Los Angeles County Superior Court Tuesday. The complaint alleges Anthem is violating the state's long-standing patient protection laws, which require insurers to provide health care in a timely manner, and engaging in unfair business practices. It also claims that Anthem refuses to pay for the excess hospital days caused by its delays.

"Anthem's misconduct creates an impossible situation for patients and hospitals," the lawsuit states.

Although the lawsuit targets Anthem, hospital association President Carmela Coyle said delayed discharges are an industry-wide problem.

"This is a long time coming," Coyle said. "California has some of the strongest laws in the nation governing insurance protection of patients, and these laws are violated every day."

A spokesperson for Anthem said the company did not have an immediate response and would be investigating the allegations.

Anthem is the largest health insurer in the state, excluding Kaiser Permanente which contracts almost exclusively with its own hospitals. Anthem represents approximately 6 million Californians, nearly twice as many as the next biggest insurer.

Every day, 4,500 Californians spend unnecessary time in hospital beds waiting for health insurers to approve their discharge to a secondary facility, a recent report from the California Hospital Association says. That results in 1 million days of needless hospital care annually, the report said.

Coyle said the association has raised the issue with the Department of Managed

Outbreak of E. Coli Linked to Organic Walnuts

CORONA - Combined Sources - At least a dozen people in California and Washington have been sickened with E. coli food poisoning linked to organic walnuts sold in bulk in 19 states, U.S. health officials said Tuesday. The nuts were sold in natural food and co-op stores such as Whole Foods and Market of Choice.

Seven people have been hospitalized and two have developed a dangerous kidney disease known as hemolytic uremic syndrome, officials with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention said.

Gibson Farms Inc. of Hollister, California, has recalled potentially affected walnuts with expiration dates between May 21, 2025 and June 7, 2025, the Food and Drug Administration said. Some stores may have repackaged bulk walnut pieces into clamshells or bags. The FDA has a list of stores where the walnuts were sold.

The Gibson Farms walnut pieces were distributed at stores in cities including Riverside and Rancho Mirage, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

The nuts are potentially contaminated with dangerous E. coli bacteria that can cause severe stomach cramps, diarrhea, including bloody diarrhea and vomiting. Symptoms start three to four days after consuming the food. Most people recover within five to seven days.

Consumers who bought organic walnuts from bulk containers should check to see if they're part of the recall. Recalled nuts should not be sold or served, the CDC said. Wash items and surfaces that may have come in contact with the nuts using hot soapy water or a dishwasher. Contact a health care provider about any symptoms.

A list of affected stores is available at fda.gov/media/178182/download?attachment.

3 Tips to Help Entrepreneurs Stay on Track

May is National Small Business Month, an annual opportunity to support the hard work of small business owners. The backbone of the nation's economy, small businesses employ 45.9% of the entire U.S. workforce and make up 99.9% of all U.S. businesses, according to the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Unfortunately, some small businesses don't have much in the way of resources, and often struggle to keep their doors open and their cash reserves in the black. Sometimes though, the difference between success and failure is capital, marketing and support. A reliable provider of essential small business services for more than 40 years, The UPS Store can help enable entrepreneurs to actualize their big ideas into success. It's also the nation's largest franchise system of retail shipping, postal, print and business service centers, meaning that many local store operators are small business owners themselves. In honor of National Small Business Month, the brand is offering entrepreneurs these three tips:

1. Be top of mind: Maintain a dialogue with your community and customers. Regularly refresh your social media channels with new content, maintain an e-newsletter, and of course, don't neglect traditional promotion. Save time by visiting a one-stop shop that can help you design, print and mail your marketing materials.

2. Protect yourself: Data theft is more common than ever as new threats emerge all the time. The Federal Trade Commission offers businesses free resources for improving their cybersecurity awareness. And when it's time to dispose of physical documents, be sure to use a trusted solution. You can securely shred unneeded business documents at The UPS Store locations nationwide.

3. Get inspired: Need some inspiration? Look no further than the Small Biz Challenge. This three-phase competition from The UPS Store and Inc. Business Media is a

Women Business Owners Lead with Passion and Optimism for Success

Passion, collaboration and community are keys to running a successful business. That's according to a recent survey of women business leaders as part of PNC's bi-annual Economic Outlook Survey.

Passion and personal satisfaction for their business or industry is a top factor women business leaders cited for starting and staying in business, with 43% of respondents choosing that over financial success (35%) – the next most common factor. This passion was one key differentiator between women and men business leaders, with only 28% of men reporting personal satisfaction as a primary driver of staying in business.

"For many women business owners, starting and running a business is born out of a personal interest or an opportunity to make a difference in the community," said Shana Peterson-Sheptak, head of Business Banking at PNC. "That's not at the expense of profitability, but it shows the power of being passionate or satisfied with what you do."

Positive Outlook

Respondents noted more than just passion for their businesses, though; they also reported optimism about the next six months, both for the economy and the success of their ventures. Women leaders were more likely than men to expect increases in demand (51% to 49%), sales (51% to 49%), prices of their goods and services (49% to 40%), and profits (52% to 43%) in the coming months. They also were more likely to expect their own compensation and retirement savings to increase – a significant change since PNC's Fall 2022 survey when women leaders were less likely than men to expect increases in those two metrics.

While both women and men leaders were highly optimistic about their near-term prospects for their business, women were significantly more likely to express confidence in the national and local economies than men, 64% to 51% and 72% to 60% respectively. Of those who expressed greater optimism for their business prospects than the national economy as a whole, nearly 80% of women leaders attributed their optimism to confidence in their own abilities.

"Better than expected economic performance in the first part of 2024 is creating optimism for many business leaders as a whole," Peterson-Sheptak said. "But women are especially confident that both their businesses will be successful in the coming months and their abilities as leaders will help make them so."

Providing Support

There are significant differences between men and women in terms of what they feel they need to succeed and how they prefer to receive support, according to the latest survey results. While peers in the field are the most popular form of support for both women and men business leaders (64% to 69%, respectively), women indicate they are more likely to consider support from community, friends and family vital to their business success than men (62% to 41%).

That support extends to banking relationships. PNC survey feedback has shown that women financial decision makers seek out relationships that extend beyond banking products and services to include financial education and community connections.

PNC cultivates relationships with women financial decision makers in many ways, including through the local cross line of business market teams led by PNC's more than 50 regional presidents coast to coast. Central to this year-round engagement is the company's network of more than 5,000 PNC-certified Women's Business Advocates who share a passion for helping women financial decision makers achieve their financial goals.

To learn more about PNC and how it supports women financial decision makers, visit www.pnc.com/women.

"Women entrepreneurs are leading with passion for their business, confidence, and optimism for the future," Peterson-Sheptak said. "We need to make sure we have the resources and people to support their success." (StatePoint)

Today in History:

Today is the 124th day of 2024.
There are 242 days left in the year.

By The Associated Press

Today's Highlight in History:

On May 3, 1948, the Supreme Court, in Shelley v. Kraemer, ruled that covenants prohibiting the sale of real estate to Blacks or members of other racial groups were legally unenforceable. A Black couple, J.D. and Ethel Shelley had purchased a duplex in St. Louis in 1945, but a neighbor, 10 blocks away, Luis Kraemer filed suit, claiming the neighborhood had a decades old covenant preventing "people of the Negro or Mongolian Race" from occupying the property. A protracted legal battle eventually came before the U.S. Supreme Court, which ruled it was a violation of the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

On this date:

In 1802, Washington, D.C. was incorporated as a city.

In 1937, Margaret Mitchell won the Pulitzer Prize for her novel, "Gone with the Wind."

In 1947, Japan's postwar constitution took effect.

In 1960, the Harvey Schmidt-Tom Jones musical "The Fantasticks" began a nearly 42-year run at New York's Sullivan Street Playhouse.

On May 3, 1979, Conservative Party leader Margaret Thatcher was chosen to become Britain's first female prime minister as the Tories ousted the incumbent Labour government in parliamentary elections.

In 1987, The Miami Herald said its reporters had observed a young woman spending "Friday night and most of Saturday" at a Washington townhouse belonging to Democratic presidential candidate Gary Hart. (The woman was later identified as Donna Rice; the resulting controversy torpedoed Hart's presidential bid.)

In 2006, a federal jury in Alexandria, Virginia, rejected the death penalty for al-Qaida conspirator Zacarias Moussaoui (zak-uh-REE'-uhs moo-SOW'-ee), deciding he should spend life in prison for his role in 9/11.

In 2009, Mexican President Felipe Calderon told state television that a nationwide shutdown and an aggressive informational campaign appeared to have helped curtail an outbreak of swine flu in Mexico.

In 2011, Chicago's Derrick Rose became at age 22 the NBA's youngest MVP.

In 2015, two gunmen were shot and killed by a police officer in Garland, Texas, after they opened fire outside a purposely provocative contest for cartoon depictions of the Prophet Muhammad.

In 2016, in a stunning triumph for a political outsider, Donald Trump all but clinched the Republican presidential nomination with a resounding victory in Indiana that knocked rival Ted Cruz out of the race.

In 2018, a federal grand jury in Detroit indicted former Volkswagen CEO Martin Winterkorn on charges stemming from the company's diesel emissions cheating scandal. (Under Germany's constitution, he could not be extradited to the U.S. to face charges.)

In 2021, Bill and Melinda Gates said they were divorcing after 27 years of marriage; the Microsoft co-founder and his wife said they would continue to work together at the world's largest private charitable foundation.

In 2022, President Joe Biden blasted as "radical" a leaked Supreme Court draft opinion throwing out the Roe v. Wade abortion rights ruling after 50 years. Chief Justice John Roberts said he had ordered an investigation into what he called an "egregious breach of trust."

"We are pleased to report that there has been no reported damage within the city at this time. However, our teams will continue to diligently evaluate and assess the situation to ensure ongoing safety."

Yonan said the event is a "reminder to our community that earthquakes can occur unexpectedly and anywhere," and he encouraged residents to be prepared by having "emergency kits" on hand in case of utility outages, as well as going through "drop, cover and hold on" drills to be ready for a major seismic occurrence.

Several smaller quakes happened in the same area on Tuesday, including a pair of 2.8-magnitude quakes between roughly 7:30 and 7:40 p.m., and a magnitude 2.5 shaker that struck at about 2 p.m.

In 2022, the latest year for which data is available, 7,385 people died from opioid overdoses; the vast majority of those were related to fentanyl.

Naloxone is perhaps the most common tool in aiding the opioid and fentanyl epidemic. It is available in the form of a nasal spray, but also in injectable form. It's largely effective and safe, and California has been pushing for its broader availability in common public spaces, including schools, restaurants and to ride-share drivers.

"We hope this will become as ubiquitous and as available as other key aspects of first aid kits," Landsberg said.

The state's contract with Amneal is the second one announced under the state's CalRx initiative, through which the Newsom administration is attempting to make life-saving drugs available below market rate. Newsom announced last year the state would make its own brand of insulin through a contract with Civica Rx. On Monday, Dr. Mark Ghaly, the state's Health and Human Services secretary, said there is no date yet on when California's insulin will be available.

skill sets and backgrounds, the mentors include professional life coaches, brilliant business owners, podcast hosts, creative directors, and bestselling authors. During National Small Business Month, three of the semifinalists will be chosen to compete live in Miami, Florida for a share of the grand prize of up to $35,000 and a feature in "Inc."

"Each year, this competition presents exhilarating and interactive ways to support and showcase small business owners and entrepreneurs from across the nation," said Michelle Van Slyke, senior vice president of marketing and sales at The UPS Store, Inc. "This year's competition returns even bigger and better to help small business owners grow and hone their skill set and therefore find customized solutions to complex challenges."

"Challengers"

By Bob Garver

Since "Challengers" begins practically at the end of its story, I think I'll begin this review by talking about the movie's ending. It ends, as we see in early scenes and is pretty predictable anyway, with feuding tennis stars Art (Mike Faist) and Patrick (Josh O'Connor) playing against each other in the finals of a tournament, with Art's wife Tashi (Zendaya) watching from the stands. While ultimately one player will have to win and one will have to lose, the real winners are fans of great tennis. As with the match, "Challengers" doesn't concern itself with things like results and fate, it just wants to give you a thrill in getting there.

The 2019 match between Art and Patrick is a framing device that we see throughout the film, but the story is mostly told through flashbacks, not all necessarily told in order. We go as far back as 2006 when Art and Patrick were doubles champions and best friends. They found themselves both smitten with up-and-comer Tashi, and they invited her back to their shared hotel room. A minor conflict arose when the two couldn't work out who between them would get some alone time with Tashi. They figured that she'd give an indication of who she'd prefer, but Tashi...didn't pick a side. Maybe it's just me reading too much into things, but I think the film's advertising has implied that more happens in the ensuing encounter. It's just a makeout scene with Tashi promising her phone number to the winner of an upcoming match between the two.

Patrick wins the match and Tashi's phone number, and he soon turns pro with Tashi as his girlfriend. Tashi and Art both attend Stanford with plans to turn pro after college, but also have some additional skills if tennis doesn't work out. A jealous Art engineers a fight between Patrick and Tashi, and although he didn't intend it to go quite so far, he's the only one there to comfort Tashi when she suffers a career-ending injury on the court.

Years later, Art has become an international superstar with Tashi as his wife and coach (though their marriage is hanging by a thread), while Patrick's career and life have deteriorated so badly that he's living out of his car. Apparently too much time away from Tashi will do that to a man. Art and Patrick both have to win this small-time tournament, Art to gain momentum going into the U.S. Open, Patrick to resurrect his fledgling career. Of course, they're really battling over Tashi all over again, as well as trying to one-up each other.

I mentioned this movie wanting to give its viewers a thrill on par with the intense final tennis match. After the early stages culminating in the scene in the hotel room, the movie pairs off Art, Patrick, and Tashi in combinations of two for the rest of the movie. The three banter, argue, and manipulate one another in a series of scenes whose snappiness is worthy of the comparison to a well-contested match. It's not exactly a nail-biting intensity, but the three keep up with each other in a complimentary fashion.

Where "Challengers" fell apart for me (aside from my inability to understand tennis scoring, so I kept thinking the climactic match was over when it wasn't, which affected the movie's momentum) was the utter un-likeability of the three main characters. Yes, they have good chemistry, but that's just another way of saying that these miserable people all deserve one another. It's one thing to cultivate conflicting opinions about who to root for because it makes for a lively debate. But did the movie have to make me wish that all three characters could lose somehow? I read an interview with Mike Faist where he described the characters' dynamic as "everyone's right and everyone's wrong." Ironically he's only right about the "everyone's wrong" part.

NANDI DOGANI

HERITAGE HIGH SCHOOL

Heritage High Principal Lindsay Chavez observes that Nandi Dogani leads with compassion.

"Her heart is always at the forefront of what she does, and Heritage High School is a better school community because of Nandi," the principal observed. Nandi is described as an exceptional leader in Heritage organizations including CSF and Link Crew. She is a scholar, graduating at the ripe age of 16-years-old. As an athlete, Nandi is competing in track. Nandi has set a high bar for her future. She plans to attend UC San Diego, double majoring in psychology and biology with aspirations of becoming a child and adolescent psychiatrist.

CAITLYN HOCSON

PALOMA VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL

When Caitlyn Hocson emigrated with her family from their native Philippines, as an eight-year-old,

the first obstacle was learning English. Challenge accepted; Caitlyn hurdled that obstacle with determination and perseverance and was noticed as an overachiever. At Paloma Valley High, Caitlyn has taken dual AP courses. AP Literature teacher, Lisa Brown commented on Caitlyn's effort. "In spite of all of the extracurricular activities that she's involved in, she stays on top of her work," Brown said. Caitlyn's next challenge is to further her education, possibly at UC Berkeley, and major in Biomed, with the intent of becoming an anesthesiologist.

LILA MONTEBON

LIBERTY HIGH SCHOOL

Like many artists before her, Lila Montebon is described as personally quiet, yet immensely expressive through her artistic endeavors. Liberty High principal

Dr. Erika Tejada described Lila as an introvert. But "A lot of her actions speak louder than words and are what she embodies and how she gets her friends and peers to move alongside her," Dr. Tejada reveals. The president of the Art Club, Lila is a talented, multi-faceted musician. A member of the Bison

Band, she's stepped up as music director and orchestra conductor as well. It's said that music heals, and Lila currently plans to apply that quality of healing in a different venue. She intends to attend either UC Irvine or UC Santa Cruz to study biology and become a nurse.

CARLOS MURILLO-VEGA

CALIFORNIA MILITARY INSTITUTE

When one is described as kind, courteous, and respectful with high integrity and character, they are living a gifted life. Those are the characteristics employed to describe CMI's Carlos Murillo-Vega, a recognized leader on campus. It is a position he readily accepts, serving as a youth leader at his church as well. Carlos shared that since middle school, he's felt a need to help others, and describes leadership as aiding and guiding others to realize their potential. This comports with his faith and belief that when God has a plan for you, it never fails. Carlos plans to attend Cal State San Bernardino with an eye toward a career as a detective.

TITUS WESTON

PERRIS HIGH SCHOOL

"There's no one I've seen at our school who has really enjoyed their time at high school like Titus," Perris High Principal Juan Santos shares about Titus Weston. It's an enthusiasm Titus displays on campus every day in his many activities including theater, choir, FFA, and the culinary program. Opportunities that Titus acknowledges he is grateful for having. Looking to pay forward his high school experiences, Titus is excited to share that he plans to continue his education at Mt. San Jacinto College and then transfer to San Diego State University majoring in English, with the intent of becoming a teacher.

Garlic and Blistered Tomato Chicken

In my quest to make chicken interesting in 100 different ways I came up with this savory treat. I had cherry tomatoes in the fridge and garlic on the counter. They were staring straight back at me and dared me to make something with them.

Now I love tomatoes. And blistered tomatoes give you the umami punch of tomatoes with the delectable bits of char.

And garlic is well, garlic. Delicious in all forms. In all meals. At all times.

I rounded this out with a hint of rosemary to marry all the flavors together and what we have is Garlic and Blistered Tomato Chicken. Serves 4-6.

Ingredients

- 2 pounds chicken
- 1.5 cups cherry tomatoes

- 1 head garlic, peeled
- 1 sprig rosemary
- 1 tbsp oil
- ¼ marsala wine *optional
- ½ tsp salt
- ½ tsp pepper

To Make

In a large sauté pan, heat oil on high heat. Add cherry tomatoes and let cook for 3 minutes. Mix and let cook for another 3 minutes. Turn heat down to medium. Add in chicken, salt and pepper. Let cook for 4-5 minutes. Flip chicken and then add whole garlic cloves and rosemary. If adding marsala wine add here. Cover. Cook until chicken is 165 degrees internal temperature. Remove from heat and let sit for 5 minutes. Serve and EAT! I ate this over brown rice with a side cucumber salad.

One of my favorite foods is Korean BBQ.

Not only do you get good meat, but you also get a bunch of side dishes you can nibble on like kimchi, bean sprouts, spinach, cucumbers and more.

That's actually one of my secrets for making a great meal. A side dish that compliments the main dish.

So here's a quick side dish you can pair with almost anything.

I love it with a simple grilled salmon. But if you're in a rush you can also have it with a side of rice or soba noodles.

Let me know what you think, fellow nibbler!

Zucchini and Onion Stir-fry

Ingredients (for 1-2):

- 1 medium zucchini, sliced in half and quartered
- ¼ onion, thick sliced
- 1 Tbsp. Soy sauce

- 1 tsp. oil
- Dash of sesame seeds

Directions:

1. In a small to medium sauté pan, heat oil and add all chopped zucchini and onions at the same time.

2. When it starts to sizzle lower heat to a medium. Cook until zucchini is fork tender but not too mushy about 7-10 minutes. Stir often. Add soy sauce in the last minute or two of cooking so it can evaporate a bit. Mix frequently while cooking.

3. Add a dash of sesame seeds right before serving.

I hope you try this new recipe! Snap a picture and tag me @chefjoannas on instagram so I see how yours came out.

Pro-Palestine Encampment Established at Center of UC Riverside

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - Students at UC Riverside established an encampment in the middle of campus to protest Israel's actions in Gaza, joining nearly a dozen universities across California and numerous nationwide to demand the school end "all investments and endowments" benefiting the Jewish state.

"We are joining the student movement, the student Intifada," according to an unnamed spokeswoman for Students for Justice in Palestine, UCR chapter. "We are not leaving this encampment day and night until the university complies and meets with us to discuss our demands."

The encampment was set up Monday, with several dozen tents placed on the green adjacent to the campus Bell Tower, recognized as the center of UCR.

Campus administrators did not immediately respond to requests for comment.

The specific number of students participating in the peaceful campus demonstration could not be confirmed. On Wednesday, a group of students staged a midday walkout from classes and held a rally at the tower, chanting "Israel is a racist state!" and "Free, free, free Palestine!"

There was no obvious law enforcement presence, and no campus buildings appeared to be obstructed.

The "demands" issued by the SJP UCR chapter included "a full transparent disclosure of all investments and endowments in weapons manufactures and the Israeli genocidal machine," as well as a "full divestment from weapons manufacturers and any corporations that either fund or profit off the genocidal machine."

The SJP-UCR representative noted there is no "standing university in Gaza" due to the unabated bombing campaign since early October conducted by the Israeli Defense Forces using U.S.-supplied drones and fighter-bombers.

The chapter spokeswoman alleged American "universities are complicit in the genocide," and the protests at UCR and other campuses are intended to "condemn war crimes and crimes against humanity."

Messages taped to the large UCR sign underneath the Bell Tower included "Stop the U.S.-funded Genocide"

"End the Occupation Now" and "Ceasefire Now!"

Estimates on the number of campuses where anti-war movements have surfaced over the last month vary, but according to the nonprofit National Students for Justice in Palestine, "solidarity encampments" numbered just over 70 as of May 1.

According to the Palestinian Ministry of Health and the International Committee of Red Cross-affiliated Palestine Red Crescent Society, nearly 35,000 people have been killed in Gaza -- over 14,500 of them children -- since the deadly Oct. 7 Hamas incursion into Israel, culminating in the IDF's invasion of the Gaza Strip.

The number of injuries is in excess of 77,000, according to published reports.

Israel's official casualty rate for the duration of hostilities is 8,730, of which just over 1,000 have been fatalities.

Along with universities, hospitals, refugee camps and residential complexes in Gaza have been targeted, displacing hundreds of thousands of people, according to reports from the region.

Human Rights Watch has alleged Israel "is using starvation of civilians as a method of warfare in the County Reminds Residents About Unclaimed Property Tax Refunds

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - Hundreds of Riverside County business owners and residents are owed property tax refunds, and officials Tuesday encouraged members of the public to find out whether they're on the list of prospective recipients.

According to Treasurer-Tax Collector Matthew Jennings, roughly $480,000 in refunds from tax year 2019 and further back is waiting to be claimed.

Amounts per recipient range from a few dollars to thousands of dollars.

The deadline to file a refund claim is Aug. 1. The Board of Supervisors will vote soon after that date on whether to transfer unclaimed money into the General Fund, or extend the claims deadline.

"Our office is working diligently to contact the potential claimants, in hopes that they will recoup these funds that are due back to them," Jennings said. "We will continue to exhaust all methods of communication to distribute these unclaimed funds to the rightful owner."

A complete list of individuals and businesses eligible for refunds can be found at <https://apps.countytreasurer.org/unclaimedrefund/>.

Information about how to file a claim is available via the portal. Interested parties may also call 951-955-3900 for assistance.

In previous years, the board postponed action on transfers to give prospective recipients additional time to file a claim. In 2017, officials began circulating notices in April about the availability of the unclaimed funds.

Under state law, the county is only obligated to hold unclaimed money for four years before it becomes government property.

According to Jennings, most of the refunds stem from changes in the property tax roll that occurred after a payment had been mailed, resulting in savings to the taxpayer.

When the Office of the Treasurer-Tax Collector sends a refund check and it's returned, it's placed in a holding account.

Public Hearing Set on Proposed Hikes to Environmental Health Fees

RIVERSIDE (CNS) - The Board of Supervisors Tuesday set a June 4 public hearing to consider a series of proposed increases to fees for permits issued by the Riverside County Department of Environmental Health, whose director pointed out the hikes being sought are not based solely on inflationary pressures.

"We're not using only the consumer price index model," agency Director Jeff Johnson told the board. "We're looking at the costs and assignments on our end ... (which are) variable across different aspects of what we regulate."

Johnson emphasized the department did not seek any fee adjustments for the current fiscal year and is now seeking to offset expenses that have grown beyond what the agency can absorb and stay within budget.

"We go back and analyze what we do. We ask if we can do some things better, create efficiencies," he said. "That's why I didn't come here last year and ask for a CPI adjustment. We've had to absorb costs internally, but we're a lean machine."

Supervisor Kevin Jeffries applauded the efficiency goal, saying he has never liked going along with other board members in applying a "rubber stamp and not ask what's driving increases."

"Anything that leads us to a process where we can see where the revenue challenges and the shortfalls are ... is a benefit," Jeffries said.

The permit and inspection fees the department is seeking to increase cover a broad regulatory scheme, from food facilities to farm stands, and swimming pools to septic tanks.

Among the higher fees slated for an increase is the permit for a community temporary event. The greater the number of vendors, the bigger the cost for a Department of Environmental Health review. A permit for an event featuring 26 to 30 vendors would go from $3,644 to $3,863, while an event with 56 to 60 vendors would rise from $7,202 to $7,634.

A catering permit would go from $527 to $563, while a produce stand permit would only rise $9 to $398.

The cost of a permit to sell unpackaged edibles from a mobile food facility would increase from $589 to $624, and to host a certified farmers market, a $543 fee would be required for a permit, compared to $522 currently.

The cost of a permit for installation of an underground storage tank would jump from $1,328 to $1,380, and the fee for closing an underground system would go from $944 to $962.

Among the smallest increases was for food handler certification, which is a $27 fee. It would bump up to $28 under the proposed amendments.

A few fees would be left unchanged, including the $140 inspection fee for a mobile home park and the 10-cent per page cost of clerical records supplied by the department.

Healthcare

Health Care, which oversees most health insurers.

In a statement, department spokesperson Kevin Durwara said the agency has been meeting with the hospital association to address hospitals' "concerns and challenges" with insurance delays since 2021. The meetings resulted in a letter issued to insurers in Fresno County, where hospital capacity was particularly limited, instructing them to make it easier for hospitals to discharge patients.

State law does not specify how quickly insurers must approve hospital discharges to post-acute care and that complaints about delays are addressed on a case-by-case basis, the statement said. State law does however define how quickly patients need to be able to see a doctor for appointments.

Anthem met the access standards for urgent and non-urgent appointments 66% of the time in 2022, according to the most recent state data.

How insurance delays hold back patients

In general, health insurers are required by law to arrange for and authorize post-hospitalization care for patients in a timely manner. For example, a stroke patient may no longer need to be hospitalized but may need to be sent to a skilled nursing facility to continue recovering. Hospitals are not allowed to discharge patients who need additional services without authorization from insurers.

Patients who no longer need to be hospitalized spend an average of 14 extra days in the hospital as a result of insurance delays, according to a recent point-in-time survey from the hospital association. Those who need to be transferred to a mental health facility are stuck for even longer, spending 27 unnecessary days in the hospital on average.

Medi-Cal patients fare the worst, accounting for 46% of all unwarranted hospital days, according to the survey.

"This is basically a daily occurrence," said Vicki White, chief nursing officer at Henry Mayo Newhall Hospital in Santa Clarita.

Across the state, the hospital association estimates delays cost hospitals an estimated $3.25 billion in unneeded hospitalization each year and contributes to overcrowded conditions in hospitals and emergency rooms.

Last winter during the seasonal respiratory virus surge, White said her emergency department had between 20-30 people waiting for a bed daily, in part, because discharge delays prevented the hospital from freeing up bed space.

"We are blocking 4,500 beds a day for people who need care," Coyle said. "That is a serious problem."

California doctors see long waits

The average number of days patients spend in hospitals increased by 9% in 2022 compared to 2019, partially because of discharge delays, according to a report from the California Health Care Foundation.

Dr. Sean Mairano, chief medical officer at Enloe Health in Chico, said in his experience insurance denials and delays have gotten worse over time. Frequently insurers will take days to respond to a request from a physician or won't respond at all.

For example, the lawsuit describes a patient with "catatonic schizophrenia" that needed to be admitted to a full-time psychiatric treatment center. The lawsuit alleges that Anthem's delays in finding an appropriate facility for the patient to be discharged to resulted in eight extra days of hospitalization.

"In extreme cases, people will be here for weeks or months on end awaiting decisions from insurance companies," Mairano said.

What results is patients not getting the speech or physical therapy or other services they need to fully recover. Sometimes, patients get so frustrated they leave the hospital against medical advice and end up back in the emergency room days later, Mairano said.

"From the clinician's standpoint it's obviously frustrating (but) it's really the patients who are stuck in the middle. It's not their fault. They're just trying to get well," Mairano said.

The property address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 1462 ALMOND DR., PERRIS, CA 92571 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed, advances thereunder, with interest as provided therein, and the unpaid principal balance of the Note secured by said Deed with interest thereon as provided in said Note, fees, charges and expenses of the trustee and the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case PFI-231858. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 916-939-0772, or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case PFI-231858 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Project Information

Project Location and Setting

The Project site is located within the City of Perris (City), in Riverside County, CA, near the intersection of Ramona Expressway and North Perris Boulevard (see Figure 1, Regional Location, and Figure 2, Project Location and Vicinity, attached at the end of this Notice of Preparation). The Project site consists of approximately 45.7 acres and contains disturbed vacant land that was previously used for agricultural purposes. The Project site is generally bounded by Ramona Expressway to the south, N. Perris Boulevard to the west, Perry Street to the north, and Redlands Avenue to the east. It encompasses Assessor’s Parcel Numbers (APNs) 302-130-002, -008, -018, -021, -022, -023, -024, and -027. The Project site is within the boundaries of the Perris Valley Commerce Center (PVCC) planning area.

The Project site is located about 1.4 miles south of March Air Reserve Base/Inland Port Airport (ARB/IPA) and is located within the March ARB/IPA Airport Influence Area Boundary and the City’s Airport Overlay Zone. The Project site is generally flat with elevations ranging between 1,450 and 1,460 feet above mean sea level, with stormwater runoff generally flowing to the southeast. An existing drainage swale is located along the north side of Ramona Expressway (i.e., along the southern edge of the project site), which is owned and maintained by the Riverside County Flood Control and Water Conservation District and runs in an eastward direction connecting to the Perris Valley Storm Drain about 1,850 feet to the east. As shown on Figure 3, Aerial Photograph (attached to this Notice of Preparation), land uses surrounding the Project site include a mix of undeveloped and developed land. Specifically, surrounding properties include undeveloped vacant land to the west, east and south; commercial uses to the west and south; industrial and warehouse development to the north and east; and a gas station and commercial uses immediately adjacent to the southwest. The Project site is located within the Mead Valley Area Plan of the Western Riverside County Multiple Species Habitat Conservation Plan (MSHCP). The Project site is not located within any MSHCP Criteria Cell or designated conservation area, Core or Linkage area, Mammal Survey Area, Amphibian Survey Area, Criteria Area Species Survey Area, Narrow Endemic Plant Species Survey Area, or Burrowing Owl Survey Area. The existing City of Perris General Plan land use designation for the Project site is PVCC SP – Perris Valley Commerce Center Specific Plan. The Perris Valley Commerce Center Specific Plan (PVCCSP) establishes the zoning for the properties within the PVCC planning area. The PVCCSP designates the site for Commercial uses. Commercial land use designations are identified immediately to the west and south. Light Industrial uses are designated to the north, while Light Industrial and Commercial designations are located immediately to the east. Multifamily residential uses (that currently include a mobile home park) occur approximately 300 feet south of the Project site at the closest point, beyond the existing commercial uses southeast of the intersection of Ramona Expressway and North Perris Boulevard.

Project Description

Development Plan Review (DPR) 24-00002 and 24-00003 are for the Proposed Industrial Warehouse Building and Commercial Development

Warehouse Building. Warehouse development would occur within the central portion of the Project site. The warehouse building would include 774,419 total square feet of a highcube fulfillment center warehouse building that includes 20,000 square feet of planned office area (see Figure 4). The tenant is not known at this time; therefore, for purposes of analysis, it is assumed that the building square footage would be operated as a highcube fulfillment center warehouse, and the building could operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The building would comply with applicable standards and guidelines outlined in the PVCCSP related to architecture and, in general, would have a modern industrial design. The building would have a maximum structural height of 50 feet. Required indoor and outdoor employee amenities would also be provided.

Commercial Retail Development. The Project Applicant proposes commercial retail/restaurant uses within the approximately 4.7-acre southern commercial site fronting along Ramona Expressway and future development of retail and restaurant uses within the approximately 4.8-acre western commercial site fronting along Perris Boulevard, as shown on Figures 5, Southern Commercial Conceptual Site Plan, and 6, Western Commercial Conceptual Site Plan. The proposed commercial development within the southern commercial site would include approximately 45,000 square feet of retail and food uses (comprised of 21,825 square feet of strip retail plaza use, a 5,000-squarefoot high turnover (sitdown) restaurant, 14,775 square feet of fastfood restaurant without drivethrough window use in line with retail use, and a 3,400-squarefoot fastfood restaurant with drivethrough window use). Although not currently included in the Project’s Development Plan Review request, future commercial development within the western commercial site would include approximately 25,000 square feet of retail and food uses (comprised of 18,000 square feet of strip retail/restaurant use and two fastfood restaurants with drivethrough windows totaling 4,000 square feet and 3,000 square feet, respectively). The buildings would comply with applicable standards and guidelines outlined in the PVCCSP related to architecture. The buildings would have a maximum building height of 45 feet. Access, Circulation, and Parking. The Project would provide three automobile access driveways off Perris Boulevard with rightin/rightout access only (one for warehouse access and two for access to the 4.8-acre future western retail component), and three truck and automobile access driveways off Perry Street with leftin/rightout access only for trucks and no turn restrictions for automobiles. The 4.7-acre southern retail component would have one rightin/rightout access driveway and one full signalized access driveway along Ramona Expressway. The proposed warehouse site plan includes 325 automobile parking stalls, 144 truck docks, and 177 trailer parking stalls. The southern commercial site plan includes 193 automobile parking spaces, while the western commercial site plan includes 172 automobile parking spaces. Bike racks would also be provided. Truck Routes. Trucks traveling to/from the Project site would be required to access PVCCSPdesignated truck routes. Directional signage would be provided onsite to direct drivers accordingly. Based on direction from the City, all trucks would access the warehouse facility only from Perry Street via Redlands Avenue, a PVCCSPdesignated truck route, to HarleyKnox Boulevard to the north to travel to and from I-215. No warehouse truck traffic would be permitted on Redlands Avenue south of Perry Street or anywhere along Perris Boulevard or Ramona Expressway. Two fullaccess designated driveways for trucks would be provided along Perry Street. The driveways would be modified to accommodate a 45-foot curb radius for the egress turning radius of trucks. Landscaping, Walls/Fences, and Lighting. Landscaped parkways would be provided along Ramona Expressway consistent with PVCCSP requirements, as Ramona Expressway is designated as an Expressway. To obstruct views from this thoroughfare, a 14-foothigh concrete screening wall would be provided along the boundary between the proposed retail and warehouse uses and landscaping would be provided along the Ramona Expressway and Perris Boulevard frontages of the retail portions of the Project site. A 14-foothigh concrete screening wall would also be provided along the warehouse facility’s Perry Street frontage on the north. Landscaping would be provided along the entire site perimeter of both the warehouse and retail portions of the Project site, within the automobile parking areas for visual quality and shading, and at select buildingadjacent locations. Approximately 13.7 percent of the warehouse portion of the Project site would be landscaped. Onsite exterior lighting would be provided throughout the warehouse and retail portions of the Project site as required for security and wayfinding. Utilities. The Project would include the installation of onsite storm drain, water quality, water, sewer, electric, natural gas, and telecommunications infrastructure systems to serve the proposed warehouse and retail uses. Infrastructure improvements would also include the construction of an extension of the planned Line E storm drain box culvert, which would be constructed below grade along the southern edge of the warehouse portion of the Project site, then turning to the southeast beneath the southern retail portion of the Project site and continuing eastward to either terminate at the eastern edge of the Project site or continuing onto and through the offsite property immediately adjacent to the east. If undertaken by the Project Applicant, it is anticipated that this offsite portion of the Line E storm drain would be constructed as part of the Project. The onsite utility infrastructure would connect to existing utilities in the vicinity of the Project site or new utility lines that would be installed within the public rightofway adjacent to the Project site. Eastern Municipal Water District (EMWD) is willing to provide water and sewer services to the subject project.

Specific Plan Amendment for the Proposed Industrial Warehouse Building

The Project site has a PVCCSP land use designation of Commercial. A Specific Plan Amendment is required to change a portion of the site’s PVCCSP land use designation to Light Industrial, which includes warehouse facilities as permitted use. Specifically, the following amendments to the PVCCSP are proposed. Change (rezone) the PVCCSP land use designation for 36.01 acres of Commercial to Light Industrial (LI). Revise Figure 2.0-1, Specific Plan Land Use Designation, to change the land use designations for the central portion of the Project site (approximately 36 acres) from Commercial to LI as indicated above. Revise Table 2.0-1, Land Use Comparison, to update the acreage calculations for “Proposed Acres” as follows: reduce Commercial from 270 to 234 acres and increase LI from 2,033 to 2,069 acres. Tentative Parcel Map (TPM) No. 05076 The Project involves proposed TPM No. 05076 to resubdivide the existing eightparcel Project site into seven parcels (one parcel for the proposed warehouse use, two parcels for the proposed retail uses, and up to four parcels for future commercial/retail uses. It should be noted that the ultimate number and location of parcels within the property may be adjusted later. The existing APNs subject to the proposed changes are: 302-130-002, 302-130-008, 302-130-018, 302-130-021, 302-130-022, 302-130-023, 302-130-024, and 302-130-027. Conditional Use Permit (CUP) for Commercial Uses The Project includes proposed drivethrough restaurant uses within the southern commercial site fronting Ramona Expressway, which requires the issuance of the CUP to allow for these uses on a site designated as Commercial under the PVCCSP. Probable Environmental Effects of the Project The Draft EIR for the proposed Project will contain a detailed Project Description, a description of the existing environmental setting of the Project Site and surrounding area, analysis of Projectspecific environmental impacts, analysis of cumulative impacts, identification of additional projectspecific mitigation measures required to reduce potentially significant impacts, and an analysis of alternatives to the Project that could reduce one or more of the potentially significant impacts of the Project. The analysis to be provided in the forthcoming Draft EIR, and its supporting technical studies, will address potentially significant impacts and identify mitigation measures as necessary for the following environmental topics: Aesthetics Air Quality Biological Resources Cultural Resources Energy Geology and Soils Greenhouse Gas Emissions Hazards and Hazardous Materials Hydrology and Water Quality Land Use and Planning Noise Transportation Tribal Cultural Resources Utilities and Service Systems Public Meeting As identified previously, the City of Perris will conduct a Draft EIR scoping meeting with the City of Perris Planning Commission on: May 15, 2024, at 6:00 p.m. Perris City Council Chambers: 101 N. D Street Perris CA 92570. At the meeting, the City will provide background information on environmental impact reports, provide a brief overview of the Project, and will solicit public input on environmental issues to be addressed in the Draft EIR and on items of public concern. Issues identified during the scoping meeting will be addressed in the Draft EIR (as appropriate). Response to This Notice of Preparation The Notice, as well as an Initial Study, is available for review on the City’s website at: <https://www.cityofperris.org/departments/developmentsservices/planning/environmentaldocumentsforpublicreview> Copies of the NOP and Initial Study are available for review at the Downtown Library and at the Development Services Department located at 135 N. D Street, Perris, CA 92570. Please provide written comments no later than 30 days from the receipt of this NOP. According to Section 15082(b) of the State CEQA Guidelines, your comments should address the scope and content of environmental information related to your agency’s area of statutory responsibility. More specifically, your response should identify the significant environmental issues and reasonable alternatives and mitigation measures that you or your agency will need to have explored in the Draft EIR; and, whether your agency will be a responsible agency or a trustee agency, as defined by CEQA Code Sections 15381 and 15386, respectively. Pair of Giant Pandas Set to Travel From China to San Diego Zoo Under Conservation Partnership

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A pair of giant pandas will soon make the journey from China to the U.S., where they will be cared for at the San Diego Zoo as part of an ongoing conservation partnership between the two nations, officials said Monday.

The San Diego Zoo Wildlife Alliance said its caretakers recently visited China to meet the giant pandas, Yun Chuan and Xin Bao, ahead of their planned trip to Southern California. An exact date for the handoff hasn't been set.

Yun Chuan, a mild-mannered male who's nearly 5 years old, has "deep connections" to California, the wildlife alliance said. His mother, Zhen Zhen, was born at the San Diego Zoo in 2007 to parents Bai Yun and Gao Gao.
